Cavalier Rally Defeats Cradock With Last Period Touchdown

A fired up Princess Anne eleven scored a touchdown late in the game to snap Cradock's unbeaten streak by a 13 to 7 score Monday night in one of the most exciting high school football games of this, or any other season.

The Cavaliers trailed by 7 to 6 in the final period to a clipping penalty seemed to give the team the fire and desire it apparently lacked. The clipping penalty came on a play that saw Halfback Johnny Strickland streak

Wash Woods Scores Again

Wash Woods, a precinct in Princess Anne County located near the North Carolina line, was the first precinct reporting in the State Tuesday and all five of its votes went to the Democratic candidates. It got the Democrats off to a running start that resulted in a smashing victory over the Republicans in the statewide election.

Navy Unit Aids Recent Oceana Fire Victims

The Navy has come to the aid of those persons who were victims of the recent fire in the apartment building at Oceana. It has been learned.

Officers and enlisted men of Carrier Air Task Force 182 stationed at the Oceana Naval Air Station recently gathered clothing and furniture for those who lost their personal clothing and furniture in the fire.

After collecting the clothes and furniture, the Navy men decided that they would raise money for the group. According to Commander H. E. Russell more than $100 has been raised for this purpose and is to be presented to the fire victims this week.

Davis Issues Statement on Re-Election

Princess Anne County Delegate Harry B. Davis, who scored an overwhelming victory Tuesday over his Republican opponent for the Virginia House of Delegates, issued a statement thanking the voters for their confidence in him.

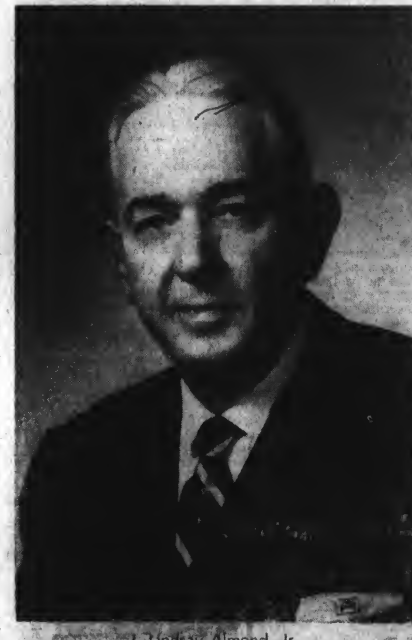

Davis rolled up a three-to-one margin over William M. Harris, his Republican foe, in Tuesday's election which also saw the State Democratic ticket for governor, lieutenant governor and attorney general score by similar margins.

J. Lindsay Almond, Jr. won handily from Republican Ted Dalton for governor, A. E. S. Stephens scored over Horace E. Henderson, and Albert S. Harrison won over J. L. Dilow.

Davis, who will begin his 13th consecutive term in the General Assembly in January, issued the following statement:

"I wish to thank the voters of Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach for their expression of confidence shown in me by electing me for my 13th consecutive term in the General Assembly. I earnestly solicit the help of all our people in working out the many problems facing the Commonwealth."

Soldier Being Held for Jury In Death Case

Princess Anne—A grand jury here will look into the circumstances surrounding a game of "Russian roulette" which cost a Ft. Story soldier his life.

Darwin Lee Brock, a 21-year-old military policeman whose home is in Lake City, Iowa, was ordered held for grand jury action Monday afternoon on a charge of involuntary manslaughter in that he "killed by his recklessness and criminal negligence" the death of Norman J. Harshbarger, a soldier buddy.

Harshbarger died in Brock's trailer home on 17th Street extended, near Virginia Beach, Oct. 19. He had been shot in the right chest. Brock told investigating police that Harshbarger shot himself while playing "Russian roulette."

Kempsville School SCA Gives Program

The Kempsville School Student Cooperative Association gave an assembly program last week with two Princess Anne school supervisors as guest speakers. Miss Louise Laxford talked about cooperation and leadership and Mrs. Grace Harrell spoke on Halloween.

Grace Bamforth, president of the group, introduced the speakers and Nancy Price, secretary, had the devotions.

Christmas Tree Ornament Contest Sponsored by TB Associations

Tuberculosis Associations throughout the state are sponsoring a contest to make ornaments for Virginia's Christmas Tree. This tree, from the mountains of Virginia, will be brought to Richmond where the ornaments entered in the contest will be hung on it. Contest winners will receive a trip to historic Richmond and will take part in the dedication of Virginia's Christmas Tree on December 15, 1957. The trip will include a visit to the Capitol Building and to old St. John's Church where Patrick Henry made his immortal "Give me liberty or give me death" speech.

Awards will be given in three categories: 1. For the best design submitted by a student in secondary and elementary schools; 2. For the best design submitted by an adult; 3. For the best design submitted by an art class student or professional artist.

WHO CAN ENTER? YOU, everyone. The contest is open to school children, high school and college students, Cub Scouts, Brownies, Boy and Girl Scouts, garden club members, art students and professional artists. Men, women, children, the more the merrier. And there is no limit to the number of entries you may submit.

CONTEST RULES—1. The ornaments must have the double barred cross of the TB Association somewhere in the design. If the cross is outlined, the outline must be either red or black. The cross should be approximately 3 inches vertically with the

STATEWIDE IS 2-1 OVER GOP SLATE

Voters of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County Tuesday gave J. Lindsay Almond, Jr. and the entire Democratic ticket a whopping three-to-one victory over Republican opponents in the balloting for State office and a House of Delegates seat.

Almond completely swamped his foe, Senator Ted Dalton, for the Governorship at Virginia Beach and in the county. At the same time Lt. Governor A. E. S. Stephens won by about the same margin over Republican Horace E. Henderson for lieutenant governor, and Senator Albert S. Harrison, Democrat, topped Republican J. L. Dilow for the State general post.

Princess Anne Delegate Harry B. Davis was re-elected to the General Assembly for the thirteenth time defeating Republican William Harris by a similar margin as the other Democratic candidates.

Unofficial returns from the two Virginia Beach precincts gave Almond 1,616 votes to 412 for Dalton. The same precincts gave Stephens, Harrison and Davis substantially the same margin over their Republican foes.

In Princess Anne County the margin of victory for the Democrats was even greater. Almond won at Virginia Beach precincts. Unofficially Dalton received about 26 per cent of the vote in the county.

Complete unofficial returns from the county showed Almond vote at 4,915 against 1,777 for Dalton. Almond's running mates for both State and local offices racked up equally decisive majorities over their GOP opponents.

The former attorney-general, campaigning chiefly on the "massive resistance" platform in the school integration issue, lost only one precinct.

Significantly that was the all-Negro Seacock precinct, where Dalton beat him 71 to 11. This precinct list about 400 qualified voters.

Nowhere else was Dalton even close. In at least one precinct—Sigma-Almond ran 30 to 1 against "Mr. Republican" who was defeated in 1953 by Gov. Thomas B. Stanley but took about 45 per cent of the statewide vote.

The complete unofficial returns listed these other totals in the Princess Anne County race:

Lt. Gov. A. E. S. Stephens, 4,858; Henderson, 1,169, for lieutenant governor.

A. S. Harrison, Jr., 4,919; J. Livingston Dilow, 1,605, for attorney general.

Delegate Harry B. Davis, 4,829; William Harris, 1,616, for the Princess Anne Virginia Beach seat in the House of Delegates.

Dr. Williams Will Speak at Church

Dr. W. D. Williams, pastor of the Memorial Methodist Church, Richmond, will be the guest speaker at services to be held each evening at 8:00 p.m. at the Virginia Beach Methodist Church, November 11-15.

Dr. Williams is well known throughout Virginia, having served pastorates in Newmarket, Covington, Mecklenburg, and Richmond. Dr. Williams served seven years in the Chaplain's Corps of the United States Army, seeing combat service in World War II in the European theater, with the Eighth Aviation Engineers. Dr. Williams is an able and interesting speaker and the public is cordially invited to attend these services.

Princess Anne County American Red Cross

Dr. Howard D. Kahn, First Aid Chairman, Princess Anne County Chapter, American Red Cross, has announced that First Aid instructors are available to teach courses in Junior, Standard and Advanced First Aid. Anyone interested in one of these courses may call the Red Cross office, 928.

John B. Dey School P-TA To Meet Next Tuesday

The P-TA of John B. Dey Elementary School will meet at 8:00 p.m. on next Tuesday, November 12 at the school. The library will be a feature of the program.

It will soon be kick-off time for the annual 1958 March of Dimes drive in Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County and the co-chairmen of this year's drive are literally kicking off in the picture above. The co-chairmen are Fred Issacs (holding ball) and Charles "Shotgun" Brown doing the kicking.

SWEEPING STYLING CHANGES ARE APPARENT IN THE 1958 FORD CAR LINE. The Fairlane 500 (left) and Fairlane Club Victoria (right) share with all new Fords such dramatic styling changes as new safety dual headlights, corrosion-proof anodized aluminum grille, power flow hood, air stream roof, sculptured inverted V trunk lid and twin safety taillights. Engineering and design advances include new engines, new Cruise-O-Matic transmission and optional Ford-Aire suspension. The new Ford car line will be on display at Ford dealerships on November 7.

1958 Fords on Display at Emrhæ Motors Today

The 1958 Ford car line featuring major styling changes, the most efficient engines in the car's history, a new automatic transmission and new optional air suspension, will go on display at Emrhæ Motors, Inc., 406 17th Street today. J. O. Wright, Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division general manager, said:

"At a cost of $185,000,000 we have developed a new Ford that incorporates some of the most extensive changes ever made in the car," Mr. Wright said.

Historically, auto companies have made basic changes in their cars every three years, he pointed out.

"But in its 1958 models, Ford has actually created fundamental design and engineering changes just one year after its completely new 1957 model," he said.

Illustrating this change are 21 models on two separate wheelbases; the Fairlane and Fairlane 500, with an overall length of 207 inches, and the Custom, Custom 300 and the station wagon, measuring 202 inches.

The external appearance of the new car features Ford's sculptured-in-metal treatment in which styling lines are molded into the sheet metal itself.

The new distinctive styling is emphasized in a front view of the massive wrap-around one-piece bumper with anodized aluminum "jet intake" grille, dual headlights, and Power Flow hood. New sheet metal treatment incorporates redesigned front fenders, new roof with seven front-to-rear flutes or grooves, and trunk lid and rear quarter panel innovations. From the rear, the 1958 Ford is distinctive with a "V" sculptured trunk lid flaring into twin safety oval taillights.

Ford introduces the newest and most modern V-8 overhead valve engines in its 1958 line—the 332 and 352 cubic inch displacement engines. The result of more than 25 years' sales and engineering leadership in V-8 engines, these engines combine new highs of efficiency, durability and economy with the added time and cost savings of quick service accessibility.

The new 332 cubic inch engine, which will be standard on the Fairlane, Fairlane 500 and station wagon series, is available as an extra cost option in the Custom and Custom 300 series. The 352 cubic inch engine is an extra high performance option on the Fairlane, Fairlane 500 and the station wagon series. The economical "Mileage Maker" six is available for most models and the 292 cubic inch V-8 engine is standard on the Custom and Custom 300 series.

The new engines feature completely machined, wedge-type combustion chambers, larger, cooler running valves, new carburetion and exhaust porting and direct flow intake for peak performance at all engine speeds. Each engine is electronically mass balanced while running at operating speed and temperature under its own power.

Cruise-O-Matic, an automatic transmission combining instantaneous "solid" response with nearly imperceptible up-shifting, is new for 1958. Coupled with the four-venturi 332 and 352 cubic inch engines and a low rear axle ratio, Cruise-O-Matic provides a new power train that combines overdrive economy with automatic transmission convenience, first such combination in the industry. The new transmission introduces a new drive position for solid feel take-off or all-out acceleration through all three gear ranges. An improved Fordomatic transmission also is available.

Also new will be air suspension, optional for Ford Fairlans, Fairlane 500's and station wagons with V-8 engines and automatic transmissions in 1958.

Air domes, made of specially strengthened rubber reinforced with steel sleeves, substitute for springs at each wheel. Air pressure inside the domes, which is supplied by a compressor and air storage tank, varies according to the weight of passengers and luggage to keep the car at a constant height and optimum springing for a "boulevard ride." Switches on the car's doors operate valves to quickly readjust height and balance when passengers enter or alight. Other valves make slower adjustments for luggage, etc.

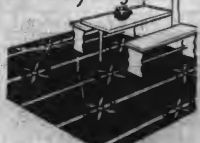

Ford also continues its policy of improving safety packaging for driver and passengers, which it pioneered in its 1956 models. The deep center steering wheel, shatter-proof rear view mirror and safety door locks, standard in all models, and the optional seat belts and padded instrument panel and sun visors all have been improved for 1958.

Exterior trim and interior fabrics and color treatments will be new for 1958 as will distinctive two-tone combinations of new colors. Optional equipment includes a full line of power assists, two models of transistorized radios, two models of air conditioning units, and two types of heaters.

Pvt. Andrew J. Pallette, Fort Hood, Tex. (AHTNC)—Pvt. Andrew J. Pallette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Pallette Sr., Route 1, Virginia Beach, Va., is receiving advanced training with the 4th Armored Division at Fort Hood, Tex., in preparation for "Operation Gyroscopic," the Army's unit rotation plan.

The 4th is scheduled to move to Germany early in January to replace the 2nd Armored Division.

Sarah Constant D.A.R. Holds October Meet

The Sarah Constant Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met on Friday evening, October 25, at the home of Miss Nancy Beaman on Arzyle Avenue, Lochaven.

Mrs. Thomas A. Moore, Chapter Regent, presided, and she gave an interesting report of the State Board Meeting of the Virginia Daughters of the American Revolution, which was held at the John Marshall Hotel in Richmond on Wednesday, October 23rd.

Mrs. Vivian O. and Mrs. Allen R. Thompson, co-chairmen of the Ways and Means Committee, reported on the card party, which was held at the Church of the Advent on Wednesday evening, and were congratulated on its success.

The feature of the meeting was the tape recording rendition of Mrs. Pat Shaw Boehm's recent radio program in celebration of Constitution Week. This recording was repeated by special request of the membership, and as a tribute to Mrs. Boehm, Vice-Regent, who was unable to be present.

In the interest of National Defense Mrs. J. Edward Johnson read an address given by Mrs. Mary Barclay Erb, National Chairman of the National Defense Committee, at the 66th Continental Congress of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Washington, D.C. Mrs. Erb's subject was "Be Ye Faithful."

Guests at this meeting were

The biggest and most luxurious Mercury ever built—the new Park Lane series—was designed to appeal to the more discriminating buyers in the upper-medium price bracket. Striking styling features and big car size—230.2 inches long and 125-inch wheelbase—distinguish the Park Lane. Mercury will offer 20 models for 1958. The Park Lane series includes a convertible, a phaeton coupe and a phaeton sedan, pictured here.

Acreage Reserve Agreements Now In Effect

Acreage Reserve agreements under the 1957 program remain in full force and effect through December 31, this year, farmers were reminded today by W. T. Powers, State Administrative Officer for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee.

Powers explained that he was concerned that some farmers who already have been paid for land placed in the 1957 Acreage Reserve might feel that they have fully complied with the program. The provisions of Acreage Reserve agreements remain in effect until the year's end although the payment may be made before the end of the year.

Under the Acreage Reserve, the land specifically designated be the farmer for the program may not be cropped and livestock may not be permitted to graze on it. There is only one exception to this—the land in the 1957 Acreage Reserve may be seeded this fall to a small grain crop that will be harvested in 1958. For example, the 1958 wheat crop may be seeded this fall on land in the 1957 Acreage Reserve.

Powers also explained that where a commodity placed in the Reserve Acreage has not yet been harvested, the amount of land that can be harvested is limited to the farm acreage allotment for that commodity less the full amount of land put in the Acreage Reserve for the commodity.

High-Temperature Alloys
Because nickel imparts generally beneficial characteristics at high temperatures to metals, practically all accepted high-temperature alloys, such as those used in jet engines, contain appreciable percentages of this element.

BACK BAY AREA NEWS

Due to the flu situation the annual bazaar and supper sponsored by the W. S. C. S. of Charity Methodist Church has been postponed indefinitely.

A community Thanksgiving service sponsored by the Methodist churches of lower Princess Anne will be held at Charity Wednesday, November 27th at 7:30 p.m. The following churches are participating: Beech Grove, Bethel, Tabernacle and Charity. Everyone is invited to attend and enjoy this worship service.

The Business Women's Circle of Oak Grove Baptist Church will meet Tuesday evening, November 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Edgar Bremley.

A spiritual life preaching mission will be conducted in Bethel and Beech Grove Churches next week by their minister, the Rev. Snyder. In Beech Grove the service will be conducted at 7:30 November 10 through 12th and in Bethel Church, November 13 through 15th. A cordial invitation is extended to friends and neighbors of the churches. This service is being held in all Methodist churches in the Norfolk district.

The special class of Salem Methodist Church will meet Friday evening, November 7 at 7:30 in the Social Hall. Officers for the year will be installed at this meeting.

A spiritual life preaching mission will begin at Charity Methodist Church November 11 and continue through November 15 at 7:30 p.m. The Rev. R. H. Nelson of Richmond will be the guest speaker. The public is cordially invited. The Rev. Mr. Nelson will be the guest of the Rev. and Mrs. L. C. Vaughn while conducting these services.

The youth of Nimmo Church will meet at the church Sunday evening, November 10 at 7:30 to organize a youth choir and Methodist Youth Fellowship.

The Rev. Mahlon Elliott of Oxford Methodist Church in Suffolk, Va. will speak at Tabernacle Church in connection with the spiritual mission being conducted in the Methodist churches. These services will begin Sunday, November 10 at 7:30 and continue through November 15.

A very successful turkey dinner was served by the ladies of Nimmo W. S. C. S. last Saturday evening in the church Social Hall. The proceeds of this dinner will go toward the parsonage fund.

Salem Methodist Church of Princess Anne County will join the Norfolk District of the Methodist Church in the District Wide Spiritual Life Mission beginning this Sunday and continuing through Friday, with the evening services beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The Reverend Benny T. Myers, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Midland, North Carolina will be the guest speaker for the week. The Rev. Myers was born and reared in North Carolina receiving his education in the public schools there and afterward attending Pfeiffer College and High Point College. He received his theological training at Westminster Theological Seminary in Westminster, Maryland. While in Seminary, he held the Flintstone Charge in Maryland and upon graduation returned to North Carolina where he was appointed to the Midland Church, now serving in his fourth year. He is 33 years of age. He is married to the former Mildred Von Cannon and they have an infant son.

The Rev. Arthur W. Ayers, pastor of Salem, has issued the invitation to the entire community to attend this mission. The subjects to be preached on are those which will enhance the spiritual life of any Christian or non-Christian. Salem Church is located on Salem Road between the Courthouse and Kempville.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

A Significant Democratic Victory

The people of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County and throughout the State of Virginia spoke plainly Tuesday with their votes which resulted in a resounding victory for the Democratic nominees in the general election.

By electing J. Lindsay Almond, Jr. the next governor of Virginia the people have expressed extreme confidence in the Democratic Party in this State and the high regard for that party's leadership throughout the years.

While the statewide margin of the Democratic victory ran about two to one the people of Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach favored the Democrats by a wider three to one margin. This speaks well for the candidates and also speaks well for the local leadership of the Democratic Party.

Here in Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach the voters expressed their confidence and trust in Delegate Harry B. Davis, who was re-elected to the Virginia General Assembly for the 13th consecutive term. It shows that the people of this area have approved of the fine representation Mr. Davis has given them in the House of Delegates through the years.

The smashing victory of the Democratic Party in the state election gives a clear picture of the feeling of the great majority of the people of Virginia. It gives the candidates elected an opportunity to carry out the wishes of the majority of Virginians.

There are many challenging problems facing Virginia at this time and the election of Mr. Almond on Tuesday gives the State a leader of proven ability to cope with these many problems. Mr. Almond is a man of boldness and courage and we congratulate him on his election to the State's highest office.

The Sun-News also wishes to congratulate Mr. Harry B. Davis for his fine victory in Tuesday's election. We feel the people of this area are fortunate, indeed, to have a man of this type representing them in the Virginia General Assembly. We can look forward to the same high type of representation from Mr. Davis in the future and together with the men elected to the State offices Tuesday we feel Virginia's government will continue to progress under the Democratic leadership that has brought it to the forefront among states throughout the nation.

CRITICAL MOMENT IN HISTORY

OBITUARIES

J. Peter Holland, 90, a justice of the peace here for over 25 years, died at a Norfolk hospital Monday at 8:15 p.m.

A native of Isle of Wight County, he had been a resident of Norfolk for 46 years and was in the real estate business here. He had also been active in politics and ran for Congress in 1908. He attended Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

He was the widower of Mrs. Annie Mae Holland.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Holland Ward of Norfolk; six sons, Edmund C. Holland, Jr., of Weaverville, N. C.; Howard A. Holland of Winchester, Randolph Holland of Arlington, Walker M. Holland of Brookville, Ohio; J. Peter Holland, Jr., of Virginia Beach and Bryce Holland of Marietta, Ga.; six grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Services were conducted at Hollomon-Brown Funeral Home Tuesday at 1 p.m. Burial was in Franklin.

Wythe Mallory Lee, 61, died Monday at 5 p.m. at McGuire Hospital in Richmond after a long illness.

He was a native of Norfolk, and was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James W. Lee.

He is survived by two sisters, Miss Ena Lee of Norfolk and Mrs. Michael Klippenbeck of Valdosta, Ga.

The body was removed to the H. D. Oliver Funeral Apartments.

Dessert Bridge, Game Party at Cavalier

A dessert, bridge and game party, to be held in the Cavalier Ballroom Wednesday, November 13, at 1:00 p.m. will be sponsored by the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County.

A showing of the latest hat fashions for Fall and Winter will be presented by Rices, Incorporated, of Norfolk, with Miss Lee Sherwood as commentator. Three of the hats and a permanent wave will be given by the store to prizewinners. Models will be Mrs. R. E. Davenport, Mrs. Richard Counselman, Mrs. C. M. Howard and Mrs. W. W. Pritchard.

The committee on arrangements for the party includes Mrs. C. W. Emanuelson, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the club; Mrs. C. B. Shorter; Mrs. Mary Leemiller; door prizes; Mrs. Louise Pulley; desserts; Mrs. John A. Tucker; posters; and Mrs. J. P. Flemming, publicity.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Velines have returned to their home in Chesapeake Beach after a week's vacation to Portland, Maine and the White Mountains of New Hampshire.

THE STARS

Now it's Ginger Rogers who's busy cutting records. She's making an album of some of the hit tunes from past musicals with Fred Astaire. . . . He never much of a singer in her time. We can't imagine Ginger cutting up now. . . . The show is to be "Candy," a TV comedy series which is currently being filmed. . . . The situations revolve around a modern jazz combo and will feature guest artists from the music world. . . . Different approach anyway.

Singer Guy Mitchell will have his own weekly TV show on ABC starting in September, rounding out an ABC triumvirate which also includes Frank Sinatra and Pat Boone. . . . The show is to be a "light" music and variety series on Saturday evenings. . . . Mitchell recently climbed back onto the hit record rosters with "Singin' the Blues."

Service Officer Here Thursday

T. A. Moore of the Division of War Veterans' Claims, a Virginia State Agency, under Attorney General Almond, will interview veterans, servicemen, or their widows, orphans, and dependent parents, on the usual bi-monthly trip to the Beach on November 14, 1957. He will be at the Community House, 18th and Arctic, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. only. Service is free.

Moore's regular trip is on the second and fourth Thursdays each month. He counsels, assists with claims and forms, gets evidence for benefits due under law, and advises on all related matters. Moore's office in Norfolk at 305 McKeen Bldg. is at 203 City Hall Avenue, phone Madison 2-9671. He has conducted the Norfolk office for 11 years, under the direction of Harry F. Carper Jr., of Roanoke.

Star of the Sea Holy Name Group To Observe Day

Next Sunday, November 10, is Holy Name Sunday. All men and boys of the parish are urged to receive holy communion together at the 8 o'clock mass. The Most Reverend Bishop, Joseph Hodges, auxiliary bishop of Richmond, will say the mass and preach. The regular monthly business meeting will be held Thursday night, November 7, in the school at 8 p.m.

Last month we had a fine turnout of young boys who received communion with the men. This was a very edifying sight and we hope the number will continue to increase. The teen-age youth are particularly urged to join the men on Holy Name Sunday.

Immediately after the mass on Holy Name Sunday a movie report from Fatima will be shown in the school cafeteria. Coffee and do-nuts will be served. The film is 16mm, twenty-eight minutes in length. All men and boys are urged to remain for the showing of this film.

Beach Art Association Exhibit In Grocery Store Termed Unique

"Why hold an art exhibit in a grocery store?" somebody asked of Mrs. Florence Turner as she was reaching to put up a large painting, last Monday morning, in the Colonial Store on 31st Street. "Do you think its undignified?" returned the exhibition chairman of the members' show, Virginia Beach Art Association. "I don't see why it should be. People like to have pictures around them in their homes. If a picture is good, hanging it over a store display of apples and potatoes won't hurt it. And," she added looking around the walls at the 70 or so pictures on display, "I think these look pretty good."

The show ranges from water-color through pastel and oil. While the subjects are predominantly still-life studies of fruits, vegetables and flowers, there are also portraits and landscape. Some are very lifelike. Others express the artist's feeling toward his subject in a personal way. In this show there happen to be no examples that could be called precisely "abstract."

The exhibitors, all of whom are members of the Virginia Beach Art Association, include established professional painters who have held one-man shows in Tidewater and elsewhere. There are also beginning artists hesitantly showing their first work. (One artist asked to have her work withdrawn but was persuaded to leave it in place.)

The range in price is equally broad. An early shopper, studying the exhibit, asked if the pictures were for sale. They were, and the price was indicated on each one. She was standing before a picture priced $95 by an artist who regularly sells her work in that bracket. Moving along the line, pictures were found that were pleasing and were priced $30 or in some instances, $10. Art, like groceries, is for everybody.

A ballot box near the exhibit gives an opportunity to vote for the picture best-liked. It will receive an award.

The show continues through Saturday, Nov. 9, during store hours which are 8:30-6:00. Thursday and Friday nights till 9:00. Saturday night till 7:00.

Cancer Society

Mrs. Margaret Tompkins, president of the Princess Anne unit of the American Cancer Society, recently attended the annual meeting of the Virginia division held at Randolph-Macon College in Lynchburg.

Among those taking part in the program were Mr. Spencer Mapes, deputy director of public education of the National Society and Dr. Oscar Thorup, assistant to the dean of the University of Virginia School of Medicine. In his speech Mr. Mapes declared: "The compelling challenge or reason for public education on cancer is found in the fact that at the present time some 75,000 persons lose their lives needlessly to cancer each year. The American Cancer Society accepts the challenge of making its efforts more effective by disseminating information to the public which will provide the maximum protection against the dread disease."

Many New Features On 1958 Plymouth

Silver Dart two-tone exterior styling trim, sweeping backward and up to the tip of the Plymouth Belvedere 4-door hardtop's familiar fins, is new with 1958 Belvedere models and Sport Suburban station wagons. The contrasting dart is available either in anodized aluminum for a striking new effect, or in compatible colors. Plymouth's outstanding Torsion-Aire suspension system and its trouble-free mechanical push button controls are retained for 1958. Six engine options, a new Constant-Contact power steering system providing Plymouth's famous full-time ease of operation, a new Sure-Grip differential and a new automatic Econo-Choke are available on 1958 Plymouth cars being introduced in dealer showrooms across the nation on November 1.

US Seeks Aid to Cut Off Moonshine Raw Materials

Mr. G. P. Grider, Supervisor in charge of Alcohol and Tobacco Tax; Virginia, announced the beginning of a drive by the United States Treasury against moonshining in the southern states.

Contrary to general belief, the business of making what Uncle Sam terms nontaxpaid spirits did not end with prohibition. Although strides have been made in suppressing illicit liquor traffic in most sections of the country, the south is still an extremely critical area of moonshining activities.

The violators in the southern states, to produce high - proof moonshine, require substantial quantities of sugar.

Since sugar is the one essential commodity necessary for both the large and small producers of moonshine, the objective of the present program is to cut off the sources of supply. The success of the program depends largely on the voluntary co-operation of legitimate dealers who will refuse sales of sugar and other necessary raw materials, such as yeast and grain, to either known violators or suspected persons.

The Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, through experience, knows that the vast majority of business men want, no part of the traffic in illicit moonshine and place the interests of their government above what little profit is to be made from sales to such law violators.

Most of them, realize that to willfully make such sales always creates the possibility that they may be implicated in some manner when the violator is apprehended.

The Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division is aware that there is a universal demand for sugar and has not the slightest desire to interfere in any way with the normal purchases of this commodity for any legal use.

The Division knows, also that those engaged in the sale of sugar are familiar with the regular needs of each of their customers and that, except for some seasonal fluctuation, this demand is quite steady.

It is the large or unusual sales made to your present or new customers, which may indicate diversion into moonshine channels.

These are the sales that you are requested to refuse to make, to help eliminate the organized mobs now engaged in moonshine activities.

Should you be approached by suspicious individuals wanting to make arrangements for the purchases of substantial quantities of sugar, in addition to refusing to sell, you are requested to notify the nearest office of the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, if possible, a complete description of the individual and the license number of any vehicle driven by him.

The Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division can and frequently does, invoke the provisions of the internal revenue laws requiring dealers to submit daily reports on all sugar sales.

In addition to placing a burden on the individual dealer, this is somewhat like locking the door after the horse has been stolen and is no substitute for voluntary cooperation from dealers who will refuse to sell sugar to known violators and suspicious persons.

In order to assist in the identification of the "suspicious" purchaser, the government suggests that you ASK WHY, if:

1—A customer asks to purchase only sugar.

2—An old customer increases his sugar purchases beyond his normal requirements.

3—Anyone attempts to purchase suspicious quantities of sugar or yeast.

Any suspicious person or known violator asks for sugar.

In soliciting this type of voluntary cooperation, the government points out that in spite of the fact that the public in some areas regards moonshiners with amused tolerance, it is far from being a harmless business.

Completely aside from the fact that it defrauds your government of millions of tax dollars each year.

London Bridge H.D. Club Holds Birthday Fete

The London Bridge Home Demonstration Club held an Anniversary Luncheon, Thursday, Oct. 24 at Pine Tree Inn. Mrs. F. H. Strleby, president, welcomed the 23 members who had gathered to observe the eighth birthday of the Club. Mrs. Elizabeth Deal, Princess Anne County Home Demonstration agent, was a guest.

The Fall colors were carried out in the decorations of yellow chrysanthemums and ivy with Autumn leaves and in the corsage favors. The birthday cake made and cut by Mrs. C. G. Skinner was the symbol of the many accomplishments noted in the reading of the History written by Mrs. Jeanne Spires and read by the new secretary Mrs. R. A. Schaefer.

Following the regular business session, the demonstration on "Habit Formation" was given by Mrs. J. G. Darden.

This club has been very active in the work of the county this year, being one of the two clubs to meet the required goals. They will have a Bake Sale on Nov. 22 at London Bridge.

Maid Service 1957 Style

Every household in the United States is enjoying the benefits of "maid service" and yet only one per cent of the families actually have a full time servant and four per cent have servants of any kind.

We're not posing a riddle or being facetious—the answer lies in "built-in maid service," 1957 style. Industry is dispensing "maid service" cutting down on time required, to do household chores, by supplying such things as automatic equipment, prepared and partially prepared foods, pre-cut and packaged meats.

Thirty years ago, the average homemaker spent five to six hours of her day in the kitchen preparing meals. Today she spends less than half that time, because of "built-in maid service." A recent study by the Division of Human Nutrition, Institute of Human Economics, U.S.D.A. shows that a certain family dinner prepared by traditional methods cost $4.90 and takes 5.5 hours to prepare.

The meal from purchases ready-to-cook foods cost $6.70 and requires only 1.6 hours. Comparing the difference in cost and time for the homemaker to prepare a meal "from scratch," and one from fully-prepared foods, we find the latter costs $1.80 more, but is a saving of four hours in time. Her time is worth only 45 cents an hour when she prepares all the food!

The decision as to how much time today's homemaker wants to spend preparing food is up to her, but the continued growth in convenience food indicates that the majority is interested in cutting down time spent on food preparation.

The desire for emancipation from kitchen chores accelerated many changes in the food industry. No doubt, it was the birth of the supermarket which started the ball rolling. Supermarkets accounted for nine per cent of all grocery sales in 1939, and they now take in 62 per cent of all money spent in the nation's food stores. In fact, the consumer likes this method of food retailing, which saves her so much time and energy.

To bring "built-in maid service" to the American home requires the cooperative efforts of many businesses, large and small. We have an example in the development of cellophane. In the past 30 years converting and fabricating the film has grown into an industry of many firms, large and small, employing thousands of people. In addition, more than 6,000 concerns of which less than a hundred are big, buy cellophane and use it to package a wide variety of products. Thousands of new jobs were created in all industries directly and indirectly engaged in making and distributing the film.

Now that the homemaker has given her nod of approval to "built-in maid service," she can expect many more innovations. What with the research facilities and ingenuity of industry, she will see many new ideas in services which will go far beyond her dreams of present day needs.

Local Vets Get Over $1.3 Million in 1956-57

The report for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1957 has been released by Thomas A. Moore, Area Director of the Division of War Veterans' Claims, Office located in the McKewitt Building at 203 City Hall Avenue, in Norfolk. The Division is a Virginia State agency, not associated with the Veterans Administration, which is operated under State Law under the Law Department of the Attorney General of Virginia. The report given is an annual one to the Governor of Virginia and the Attorney General, as well as to the members of the Virginia State Legislature and the Virginia Committee on Veterans' Affairs.

The function of the service office is to give full assistance to veterans and their survivors in obtaining all the benefits to which they are entitled under legislation of the Federal, State and local governments. This includes filing, processing, developing and representing claims for and before the proper adjudication body, which usually is the Veterans' Administration, but may be another such applicable administration. The Division was set up by Act of the Virginia Legislature in 1942. The work does not duplicate or encroach upon the Veterans' Administration work, but rather allows the State local service offices and the claims representatives in Roanoke to act as advocates to the claimant in presenting claims personally and fully processed. The services are free and complete. Such claims and matters are handled as disability claims, death claims, burial allowances, GI insurance forms, GI training applications and vocational rehabilitation, medical treatment, and information on GI loan problems.

Many extra curricular problems are processed, such as State bonuses, arrears in military pay,

Rail oddities

A couple of confirmed commuters were married recently aboard their regular suburban train. The railroad provided a special car for the bridal party... the conductor served as best man.

The railroad bridge across the Rio Grande between El Paso, Texas, and Juarez, Mexico, is painted in two different colors. The Santa Fe paints its half red and the Mexican line uses black paint.

Greatest transfer of gold in world history was accomplished a few years ago when railroads moved the Government gold from vaults in Eastern cities to the Federal Depository at Fort Knox, Ky. 552 special trains were required to transport the gold bars valued at over $15 billion.

headstones, civil service requests, reviews of and applications for discharge papers, guardianships, advice, and countless other humanitarian actions. The agency works closely with veterans' organizations, and welfare and social service offices.

The service is under the responsibility of Harry F. Carper, Jr. of Roanoke, the Director. His staff has claims representatives who personally appear before appeals and adjudicating Boards in behalf of the claimant. There are 15 other field offices such as Moore's throughout Virginia in larger cities, so located as to cover the State completely on regularly scheduled itineraries. These offices file, and process the claims and procure evidence and advise clients. Due to the multiplicity of veteran legislation the work becomes more exacting annually and increasingly. Claims of veterans and their survivors increase as the time elapses following wars, because of increasing age, and death rate among these claimants. Moore works Norfolk and Virginia Beach, and the counties of Princess Anne, Northampton and Accomac. Many from Norfolk County and Portsmouth also utilize his services.

Moore announces that awards of monetary benefits on claims he assisted with in the Norfolk office in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1957, proven by actual notification from the government amounted to $1,327,189. Some awards were never reported back to his office.

This figure does not include any running awards obtained in previous years, and is figured solely on the amount of each pension or other benefit obtained for a year on new claims filed in the fiscal year. Many of these grants will be continued hereafter to the claimant for years, perhaps for life. A breakdown can be obtained by telephoning Moore; however, he says disability claims account for $344,514 of the total, and $236,800 were in death claims for pensions and compensation. Government insurance awards were $97,739. Although GI training allowances are decreasing, there were $76,583 in these monies.

As of June 30, there were awards in the line running from previous years; in disability and death benefits alone of $2,205,896.

The Norfolk office interviewed 7,191 clients during the year, processing claims which required over 3 thousand telephone contacts, and over 18,000 letters. There were claims and forms filed for or about monetary benefits of about $500. Other applications, such as medical care, loans and headstones, etc. were 388 in number. Moore traveled 4,174 miles and talked 83 times on benefits before organizations.

In addition there were over 8,000 miscellaneous services rendered, which are some times more beneficial than money to a client, and cannot be considered in dollars and cents.

The Division as a whole over the same year assisted 78,743 clients to obtain $11,753,641. Since January 1, 1947 a combined accountable total of monetary benefits obtained by the Division's action in Virginia is $89,605,349. Of 482 appeals of disallowed claims represented by the agency in the last year alone, 21.7% were granted. These are denied claims which otherwise were hopeless on the face value when appealed.

Lay Up Boats Properly in the Fall

Failure to lay-up boats properly in the fall is costing American pleasure boat owners millions of dollars annually, according to Dr. Francis Scofield, director of the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association's Scientific Section.

"Renewing marine paint coatings and finishes before storage can reduce this loss to a minimum," Dr. Scofield says. "Too many boat owners, particularly those new to the field, overlook the fact that marine paints and finishes are devised specifically for the protection and preservation of boats under all climatic conditions. Actually, good marine paints add years of life to a boat and reduce maintenance up to approximately 70 per cent, he declared.

The National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association recommends that you ask your paint dealer for the proper types of paints and chemical coatings for both winter protection and spring preparation, and do the work when storing boats in the fall. By preparing a boat for next spring when you lay her away now for the winter, you save yourself time, money and the frustration of late season boating start. The association emphasizes the point that careless or improper storage does a boat more damage than an entire season of hard use. So unless you are prepared to do a thorough lay-up job, their advice is to turn your boat over to an experienced yard or marine dealer. Whether you are located in a winter port or on warm waters where use is possible the year round, keep your boat in prime condition and ready for use on short notice.

According to Dr. Scofield there are eight all-important steps to follow when you lay-up your boat:

1. Remove all detachable objects and clean hull thoroughly. The clean-up job should be tackled as soon as a boat is hauled so that accumulated silt, dirt and marine growth won't have a chance to dry. Unnecessary grease will be saved by eliminating hard scraping and wire brush scrubbing if you do delay. Give particular attention to scraping off the circular bottom, topsides and inside, with particular attention to the bilge, wash or hose down entire boat with clear water.
2. Check her from stem to stern for gouges, deep cracks and dents. Any good marine dough or caulking compound filler can be used to repair the bad spots, then let harden and sandpaper smooth. This is the time to look for other faults, too. Any protruding compound or fillings will need shaving down. Loose fastenings should be secured or replaced. If the boat is light and high powered... the strain may be such that extra fastenings should be added. Loose edges on fiber-glass covered craft should be smoothed and patched before painting or applying a chemical coating. If your boat is of moulded-plastic, check her for cracks and if a riveted aluminum or metal hull, examine the seams to be certain all rivets are secured tightly before painting to prevent corrosion and pitting.

3. In the event your craft was finished with a good paint last season and wasn't badly abused, a thorough cleaning, a light sanding and a single coat of the paint should be adequate.

4. In the fall, a wooden hull needs a fresh paint job for winter protection. After cleaning the boat, you can determine whether a few light coats will put her in ship-shape order or whether a major paint job is required. Keep in mind the fact that paint won't adhere properly unless the surface is dry, smooth and clean. If the surface is in good condition, a light sanding and two coats of paint will suffice. If the paint or finish is not well bonded to the surface, remove it. A good paint remover will reduce the labor of scraping and heavy sanding of bare wood always requires priming before painting. Follow this with a coat of sealer and a light sanding before the marine undercoat is applied. Dry the undercoat thoroughly and sand the surface to a glassy smoothness. Finish with two or more coats of marine paint. The National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association claims a heavy coating is never as effective as several thin ones.

5. If you travel in waters where there is marine growth, use a good anti-fouling paint or finish on the hull bottom and on up to the water line. A foul hull is costly. It will soften and rot the wood, slow a boat down to an amazing degree, build up fuel costs, consume money and travel time hauling down.

Special anti-fouling paint must be purchased for use on an aluminum or metal boat. A bare-metal primer and three to four coats of anti-corrosive barrier paint should precede use of the anti-fouling coats. On topsides and decks, two or three coats of the barrier paint are adequate protection between the primer and marine paint or finish coat.

6. Special care should be given to glossy or varnished surfaces. Fast-drying marine varnish should be "flowed on" quickly and evenly, working from the unfinished to the finished areas. Keep a sharp lookout for dripping. To guard against bubbling, never brush on with a back and forth stroke or bubbles may form to mar the surface.

7. There is a right and wrong time to paint. A dry, windless day at a temperature of not lower than 45 degrees above zero is best, so if you are in a Northern state, don't wait until questionable late October.

There is also a right and wrong way to paint. Make your craft firm on a good storage rig well up from the ground. Always start painting at the top and work down, and take your brush strokes in the same direction. One coat of paint must be allowed to dry before applying a second.

8. Skillful selection of color will make your boat more attractive. Be guided by the fact that pastels and white reflect light and aid spaciousness to small boat interiors. Colors can also be used to emphasize good lines and features or hide undesirable ones.

Whatever type paint or other finish you select, be certain that it is a marine finish. Only marine paints are made to resist the punishment of all climatic conditions.

Give careful consideration to where and how you store your boat after overhauling and painting.

In wintry climates, it is best to store small boats inside in a warm but moist area. Too much heat, dampness or dryness are detrimental. If you must store your boat outside in a cold area, be sure that the hull is covered with a watertight tarpaulin, tar paper or other heavy material. Alternate freezing and thawing can loosen and splinter planks if sufficient protection is not provided, and lack of air can also inflict damage.

A well constructed storage rig or trailer should be blocked-up and used to support a boat in a high and dry area. The boat's weight must be evenly distributed with extra support at bow and stern so that it will not alter the balance of the hull's shape or effect her construction.

NOTE: If you or your readers have questions as to any special paint or chemical coating projects, Dr. Francis Scofield, Director of the Scientific Section, National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, 1500 Rhode Island Avenue, N. W., Washington 5, D.C., will be pleased to answer these questions. The Association also has available for distribution a booklet, "BOATING FUN" which is yours (or your readers) for the asking at the above address.

FLU FIGHT... Candler chicken eggs inoculated with live virus in laboratory at Greenfield, Ind., is step in producing vaccine to combat Asiatic influenza.

Special anti-fouling paint must be purchased for use on an aluminum or metal boat. A bare-metal primer and three to four coats of anti-corrosive barrier paint should precede use of the anti-fouling coats. On topsides and decks, two or three coats of the barrier paint are adequate protection between the primer and marine paint or finish coat.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER

WIDER SYMPATHY

GROWTH of better feeling and cooperation between nations is illustrated in the relation between Mexico and the United States. Times when men from our country spoke with little charity of all things Mexican. But we are glad to note that this antipathy is dying out. From returning tourists we hear warm expressions of appreciation of the country beyond the Rio Grande.

We are learning of the solid progress made by our neighbors, Mexico City, we are told, is a metropolitan capital, the largest city in the western hemisphere, with a deep water port, with an ancient university, towering buildings, wide avenues, and historic places. It has been a city since the days of the mighty Aztecs who were conquered only by treachery and gunpowder. Only three hours and a few minutes of non-stop flight separate New Orleans and Mexico City.

Living Standard Cited as Factor In Overweight

Virginia Beach, Va.—The high U. S. standard of living was implicated as a major culprit in our national overweight problem by a specialist.

"Present-day life here tends to encourage too little exercise and too much eating—a combination which will inevitably lead to weight gain," Dr. Hart Van Riper said in an interview on radio station WBOP. Dr. Van Riper is medical director of Gelsy Pharmaceuticals which has done clinical research on overweight and has just introduced a new medical appetite-suppressant Preludin. His interview is the second in a three part series on weight control.

Dr. Van Riper stated that Americans today were economically able to eat far better than they had previously and at the same time were required to be far less physically active both in their work and in their homes. "As an example, it used to take about five and a half hours to fix a whole day's food for a family of four," he said. "Now the housewife who makes the most of prepared foods can have her day's cooking done in 90 minutes."

In addition, our eating patterns have changed, according to Dr. Van Riper. "As a nation we are far more snack-eating than we ever were," he said. He cited examples ranging from the mid-morning coffee break to the evening TV snack. "All of these play an important role in the social life of increasingly large number of Americans."

Emotional tension, too can play a part in overweight, Dr. Van Riper reported. "Many people overeat to relieve tension. Then too some may choose to remain overweight in order to avoid competitive situations."

Dr. Van Riper also exposed some of the misconceptions about overweight.

"The explanations offered by many overweight people such as 'it's my glands' and 'it runs in my family' were largely fallacious," he said.

Record Crowd See Chevrolet

One of the largest crowds ever to witness the showing of a new car here saw the all-new 1958 Chevrolet make its first public appearance last week, according to B. B. Roberge, of Clark Chevrolet Corp., Virginia Beach.

"We were extremely pleased at the public response to the new models," he said. "The Complimentary remarks of our visitors gave an enthusiastic stamp of endorsement to the 1958 Chevrolet models now on display in our showroom. It was a heart-warming open house, especially from the standpoint of sales, and we are still playing host to our friends who wish to view this entirely new car."

The local reaction reflected national reports on the first public display of the 1958 Chevrolet.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mary E. Osborn, Pleasant View, Ky.: I remember when my father owned oxen he made a yoke of popular wood. He made bows of hickory and dressed the wood with his drawing knife. He made holes in the yoke with an auger and bent the bows to fit around the oxen's neck. He hitched them to his farm wagon to haul corn fodder, fire wood and many other things. In the fall when the crop was gathered and put away, he would go to Pleasant View, to buy salt, flour, sugar and coffee to do us all winter. In the winter time the mud was to the wagon hubs.

Rabbits, squirrels, quail, wild turkeys were plentiful and hunting was fun. When the snow fell and the ground began to freeze, our hogs were killed and salted down on the meat bench in the smoke house with a winter's supply of apples, beans, cabbage, kraut, sweet and Irish potatoes. We youngsters popped corn, made tuff jack, ate apples and roasted potatoes. The boys set traps and would catch six or eight rabbits, raccoons, opossum and other game, a pastime that made the winter-time seem more fun and appear shorter and less dreary.

We always waited for March to come blustering over the hills. Warm sunshine-burst buds into April flowers and wild flowers spread rainbow colors everywhere. Wild birds would sing jubilees in every tree and apple blossom petals showered down all around. Pleasant dreams. Peace on earth, and the old blue hen singing in the farmyard. And then the fields were planted again in corn and potatoes and other things.

Floral Bouquet of Peace Sent to 14 Nato Countries

New York—Forty Naval Chaplains, representing 14 NATO countries and five major faiths will climax their NATO Chaplains' Conference in New York last week when they sent a floral "Bouquet of Peace" to the sovereign heads of their respective countries, according to a local spokesman of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association.

FTD, through Interflora, its international affiliate, in cooperation with the NATO Chaplains' Conference has made arrangements for the leading religious leaders to express hope for world peace to the heads of their respective governments through the medium of a "Bouquet of Peace" made of the national flowers from each of the 14 NATO countries.

The chaplains have met to exchange information and experiences in an effort to strengthen the moral and spiritual foundations in the Navies of the NATO nations. They visited major Navy Installations and met with civilian groups throughout the nation in the process of getting a closer look at the religious aspects of service and civilian life. Cobb Takes Course At Leica Technical Center

John N. Cobb, retail salesman of Campbell's Camera Center here, has just returned from New York where he attended the new Leica technical school for selected franchised photographic dealers.

The school was started recently by E. Leitz, Inc., American distributors of Leica cameras and other photographic equipment. Mr. Cobb is one of the first men from all over the country to attend.

Latest technical developments in the tremendously popular field of 35mm photography are reported and discussed at the Center. Specialists from West Germany have been on hand to describe the ramifications of new designs and ideas in cameras, lenses, electronic flash units, so that the dealers may better work with and serve photographers in their area.

The course lasts one week. In addition to the technical reports and explanations, dealers go on field trips in New York City and use Leica M-3's provided to them. Outstanding photographs have already been taken by the dealers.

The dealer "students" also do development and enlarging with the latest equipment set up in the Center.

Campbell's Camera Center is located at Virginia Beach.

Although Canada has less than one per cent of the world's population, it leads the world in the production of newsprint, nickel and asbestos and ranks as the sixth leading industrial nation of the world.

Scott Memorial Methodists To Hear Chaplain Owen

Chaplain William W. Owen, U.S. Army, stationed at Fort Story, will be the guest minister for the Spiritual Life Mission to begin in Scott Memorial Methodist Church in Oceana on Sunday, November 10 at 11 a.m. Recently returned from a period of service in the Arctic regions with the U. S. Troops, Chaplain Owen will come to this mission from a wide experience both with the military and in the civilian ministry. While he is a Methodist minister, he has been serving for several years ministering to the men in uniform.

Adding greatly to the significance of the services will be the singing of the great gospel hymns and songs of the Christian faith, under the leadership of Mrs. Ernest P. Hoff, choir director, with Mrs. F. H. Strieby, at the console of the Wurlitzer organ.

In addition to the opening service, the mission will include services on Sunday night and each week night until Friday, beginning at 8 p.m.

The pastor, the Rev. F. H. Strieby, in announcing these services extends a cordial invitation, not only to all church people in the area, but especially to service families and to new residents.

This mission is designed to bring spiritual help and encouragement

Veterans Day To Be Observed November 11

State Commander of the American Legion (Reverend) John J. Howard of Phoebus, Va., called upon all Legion Posts to spearhead ceremonies on Veterans Day (November 11th) in their respective communities. "Veterans Day," he said, "was formerly known as Armistice Day. It was changed," the Commander added, "because we now honor the living as well as the deceased veterans. During this time of great anxiety and world turmoil we need to think on these things a bit, our sense of values has eroded somewhat during the past decade, and even the killing and maiming of tens of thousands of our youth in Korea failed to impress the nation. Wouldn't it be wonderful," he concluded, "if every American home flew the Stars and Stripes on Veterans Day, if a moment of silence were observed, if the church bells were rung in unison, and if all factories would blow their whistles for 15 seconds at a scheduled hour which should be 11 a.m. if tradition is followed."

country living

By LUCY R. GAVIN

It's no trick at all to get the man of the house to preside over an outdoor barbecue. Getting male assistance in the kitchen though is usually quite the opposite story.

So I got the surprise of my life the other day when Jim announced he was going to cook Sunday breakfast. He'd heard me talking about the auto-matic controls on our new LP Gas range, he wanted to try it out for himself.

I put the instruction booklet which came with the range in plain sight so he could find the proper cooking temperatures without any trouble, and then left him "on his own".

I couldn't help but peek in every once in a while and watch him work. First thing he tried was the built-in griddle on our range for it's the newest of the automatic controls.

He placed a few slices of bacon on the griddle - set the burner dial control to 300 degrees and ended up with the most delicious looking (and tasting) bacon I have ever seen! All the excess grease drained off the sides of the griddle into a grease cup leaving just the right amount on the surface for pancakes. Then he turned the dial up to 350 degrees and because the temperature of the griddle remained perfect all the while he was cooking the pancakes, they, too, turned out "top".

Jim said he was fascinated with the way the flame turned up and down - up and down - all by itself, just as if there were invisible fingers on the dial. The griddle temperature never varied more than 2 degrees all the while he was preparing the meal and he never touched the dial after it was initially set.

He made such a big hit with his performance as a Sunday breakfast chef that he's taken on that job permanently - or at least till he explores all the possibilities of cooking on the thermostatically controlled burners.

After that, I've got some new tricks up my sleeve to keep him interested. There are a lot of things about a modern range that are bound to intrigue his inquisitive mind. In fact, I might end up with too much help in the kitchen instead of too little.

Relieves Painful Monthly Cramps

For 3 out of 4 Women Tested!

Gives Greater Relief Than Aspirin!

New promise of relief from tortures of monthly cramps, nervous tension is found in an amazing new tablet. Developed especially to relieve this female discomfort, it offers greater relief than aspirin!

For 3 out of 4 tested by doctors, pain and cramps were stopped or strikingly relieved. Even on the first day, many had no nagging headaches, no backaches or other functional distress!

The new tablet contains a unique combination of medicines.

That's why it offers so much more relief than plain aspirin! Acts on the cause of distress to calm uterine contractions. Also works through a woman's sympathetic nervous system.

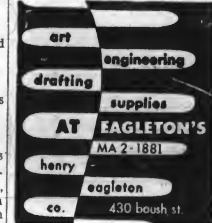

Called "Lydia Pinkham's Tablets," they're sold at all drug stores. Easy to take, contain blood-building iron.

So, don't suffer needlessly. Take Pinkham's Tablets your self. See if you don't escape much irritability and discomfort - before and during your period!

IF YOU PREFER A LIQUID all druggists, today, also have the famous Lydia B. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

House Wares Show Displays Many New Items

In the recent House Wares Show there were 100,000 items shown to a group of buyers, newspaper, extension workers and guests. Some of these were electric can opener which attached to the wall and it makes opening considerably easier. If you have trouble cutting your pies into six equal pieces, there are now hexagon-shaped pie plates which gives the division for six equal pieces. Another item which would make house work easier was an electric sharpener with a hollow grind for knives and scissors. A safety feature in this item was a sliding cover which when removed the motor starts. There were plastic bowls with pouring lips, stain proof and can be washed in an electric dishwasher. The suction cap on the bowl helps to hold it to a table. A stainless steel casseroles warmer to keep the "seconds" hot while it is on the table. An electric ryer pan with a lid with a sec- jobs. A cookie maker which could tion you could see through was another new item shown. With decorator was also an item in the problem we have of storage one of these 100,000. of items we are always looking It would seem that there are for an item which can do two many things new under the sun.

Bell Tidings

A fellow who had worked his way up from office boy to president of his company was showing a boyhood friend around his impressive country home. The tour over, the friend exclaimed, "Wow! A house with eight bathrooms!" His host shrugged his shoulders. "Certainly," he said. "I owe all my clean living to success."

It's easier than ever to make a Long Distance call when you're away from home or office. With a Bell-System Credit Card, all you need to do is to tell the operator, "I want to make a Credit Card call. My card number is —," and you give her the number. What could be simpler? Cost of your calls is put on your home or office telephone bill. A Credit Card costs nothing—ask for one at your C&P Telephone Company business office. And here's a tip: why not arrange to give a Credit Card at that student away at school? A collect call home regularly at prearranged times is the personal, low-cost way to keep in touch.

Use of color is popping up in some unexpected places. Golf clubs are being made in varied hues. You can get pastel-tinted aspirin. A California (where else?) hotel changes the color of its swimming pool water every week. Light bulbs are coming out in pastels, too—yellow, gold, aqua, pink, blue. There's one conspicuous holdout: men's umbrellas—uniformly a solid, ultra-conservative black.

TO THE LADIES:
Ever stop to think how much fun there is in telephoning? Let's say you're through with the dishes. You've made the beds. The breadwinner's been sent off to work with a smile. And the children are off to school. Right then and there is a good time to relax—to pause before you tackle that washing, or make that trip to the store. Pick up the phone—and call an old friend, or someone you've been meaning to call for a long time. Or perhaps you haven't seen Mrs. Smith lately. Is she all right? (Sure, she's fine—just busy. But isn't it good to know?) And after a few minutes of friendly talk you'll turn to your tasks refreshed. . . . That's what fun's for—to restore and relax. And doesn't a friendly call or two do just that?

Sad Sam says there's only one thing wrong with the younger generation: too many of us don't belong to it any more. Which calls to mind the brash youngster who asked his teacher, "Will a guided missile cause more damage than a misguided miss?"

FORT STORY TELLINGS -

RIFLE MATCH

Fort Story's marksmen took high honors in the Transportation Training Command rifle competition Tuesday, bringing the trophy to rest at the Cape Henry Post. Firing the .30 calibre carbine on the Fort Eustis, Virginia known distance range, the Story men fired a total of 1867 out of a possible 2000 points. Second place went to the 4th Transportation Terminal Command "C" of Fort Eustis with a score of 1812. High man for the winning Fort Story team was M/Sgt. James F. Pinnix, Jr., a native of Portsmouth and presently assigned to the 55th Amphibious BARC Carrier company.

In charge of the team and its training were co-captains 2d Lt. Ronald A. Malcolm of the 461st Transportation Company and 2d Lt. Benjamin M. Gaston of the 347th Transportation Company.

SFC Howard R. Lockhart of Fort Story Headquarters coached the winning team. Other team members are SP/3 Albert E. Chavez, 621st Transportation Company; SP/3 Dale L. C. Steller, 347th Transportation Company; SFC William D. Buchan, Headquarters 5th TTC "B"; PFC Ronald Boser, Headquarters 5th TTC "B"; PFC Frank T. Ybarra, Headquarters 5th TTC "B"; and PFC Jackie L. Baker, Headquarters 5th TTC "B".

Colonel James M. Clow of Fort Eustis headquarters announced in presenting the trophy that the winners would be entered in future competition in the Second Army area.

UNITED CHARITY DRIVE

Nearly $3,000 was contributed to the United Community Drive during Thursday's pay day by Fort Story's soldiers and civilians. Major Kenneth Acker, treasurer of the post's UCD committee reported that the 10th Transportation Battalion (Terminal) was leading all other major subordinate commands with $822.40 contributed. Close behind the 10th with $800.00 donated was Headquarters and Headquarters Company. The 14th Transportation Battalion (Terminal) obtained $702.00, and the Department of the Army civilian personnel contributed $640.00. On the company level, the 565th Transportation Company led all others with $255 in contributions.

The Fort Story Drive, headed by Lt. Col. E. A. P. McCarthy, Jr., is part of the Tidewater area UCD. It will continue through November 30.

BEAUTY SALON

A new concession was opened Saturday by the Fort Story post exchange as another separate unit in the rapidly expanding Story PX system. The new post beauty salon, occupying completely renovated rooms in what was formerly the post Thrift Shop, was officially opened by Lt. Col. E. A. P. McCarthy, Jr., post Executive Officer, representing Col. George E. Woods, Jr., Fort Story Commanding Officer.

CWO Darwin Givens, Exchange Officer, stated Saturday that Mrs. Elizabeth Fields had been awarded the beauty salon concession. Mrs. Fields, along with hostesses Mrs. James C. Conline, Mrs. Henry L. LaHoda, and Mrs. Ray Fullerton greeted the guests and served refreshments at Saturday's grand opening.

CERTIFICATE OF ACHIEVEMENT

A 20 year old Fort Story soldier, SP/3 John A. Orr has received a certificate of achievement from the Commanding General of the 24th Infantry Division. The certificate cites Orr for his distinguished and meritorious service in Korea from November 1955 to February 1957.

Orr arrived in Korea in November of 1955 after completing basic training at Fort Gordon, Ga. While with the 24th he was assigned to Headquarters and Headquarters Company, working under the Chief of Staff. He left Korea in February of 1957, and was assigned to Fort Story. He is currently assigned to the Military Personnel Division of Post Headquarters.

The outstanding service citation was signed by Major General R. L. Vittrup, United States Army, the former commander of the 24th. The division was recently reorganized and renamed the 1st Cavalry Division.

A native of Pontiac, Mich., Orr graduated from Pontiac High School in 1955.

BOXING

Quantico's hard hitting Marines outclassed Fort Story's boxers Friday night in a match held at the Story gymnasium. The Quantico men took six of the eight bouts, with one match resulting in a draw.

Francisco Lora got Fort Story off on a short-lived drive by defeating Harold Jackson of Quantico in the first match. The Quantico men took the lead in the match as Joe Cheseldine, nicknamed John Cabell, and Joe Rose won over Daniel Hernandez. In the fourth bout of the evening, Mike Fenebi, hard hitting, temperamental middleweight TKO'd Story's Emanuel Pleasant when Pleasant developed a deep cut above the left eye.

In what was probably the best matched contest of the evening Quantico's Eugene Dew and Story's Glenn Davis fought to a draw. Curtis Ford of the Marines then proceeded to win over the Army's Ruddy Blanco in a split decision.

The shortest bout of the evening came when Frank Harris of Quantico KO'd Story's William Collek in 1:40 of the first round. The last match of the evening, and the only heavyweight bout, saw Marine Bill Pacelman TKO Ernest Stevens in the final round.

Referee of the event was Abe Cohen; judges were Alonzo Small and Paul Overstreet of Fort Eustis. The 38th Army Band of Fort Eustis entertained before the match and during the intermission.

RETIRED OFFICERS

Retired Army officers residing in the Tidewater area were guests of the 5th Transportation Terminal Command "B" at Fort Story Monday (4 November).

Colonel George E. Woods, Jr., commanding officer of the Terminal Command and Fort Story, welcomed the guests at a luncheon held at the Officers' Open Mess. Fort Story staff officers and the battalion commanders were present for the luncheon.

Early in the afternoon the retired officers visited the 150 unit Capehart Housing area at the tiny, Cape Henry Post. The Fort Story Capeharts are in various stages of completion, with some being ready for December occupancy. A highlight of the tour was a visit to the BARC hanger on the Fort Story beach. The BARC (Barge, Amphibious, Resupply Cargo) is the largest amphibian in the military, with the only five in existence located at Story.

After the tour, the retired officers were briefed by Colonel Woods at post headquarters.

Lieutenant Colonel E. A. P. McCarthy, Jr., Fort Story Executive Officer, today named the major officers in attendance. Attending from Virginia Beach were Colonel John H. Fye, Colonel Frederick A. Ward, Colonel Harry L. Watts, Jr., Lieutenant Colonel John C. Hutcheson, and Lieutenant Colonel Joseph Moore. Attending from Norfolk was Colonel Jasper K. McDuffie.

A NEW KIND OF CAR IS BORN!

At Your Pontiac Dealer's Nov. 9

BOLDEST ADVANCE IN 50 YEARS!

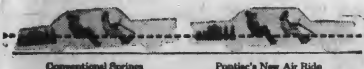

THE GOLDEN JUBILEE CAR!

It's a revolution on wheels—boldly planned from the very beginning as a Golden Anniversary showpiece for Pontiac and General Motors.

This one you really must see—here is a car unlike any you have ever known! This Golden Jubilee Pontiac is actually an all-new breed of cars—in four brilliant series and 16 elec. models covering virtually every price bracket.

In all of them you'll find engineering advances so daringly different yet so basically sound that they will trigger the next big change in automobile design. You'll find a few of these ideas illustrated here, but even they can't begin to tell the full story.

Why not be among the first to discover the newest? When you meet this bold new Pontiac, you're in for a driving thrill that is impossible to duplicate in cars of conventional design. So make it a point to see your Pontiac dealer soon and prove to yourself that no car in history ever left yesterday so far behind!

Ever-Level Air Ride*

The most perfect suspension system ever designed—and Pontiac's revolutionary Aero-Frame is specifically designed for it! Air cushions on all four wheels literally float you over the bumps . . . keep the car perfectly level regardless of load or road! (See enclosed options.)

Aero-Frame STABILITY

Here is the biggest basic construction change since the early days of motoring. Pontiac's revolutionary new frame design is lighter, stronger, more stable than the conventional box type used on other cars.

Quadra-Poise ROADABILITY

Only the wheels know where the bumps are! Pontiac's new suspension geometry ends dice, sway and bounce to bring you the smoothest ride, easiest handling you've ever known!

Circles-of-Steel SAFETY

Pontiac's completely new body construction surrounds you with girder steel protection—above, below, fore and aft. Now you can drive with wonderful new peace of mind!

Tempest 395 PERFORMANCE

Try Pontiac's new jewel-cut, responsive 395 of exclusive engineering innovations made Pontiac's hefty power plant a miracle of smoothness . . . and you can choose from four horsepower ratings including Tri-Power Carburetor, and Fuel Injection!

Griffin-Glenn Vows Said Here

Miss Bernice Griffin of Virginia Beach, daughter of Mr. Zackie Lee Griffin and the late Mrs. Griffin of Beaufort, North Carolina, was united in marriage with Mr. Jack Boyd Glenn Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Boyd Glenn of Warren, Ohio on Saturday afternoon, October 26, 1957 at the First Presbyterian Church, Virginia Beach.

The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Mr. Morgan, pastor of the church, in the presence of the immediate families and a few close friends. The church parlor where the marriage took place was decorated with white chrysanthemums and lighted candles.

The bride who was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. William R. Johnston of Virginia Beach, wore an afternoon dress of champagne wool jersey with matching accessories. Her only attendant was her sister Mrs. William R. Johnston who wore royal blue wool jersey with beige accessories.

There was a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnston immediately following the ceremony after which the couple left for a northern wedding trip.

Out of town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Jack Boyd Glenn Sr. and the groom's brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Rogers and their daughter Patty of Warren.

EVERY FARMER NEEDS SOME LIVESTOCK

Beef cattle can play an important role in increasing profits on most general farms in Princess Anne County.

I think too many people have the wrong idea about the place that beef cattle can play in a farming program. Many farmers feel that they can't afford to stop cropping their farm and feed it to pasture and then buy cattle for the entire farm. This is not the role that beef cattle should play. Beef cattle should fit into the farm operation and produce for the farm rather than the farm producing for the cattle.

I do not believe that we can say it is wise to have the entire farm in beef cattle, but we can generally say that every farm needs a few head which will consume roughage that would ordinarily be wasted. One corn and soybean farm a head of cattle could consume a large portion of corn fodder after the corn is harvested. They would also get any remaining corn that would be left in the field. They could also be turned out on the soybean vines and will be able to get sufficient feed from the soybean vines. Beef cattle do not require high quality forage at all times. Because of their nature they are able to maintain themselves on less forage and poor quality forage and remain in better condition than other types of cattle.

All of our crop farmers realize that cover crops are a necessity on their farm. Beef cattle can graze on these cover crops throughout a large portion of the winter. Of course we must not over look good pasture for cattle. This pasture should be on land that is wet or otherwise unsuitable for crop production. Most of our farms in the county have some land of this nature. This is the type of land that should always go into pasture.

In Princess Anne County an acre of Ladino Clover-Orchard Grass or Ladino-Pescue should properly take care of one cow and calf per acre.

Beef cattle can not be just "dumped" onto the farm and expect them to make good profits. They have to be managed properly and if properly managed can return good profits on your investments. Cows should be bred so that all calves will be dropped in January and early February. This enables you to have a uniform crop of calves to sell in October at weaning time. Calves should be dehorned and castrated while young and when grass begins to shorten, thus reducing the mother's milk, they should be provided grain in a creep.

If good quality beef type cows are used and bred to a pure-bred bull, that is better than "his" cows you should get a calf crop of deep, thick, short-bodied calves standing on short, big-boned legs. Calves of this quality have been selling on the average in past years at Feeder Calf Sales for approximately $100 per head. This is a good gross profit per acre wise when you consider that one acre feeds one cow and her calf. We should consider here that there is a great deal less labor involved in producing this calf than in producing a crop and it has far fewer expenses.

PROSPER WITH SHEEP

Princess Anne County can produce excellent wool and mutton. We have a good climate, abundance of grass and are close to good wool and lamb markets. Sheep raising is carried on farms for many reasons, and has paid well. There is, I believe, reason to believe that with good care and management sheep will continue to pay. There should not be a flock of sheep on every farm, however, many more beef cattle, general and specialized farms can profit by adding a few sheep to their farms.

There are several factors to consider when going into the sheep business. First of all, love and understanding of sheep is a must. Beginners will have more success if they "grow in" rather than "go in" the sheep business. How many sheep to keep is often a problem. Remember that sheep is a secondary source of income rather than the primary source. In the case they play the same role as beef cattle on the farm. It is always wise to have too few sheep rather than too many. We can, however, by practicing good management have 5 ewes per acre provided that the farmer follows good parasite control. He must drench the sheep for worms at least four times a year. The second thing a farmer must have to carry this many sheep per acre is to have good pasture and to have these pastures rotated so that the sheep will not stay on the same piece of land all the time.

Ewes should be bred in July so that they will lamb in early January. The lambs should be marketed when they weigh from 80 to 100 pounds. The VPI Agricultural Extension Service holds in this area three lamb sales a year. The prices received are considerably higher than prices paid on the farm by local buyers. These lamb pools or sales are held in Smithfield and farmers selling through these sales realize greater profits from their lambs. It is needless to say that farmers should sell where they can get the greatest amount of money for their lambs.

Sheep pay off fairly well on a per acre basis considering that we can maintain five ewes per acre. These five ewes should produce seven marketable lambs. With a bottom price of $15 each for the seven lambs. This means a total gross profit of $105 per acre. Therefore, we can assume that under good management with good quality sheep they will pay about the same price per acre that beef cattle will.

SUCCEED WITH HOGS

So far we have been talking about livestock to consume roughage that would ordinarily go to waste. Now let's look at the hog story. This is producing livestock to take care of grain that is produced on the farm.

There are three systems of raising hogs here in Princess Anne County. The first way is to purchase feeder pigs and feed them out for market. The second system followed here in the county is to keep sows and sell feeder pigs. This method is good for farmers that have pasture, but can not raise enough grain to finish hogs for market. We have an excellent market in Princess Anne County for feeder pigs, since we have several farmers with large garbage feeding operations. The third system which is used on most all of the farms in the county is to keep sows and feed out the pigs on the farm for slaughter. Success in this type of program depends on a plentiful supply of home grown grains.

For either of these three systems, pasture will pay big dividends. There is no better pasture for hogs than succulent Ladino Clover. One acre of Ladino Clover will amply take care of three sows and their litters.

The breed to keep on your farm is a question often asked and one which remains and will remain unanswered. Remember there are good ones and bad ones of all breeds. There may be much wider differences in animals within breeds rather than between breeds. Guides to help you decide on your breed are:

1. Which breed do you personally like?
2. Does the market like this breed?
3. Can you get good breeding stock?

The grading of hogs has made farmers pay a great deal of attention to the type of hog that he is producing. The market will pay a premium for meat type hogs. The U.S. No. 1 hog will bring a premium of 75 cents per 100; the U.S. No. 2 will bring the prevailing market price; the U.S. No. 3 will bring 75 cents below the market price, and the medium grade which is an under finished hog, will bring the same as a No. 2. These grades go from meat type, which is your No. 1 down to lard type which is No. 3.

Our 4-H Club members in the Sears Pig Chain are trying their luck with the Yorkshire breed. This is a solid white hog which has tremendous length and meat type qualities. It is noted for its quiet nature and the ability to produce large litters. These 4-H Club members will have a few boards and gills that are registered for sale. Why not try a few on your farm.

COWS NOT DISTURBED

ON TESTING DAY
We have been talking about all livestock with the exception of the dairy cow. Let's not leave without saying a few words on her behalf.

Does milk production drop on testing day, as many people have claimed?

Apparently dairy cows are not particularly disturbed and average production is just as good on test day as on any other day.

This was shown in a test of 5,552 cows in 38 herds in 10 counties in California. In these herds buckets were used on the testing day.

The amount of milk shipped for the four-day period before, and the four-day period after testing was determined by reading the weight alphas received from the dairies.

Very little variation was found. Actually, the maximum amount of milk was given on the testing day.

Many dairymen who installed pipeline milkers say they do not intend to continue testing because additional labor is needed and it is more inconvenient to handle buckets after milking is once done without them. Some dairymen also say that lower production is obtained on testing day with pipelines than without pipelines, and for that reason they have stopped testing. However, according to the information from California, this last objection is entirely without basis in fact.

Proved and approved around the world and now it's here for you... the 58 FORD

One look tells you... there's nothing newer in the world!

You'll ride in a new world of style in the 58 Ford

New deep-sculptured styling
New Interceptor V-8 power
New Cruise-O-Matic Drive
New Ford-Air Suspension
New Magic-Circle Steering

The 58 Ford is the newest car in the world—the only car ever to meet a world-wide test and win world-wide approval before its public premiere.

Here's a car so new, so beautiful it made eyes pop from Paris to Pakistan . . . a car so rugged it proved its mettle in a road test around the entire world! What's more, it did it on surprisingly little gas—thanks to new Precision Fuel Induction. Come in and let us show you the world's most beautiful new bargain!

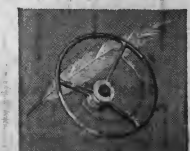

You'll be ahead with Ford's new Interceptor V-8 and Precision Fuel Induction. There's nothing newer than these engines that give you up to 300 hp. Smoother power! From less gas! One secret is Precision Fuel Induction, a wonderful new carburetor, fuel feed, and combustion system.

You'll get up to 15% more gas savings with new Cruise-O-Matic Drive teamed with the new Interceptor V-8. New O-1 position, used for all normal driving, lets you move smoothly, automatically—with just a touch of your toe—from solid-feeling take-offs right up to highway cruising speeds.

You'll ride on a cloud instead of a spring with Ford-Air Suspension. Four air pillows literally soak up the bumps! And Ford's new air suspension relevels the car every time someone steps inside or luggage is loaded. An extra cost option, you get all this at traditionally low Ford prices!

You'll steer with a feather touch with Ford's new Magic-Circle Steering. Nothing rolls like a ball, and that's the secret of Ford's handling secret. Free-moving steel balls in the steering mechanism are virtually friction-free—give you the closest thing yet to power steering! Come in and try it!

Come in today... Action Test America's only world-proved car!

BAYSIDE JUNIOR WOMEN AND BAYSIDE JAYCEE'S SPONSOR HALLOWEEN DANCE

The Bayside Junior Woman's

Club and the Bayside Jaycee's sponsored a joint Halloween Dance, Saturday night, October 26 at 9:00 p.m. at the Chesapeake Beach Community Center. The dance was in honor of the club members and prospective members. Chairmen of the affair were: Mrs. R. D. Nicholson and Mr. R. M. Wilson.

The dance was unique in that in order to get in the door, or rather after you got in the door, to get on the dance floor, each guest had to slide down a "sliding board" and landed at the bottom on a mattress.

Judges awarded prizes for the "best costumes" which went to Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hoots who were dressed as "Raggedy Anne and Andy." The funniest costumes were Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Butler, who were dressed like the upstairs maid and butler. The "Whackiest" was Carol B. Forbes who came as "Cousin Tibble."

Mrs. C. B. Forbes was in charge of decorations. She had a life size witch riding a broomstick, with a cat, across the ceiling of the dance floor. Skeletons were numerous along the side walls and the band stand was banked with cornstalks and two huge jack-o'-lanterns. Music was furnished by the "Five Jacks." About two hundred costumed merry-makers turned out for this affair.

CHESAPEAKE BEACH DUPLICATE BRIDGE

Duplicate Bridge is played each Wednesday night at 7:30 at the Chesapeake Beach Community Center. Winners for last Wednesday night, October 30 were: First place, Mrs. T. R. Clemens and Mrs. J. B. Gienn. Second place, Mrs. J. O. Wiggs, Jr. and Mrs. Mary Mayle. Third place, Mrs. R. J. Webbon and Mrs. H. L. Hubbs. The door prize was won by Mrs. Wiggs.

The Duplicate Bridge Club is a project of the Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach and is affiliated with the American Contrast Bridge League.

The weekly sessions begin promptly at 7:30 p.m. and the public is invited. Mrs. H. L. Hubbs conducts the tournament. Any additional information may be obtained by calling Mrs. R. J. Webbon at LO 3-3147. She is the club recreation chairman.

BAYSIDE CHRISTIAN CHURCH NEWS

The Princess Anne County Council of Church Women met at the Bayside Christian Church, Friday, November 1, at 11:00 a.m. The Bayside Christian Church and the Ocean Park Chapel were hostesses to this group.

Following the business meeting a luncheon was served by the hostess groups.

On Monday night, October 28, the Adult Friendship Class of the church held a Halloween Party for the class members. Prizes were awarded for the "blackest" which was won by Mrs. J. A. Bibla. A humorous skit was presented by Mrs. Iris Cummings, Mrs. Bibla, Mrs. Cary Fox, Mrs. Edna Twiford, Mrs. E. F. Caldwell, Mrs. R. H. Rhodes and Mrs. D. B. Smith, Jr.

The Junior and Senior Pilgrim's Fellowship of the church attended the Hampton Roads Pilgrim Fellowship Union which was held Sunday, October 27, at 3:00 p.m. at the Great Bridge Christian Church. The panel for the meeting was "Meet in Jesus." Following the panel refreshments were served by the Great Bridge Church. Twenty-three young people from the Bayside Christian Church attended this meeting.

Friday night, November 1, the Official Board of the church met in the recreation hall of the church. Dr. Stanley U. North, general secretary of the Board of Home Missions for Christian churches was the guest speaker. It was his first visit to the Bayside church since it had been organized three years ago.

Following the meeting, Dr. North was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Caldwell at their home in Thoroughgood.

Chaplain and Mrs. George S. Thilking joined the church last Sunday as members. He was a minister in the Evangelical Reformed Church and is now on duty as a Navy chaplain.

BAYLAKE METHODIST CHURCH

The Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Baylake Methodist Church held a Halloween Party, Saturday night, October 26, at 8:00 p.m. at the home of Jerry Drye on Shore Drive. Members all came in Halloween costumes and Halloween games were enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Fletcher, adult advisers of the group were present. Prize for the most original costume was won by Erena Reynolds. Carol Cook won the apple eating contest. Twenty-one young people were present.

The Intermediate Class of the Sunday School met at the home of Mrs. Frank Harrington, for follow-up, Sunday, October 27. They roasted "hot dogs" and enjoyed games. Those attending were: Layton Theis, Laura Joe Glenn, Kathy McCabe, Cheryl Turner, Erena Reynolds, Kitty Lane, Robert Grant, "Butch" Everett, Frank Harrington, Jr., and David Harrington. The Rev. Fay Bennett, pastor, was guest of the group and assisting Mrs. Harrington was Mrs. Marcia Humphreys. The class is taught by Mrs. Frank Harrington.

The Quarterly Conference of the Baylake Methodist Church held Thursday night, October 31, at 8:00 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Everett, Ben Gun Road. Dr. Harry Bacaus, district superintendent visited the board.

The Norfolk District Wide Spiritual Life Preaching Mission begins November 11 to 17. Services will be held each evening at Shelton Park School, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The revival speaker for Baylake Methodist Church will be the Rev. Calvin Johnson, Park Side Methodist Church, Portsmouth, Va. Song leader will be Truman Fleming, of the Willowood Presbyterian Church, Norfolk.

The following ladies from Baylake Methodist, attending the "Day Apart" Prayer service held at Chesapeake Avenue Methodist Church, South Norfolk, Thursday, October 31, were: Mrs. O. L. Everett, Mrs. Carson Simpson and Mrs. Frank Bednarick.

TIED!

Maybe no one has ever actually bound your wrists with a rope. But haven't you, at times, felt as if you were literally hand tied? You struggle and strain with your problems and anxieties, and you are completely unable to get free.

Such moments come to everyone, and they are not easy to face. It's simple to be serene when things are going well. But when your hands are tied—when you feel helpless, even hopeless—when you begin to realize life cannot be lived alone.

It's then that you know how important Faith is—how it is something you absolutely must have. With Faith to sustain you, you inevitably begin to see your way out. Without it, you founder.

Turn to the Church—not just because you are troubled, but because it can give you spiritual freedom.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and spiritual support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Anderson Resign Highway Post; Davis Acting Head

General James A. Anderson will retire Dec. 31 as Virginia's highway commissioner and will be succeeded by D. B. Davis, who has been deputy commissioner and chief engineer since 1955.

General Anderson's retirement and Davis's promotion as acting commissioner were announced by Governor Stanley on Nov. 9.

The promotion of Davis resulted in several temporary shifts within the Highway Department. D. B. Davis will be elevated from assistant chief engineer to deputy commissioner and chief engineer.

Fugate's position will go to D. N. Huddle, location and design engineer, and John E. Harwood, Huddle's assistant, will become location and design engineer.

In announcing General Anderson's retirement, Governor Stanley said that Anderson, who will be 65 in December, did not want to accept the appointment in 1954 when the Governor took office.

Anderson, who has been commissioner since 1941, agreed to serve two years, the Governor

Planning Group Enjoys Quiet Session Monday

PRINCESS ANNE—Nine applications for rezoning and use permits were taken under advisement by the Princess Anne County Planning Commission after an unexpectedly brief public hearing Monday.

Although large delegations were on hand for a number of the applications, opposition was scant. Recommendations of the commission will be heard by the Board of Supervisors Monday at 2 p.m.

Opposition developed through P. A. Agelasto, a lawyer who lives in Alanton in the county, on an application of the Board of Supervisors for a change of zoning in the Alanton area.

Proposed Change

The proposed change would raise the present minimum of 10,000 square feet to 30,000 square feet for lots in an area bounded on the west by Stephen road, on the south by Alanton drive and on the east and north by North Alanton.

Other applications were:

Zoning change from residence to suburban 3 to general commercial of a tract on the northeast corner of Leakin road and Eastern Shore road.

Zoning change to raise the minimum lot size from 10,000 square feet to one acre in an area bounded on the north by Lynnhaven Bay, on the east by the

Heavy Docket For Grand Jury Set Nov. 22nd

PRINCESS ANNE—An involuntary manslaughter charge growing out of a fatal "Russian roulette" game near Virginia Beach last month is among about 40 indictments to be presented to the Princess Anne grand jury Nov. 22.

Darwin Lee Brock, 21, a Ft. Story soldier, faces the charge as the result of the death of a buddy, Norman J. Harshberger, 21, at Brock's trailer home on 17th Street extended, Oct. 19.

Harshberger died of a single bullet wound in the right cheek when he squeezed the trigger of a pistol Brock handed to him. The gun contained a single bullet in its cylinder when it fired.

Commonwealth's Attorney Robert S. Wahab Jr. says he has found no previous court case bearing directly on "Russian roulette." If Brock is indicted, his trial could make legal history.

The grand jury also will consider eight counts of robbery and one of rape against Ronald L. Reid, 24, of the 500 block of Fisherman's road in Norfolk.

He and Emmett R. Reynolds, 21, of the 4000 block of Little Bend road in Norfolk, were arrested after two women and a man said the two offered to help them with a stalled car and in.

BOARD NOTES LOW BIDS IN ADVERTISING

The Board of Directors of the Builders and Contractors Exchange has recommended that no further action be taken in the inquiry concerning the contract awarded for completion of Virginia Beach's convention center, according to George L. Wadsworth, the exchange's secretary.

According to Wadsworth the Board found no irregularity in the awarding of the contract, but in a letter to City Manager W. Russell Hatchett the Board noted that "if the City of Virginia Beach had no intention of awarding separate contracts to low individual bidders on the items called for in their request for bids then such requests should not have been included in bid forms."

The A & P Construction Company was awarded the contract on a final negotiated lump sum bid of $258,000, a considerable saving to the city over the individual bids. The city had, in its advertising for bids, stated that the City of Virginia Beach preserved the right to reject any or all bids.

A special committee from the Exchange composed of W. H. Bejana, W. A. Hall, Dewey G. Weddle and Wadsworth conferred with Hatchett on Tuesday. It was reported after the meeting that the committee seemed satisfied with the explanation offered by Hatchett concerning the wording of the contract.

Hatchett, who said City Council members felt they were advised that the committee would go downward and to negotiate with the low lump sum bidder after giving all other bidders and equal opportunity to be heard, said "we don't feel we have done anything wrong at all." It was at this point that the committee agreed that he had given them a "reasonable" explanation.

Filing Deadline for Boating Awards Is November 30

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—The deadline for the filing of entries in the second annual Boating's Golden Awards, sponsored by the National Association of Engine and Boat Manufacturers, is Nov. 30, according to James W. Pease, St. Joseph, Mich., chairman of the board of judges.

Pease, who is publisher of The Boating Industry — a leading trade publication in the recreational boating field—pointed out that the awards are made to daily and weekly newspapers in four separate circulation categories. Basis of the awards is excellence in overall promotion of recreational boating and allied subjects by newspapers.

Categories include dailies in three circulation divisions—over 100,000, between 30,000 and 100,000 and under 30,000—and weeklies and semi-weeklies.

Winners in the first judging last year were: dailies over 100,000, Boston, Mass., Globe; dailies between 30,000 and 100,000, Orlando, Fla., Sentinel-Star; dailies under 30,000, New Rochelle, N.Y., Standard-Star, and weeklies and semi-weeklies, Columbus, O., Star.

Nomination forms may be obtained from the National Association of Engine and Boat Manufacturers, 420 Lexington Ave., New York 17, N.Y. Entries postmarked by midnight, Nov. 30, 1957, will be accepted for the judging.

First Concert To Be Presented Here Nov. 19th

PHILIPPE ENTREMONT

The first concert of the Virginia Beach Concert Association, featuring the brilliant French pianist, Philippe Entremont, will be given at the Virginia Beach High School, Nov. 19 at 8:15 p.m.

M. Entremont has become nationally famous since his spectacularly successful appearance with the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra under Eugene Ormandy last November. His present tour, which includes engagements with the New York Philharmonic, the Minneapolis, National Chicago Symphonies and many others have been completely sold out.

Marjorie McClung, lyric soprano, will be presented in the second concert at the Cavalier Hotel on Jan. 14. Miss McClung, who was 1954 winner of the Metropolitan Auditions of the Air, has been soloist with the Dallas, Austin, Wheeling, Greenville, Atlanta and New York City Symphony Orchestras. She has figured prominently in Berkshire Music Festival performances at Tanglewood and appeared in the Grand Opera Festival of the San Antonio Symphony.

The third concert will also be presented at the Cavalier on February 25. It will feature the Feldman String Quartet with piano soloist. The Feldman group are presented by Popular Tickets.

Tickets are on sale at The Beach Music Company, The Tidewater Record Center, Ingram's Pharmacy, Ann's Beauty Salon, Ragged Robin Book Shop, Fuel Feed, Taylor Upholstering Company, Marie Richardson's and Levy-Page in Norfolk.

Polio Shots To Be Given Monday, Thursday

The third shots for the Polio inoculations will be given on Monday, November 18 and Thursday, November 21 from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. at the new Health Center, 19th St. and Arctic Ave., Virginia Beach, at the Seateck School, the Health Center at Princess Anne and the Princess Anne High School.

Don't be indifferent to this important matter. Just because you didn't have Polio this past Summer or didn't know anyone who did, is no reason to neglect taking the Salk vaccine. "DON'T PRESS YOUR LUCK."

Up to Sept. 1st, 64 per cent of the nation's population under 20 had not yet started or completed the full series of three Salk shots. Are you among them? Please take advantage of these clinics. They are put on for your protection and everyone up to 40 is urged to take the Salk shots. Anyone over 40 may take them, many have. We do not know when Polio will creep into an older age bracket. If you haven't taken your first Salk shot, do so. You can get the second and third at your Health Center when they are due. If you do not wish to take advantage of these clinics, for your sake go to your family doctor, but as

Garden Center Show Praised

The Home Federal Savings and Loan Association building became a bower of blossoms when the Garden Center of the Tidewater District of Virginia Federation of Garden Clubs presented a flower show, Oct. 25 and 26.

"Autumn in Tidewater" was the theme of the show. Exhibits were shown throughout the whole building. Hours Friday were 2-8 p.m. and Saturday 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Mr. J. R. Sears, president of the bank cut the ribbon for the opening of the show.

Mrs. A. M. Barlow, a member of the Fair Meadows Garden Club won the highest award in the show, Class 5, "Beauty and Bounty."

The sweepstakes in horticulture went to Mrs. J. E. Eller.

Conservation display by Mrs. Clyde M. Rawls.

President, Mrs. E. D. Duval, general chairman, Mrs. David Stormont, co-chairman, Mrs. H. T. Crittenden, staging, Mrs. A. H. Cuperper, Mrs. Delmar J. Dee, and Mrs. W. H. Stinch.

Local Teacher Injured Here

Mrs. William Lamb of the 306 block of Raleigh Drive, is recovering from injuries suffered in an automobile accident in Cavalier Park Monday.

Mrs. Lamb, a teacher at Lincoln Park School was driving alone on 47th St. extended when she apparently lost control of her car on the circle at the entrance to Bay Colony, according to police. Her car cut down a telephone pole and turned over. She was taken to the Virginia Beach Hospital by the Resort Rescue Squad. A number of stitches were taken inside her mouth and around her lips. She later was taken to her home.

Dollars for the Band

PROCLAMATION FARM-CITY WEEK

WHEREAS the prosperity and well-being of this community are dependent upon cooperation between the two great elements of our society; farmers and urban people, and

WHEREAS the complexities of their individual problems, and the divergence of their activities have led to a widening gulf of misunderstanding, and

WHEREAS this gulf of misunderstanding must be eliminated; and each group must understand the other if our American way of life is to endure, and

WHEREAS Farm-City Week provides an unparalleled opportunity for farm and city people to become re-acquainted,

I, THEREFORE, Frank A. Dusch, Mayor of the City of Virginia Beach, do hereby proclaim the period of November 22 through November 28 to be Farm-City Week; and I do further call upon all citizens of this community to participate to the limit of their capability in the joint visits, the seminars, the pageants, fairs, civic and social events attendant to a successful Farm-City Week in Virginia Beach, Virginia.

Done at the City of Virginia Beach this 10th day of November.

Lions Club Sale Set for Monday

Members of the Virginia Beach Lions Club will conduct their annual sale of light bulbs next Monday night, it has been announced.

The sale will be conducted throughout Virginia Beach, North Virginia Beach, Bay Colony and Birdneck Point.

The light bulbs will be packaged eight to a paper bag and will sell for two dollars per bag. Proceeds are used for the Lions Club program of sight conservation.

The sale will begin at 6 o'clock on Monday night and will last until 9 p.m.

The committee in charge of the sale includes Max Moore, chairman; Millard Godsey, Ray Caswell and Page Moore.

Open Garden Center Show

Basketball League Planned In P.A. Recreation Program

OCEANA, Jim Lail, Recreation Director for Princess Anne County announced that six basketball leagues are tentatively planned for January, February and March for boys, girls and adults of the county. The number of leagues finally organized will be determined by the interest displayed by public, private and commercial organizations in the communities. Leagues tentatively planned to be organized are as follows:

Midget League—Boys cannot have reached 13 years of age prior to January 1, 1958. Boys born in 1944 are ineligible, and participants should have reached their 10th birthday. Teams must recruit players from their respective Elementary School Area. Player limit 10 per squad.

Junior League—Boys cannot have reached 16 years of age prior to January 1, 1958. Boys born in 1941 are ineligible. Teams must recruit players from their respective community or immediately adjacent. Player limit 10 per squad.

High League—Boys cannot have reached 18 years of age prior to January 1, 1958. Boys born in 1939 are ineligible. Teams must recruit players from their respective area. Player limit 10 per squad.

Senior (Ocean County) League—No age classification. Teams are requested to recruit players from their respective area or military command. Player limit 10 per squad.

Old Men's League (Duffers)—Men must have reached their 50th birthday. Teams are requested to recruit players from their respective community or immediately adjacent. Player limit, as many as necessary per squad.

Mothers and Daughters League—Girls must have reached their 13th birthday. Mothers and daughters are encouraged to play on the same team; however, this is not to be construed as meaning that a daughter may not play unless her mother also plays or vice-versa. Teams are requested to recruit players from

Field Goal by Maury Defeats P. A. Cavaliers

A 14-yard field goal by Fred Hathaway with 4:32 remaining gave the Maury Commodores a thrilling 16-13 victory over the Princess Anne Cavaliers before some 2,500 chilled fans at Cox Stadium Monday night.

It was the second try for the 165-pound senior. Two missed on a field goal attempt from the 20 with 2:31 left on the clock. Four unsuccessful passes by the desperate Cavaliers gave the Commodores new life in the waning minutes.

Quarterback Jimmy Marshall picked up two yards and uncorked a pass to Spider Webb for 11 yards to move to the seven-yard stripe. With Carroll Owens, the running star for the night doing the holding, Hathaway set the ball through the uprights for the clincher.

Not to be outdone, the Princess Anne eleven moved back to the Maury 16 in a desperate offensive before time ran out.

Although Hathaway was the last minute hero, it was actually the brilliant running of Owens which enabled the Commodores to take the lead on two occasions. Owens personally accounted for 209 yards rushing, including an 86-yard gallop in the second quarter that gave Maury a 6-0 half-time lead.

Princess Anne failed to make a first down until four minutes before intermission. The Cavaliers, with Ralph Gregory and Jim Laird alternating on jugging the ball, moved to the Maury 16 only to yield on a fumble with 44 seconds remaining.

Taking the second half kickoff on their 33, the Cavaliers marched to the six-yard line on four successive first downs with Gregory, Laird and Johnny Strickland grinding out consistent yardage without a single loss. After a five-yard penalty, Gregory plowed over from the 11 to deaden the count. Bob Causey booted the extra point to give the Cavaliers a 7-6 advantage after 5:28 of play.

Maury quickly moved into the lead for the second time with Webb on the receiving end of a 34-yard pass from Marshall after a streak from their own 40 yard line. Hathaway's placement was good and the Commodores moved ahead, 13-7.

The Cavaliers roared back on a pass from Stan Fisher to Bruce Britling and outstanding running by Laird and Strickland. Gregory plunged over from six yards out. The score, 13-13.

Gregory recovered a fumble on Maury's 42, but three plays later Owens retaliated by picking up a miscue by Strickland on his own 15. On the next play, Owens reeled off 44 yards to move the Princess Anne 40. Frank James and Buster Wilson picked up ground to get the stage for Hathaway's field goal.

Owens accounted for 209 yards in 16 carries, while Gregory picked up 81 yards, Laird 47 and Strickland 45.

Farmer Is Large Consumer of City Made Products

Agriculture is a $12,000,000,000 customer of labor and industry each year, not to mention the billions farm people spend for consumer goods.

Ten million people work full time in marketing farm products. Six million more work in plants producing materials and supplies for farmers.

These are some of the high points showing the interdependence of city and farm people stressed by a state committee which is directing plans for Farm-City Week Nov. 22-28. Attention in Virginia will be directed at better understanding of rural and urban problems. All people, it was pointed out, are consumers of farm products, and thus are the customers of farmers. Likewise, farmers must buy goods and services of business and industry. This interdependence, the committee says, is a key to the understanding and the economy of the country.

County Negro Recreation Group Meets

OCEANA. The regular monthly meeting of the Negro County-Wide Recreation Committee was held last Tuesday in the county recreation office.

Those present were Mr. Robert Sparrow, representing the Recreation Council; Mr. Eric Jenkins and Mr. Cecil Boggs, Kempville Committee; and Mrs. Leola Williams, Mrs. Queenie Jones and Mr. Rufus Goffigan, Bayside Committee; Mr. John E. Wilson and Mr. James H. Wilson, Chinese Corner Committee; and Mr. Alfred B. Morgan of the Seatack Recreation Committee.

Reports were given by representatives of the various committees of the recreation activities underway and being planned in their communities.

Mrs. Queenie Jones, reported that the Bayside Teenage Club held a Hobo Dance while the pre-teenagers were entertained with a pre-Halloween social. Also that the teenage club had purchased a volleyball and net and volleyball games were being played regularly in the afternoons. Plans for a volleyball tournament and league were being discussed for the coming months.

Mr. Wilson, reported that a teenage club was organized in the Chinese Corner community Saturday, Oct. 12, and officers for the club had been elected. Weekly activities will be conducted on Saturday afternoons. The club will affiliate with the County Recreation Youth Association.

Mr. Eric Jenkins, reported that the Kempville Recreation Committee had organized a teenage club in their community and nineteen boys and girls had already enrolled. The church had given his committee permission to utilize the old school building on the Kempville Road as a teenage and community center.

Mr. Robert Sparrow, representing the Recreation Council expressed an urgent need for Fall and Winter Athletic Leagues for boys and girls of the county. That the newly appointed County Athletic Council would meet Thursday evening, Nov. 7, to formulate policies and rules for the organization's two recreation basketball leagues. He urged the full support of the various community recreation committees.

Mr. Jim Lail, Recreation Director, discussed briefly the urgent need for other community recreation committees. He suggested that potential leaders from other communities who do have a recreation committee be invited to these monthly meetings. The County-Wide Committee meets on the first Tuesday of each month in the recreation office located in Oceana, Virginia. Time of meetings is 8 o'clock p.m. Further information can be obtained by calling his office, Virginia Beach 2595.

Mr. Robert Gordon, Jr., was the guest speaker for the evening. Mr. Gordon spoke on the different types of recreation that could be put to use in the community recreation programs and the effect of the summer playgrounds and athletic program on the children of the county.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Dec. 3, at 8 o'clock p.m. in the Princess Anne County Recreation Office.

Mrs. Henry Clay Perry Sr., has returned to her home on 80th St. after spending some time in Richmond, where she attended the funeral of her mother, Mrs. Annie Blanche King.

Third Polio Shots Next Week

The third and final polio shots are scheduled here next week on Monday and Thursday nights with clinics set for four locations on those nights in Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County.

Officials of the Princess Anne Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis are urging those who secured the first two shots to complete the series this week.

The Salk vaccine has proven very effective and its effectiveness can only be measured by the number of people who avail themselves of the opportunity to receive the polio shots.

Clinics will be open from 7 until 9 p.m. on Monday and Thursday nights next week at the new Health Center here, the Seateck School, the Princess Anne Health Center and the Princess Anne High School.

Officials point out the importance of taking these shots and have placed particular emphasis on the need to get the third shot to complete the series. Mark your calendar for either Monday night or Thursday night of next week. Don't press your luck against this crippling disease.

Veterans Disability Payments from Social Security

The recent laws on disability payments from the Social Security Administration and their effect on Veterans Administration benefits have excited many inquiries, suggesting that further information on the subject is in order.

The VA pays two disability benefits to living veterans: (1)

COMPENSATION for disabling conditions acquired in service, and (2) PENSION for total and permanent disability not service incurred which prevents employment, and when income is limited.

Social Security also has two types of payments to the living worker: (1) DISABILITY INSURANCE to the insured between the ages of 50 and 65 when permanent disabilities prevent employment, and (2) OLD AGE INSURANCE which is awarded to men at age 65 and may be paid to women at age 62.

Veterans entitled to VA COMPENSATION may draw either one of the two Social Security Benefits without one affecting the other.

However, a veteran entitled to VA PENSION and SS DISABILITY INSURANCE can draw only a sum equal to whichever payment is the higher. He may choose to have payments made by both agencies, which will result in the lower award being paid in full by one agency and the balance paid by the other. Illustration: A 62 year old permanently disabled veteran is found entitled to a VA PENSION of $65.15 and to SS DISABILITY INSURANCE of $85.00. This man can receive only $85.00 regardless of the agency or agencies paying the benefits.

At age 65 a veteran can draw a VA PENSION and SS OLD AGE INSURANCE because after 65 the SS benefit is not a disability payment, but is based on retirement.

Thomas A. Moore, Norfolk service officer for the Division, at 203 City Hall Avenue, will be pleased to assist and advise any person concerning veterans' affairs. Moore visits the Community House, 18th and Arctic from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. only on the second and fourth Thursdays each month.

100 per cent, who will get slightly more than 24 per cent. Those veterans now getting $17 will receive $19, those rated 50 to 60 per cent will jump from $91 to $100, and the totally disabled receiving $181 will increase to $225. The rates for disabilities incurred during peacetime are 80 per cent of the wartime rates.

In discussing the mechanics of changing the compensation checks to higher figures I was told by a VA official that the clerical work will be huge, but that the VA believed that the checks mailed out at the end of October would all be made out at the new rates. The rate will be paid automatically with no action required by the veterans already on the compensation list. Veterans should not inquire by telephone or letter unless the October check is unchanged.

News for Veterans

The following announcement to interested veterans' widows is made by Thomas A. Moore, of the Virginia State Agency, Division of War Veterans' Claims, from Norfolk.

Veterans service organizations have long felt that there should be relaxation of some of the standards for recognizing a woman as the legal widow of a deceased veteran. Such an act of Congress was signed by the President on August 28, 1957, providing that even though she may not be the veteran's legal widow, a woman who married a veteran without knowing that there was a legal impediment to the marriage may be eligible for widow's benefits from the Veterans Administration. A legal impediment could be a divorce from bed and board only instead of an absolute divorce, a marriage within a prohibitory period unknown to the woman, neglect of the veteran to tell the woman of a previous undissolved marriage, or inaccurate information as to the death of a former spouse.

Under the new law, if the marriage to the veteran was entered into in good faith by the woman, the VA may consider it a valid marriage if:

1. The marriage would have been valid had the legal bar not existed;
2. The parties lived together as man and wife for 5 or more years just prior to the veteran's death; and
3. No claim for benefits has been filed by a legal widow of the veteran.

The new law also provides that the date on which a woman married a veteran shall not disqualify her for pension or compensation, if she was married to him for 5 or more years, or for any period of time if a child was born of the marriage. The old qualifying out-of-date have not been changed, but new qualifying alternative marriage dates are provided if the old dates are not met.

There are some widows in this area who may qualify for pensions under the new law, and I hope to contact them soon.

Moore's office is located in the McKevitt Building, 203 East City Hall Avenue. He maintains itineraries to Virginia Beach, Cape Charles, Accomac, and Chincoteague, announced in all local papers separately. This release was from Mr. Harry F. Carpenter, Director of the Division, Offices in the Veterans Administration building in Roanoke.

PENSIONS FOR SURVIVORS OF WW II & KOREAN VETERANS

It has come to our attention that claims for some widows and children of "WW II" or Korean veterans are not being filed because the deceased veteran was not in receipt of compensation, or because the survivors do not think the veteran had a service connected disability. The laws and regulations require that the veteran must have been receiving compensation, or must have had an ascertainable service connected disability at the time of death. Proof of the service connected disability can be established after death, as well as before.

In many cases, when a claim is filed and the service health records are obtained by the VA, the records will show disabilities of which the family had no knowledge and which the veteran had not thought sufficiently disabling to mention, such as varicose veins, hemorrhoids, or organic heart murmurs developed while on active duty. Then too the veteran may have spoken of treatment for disabilities incurred in service but for which he never filed claim.

A claim should be filed for the widow and children of every deceased veteran of World War II or the Korean period. Any knowledge that the survivors have as to illnesses or injuries in service, including dates and places of treatment when known, should be recorded on the application. Nothing may come from filing the claim, but it is desirable to set up the file while recollection is fresh and in anticipation of possible change in the pension laws.

Thomas A. Moore, Norfolk service officer for the Division, at 203 City Hall Avenue, will be pleased to assist and advise any person concerning veterans' affairs. Moore visits the Community House, 18th and Arctic, from 11 AM to 3 PM only on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month.

The increased compensation bill signed by the President last week did not change the rates paid to wartime veterans or their widows or children for non-service connected disability or death. Neither did the bill increase the compensation rates paid to survivors for service connected deaths because such survivors had already been provided for on January 1, 1957. The increase applies only to living veterans receiving compensation for disease or injury attributable to service in the armed forces, both in time of war or in peacetime.

In general the rate will be close to 10 per cent above the rate, except for those rated at

Golden Years Club Invites New Members

Since February of 1957 the Golden Years Club has grown to a membership of 25. We are proud of that number but feel that there are a lot more who would enjoy the meetings if they would come and see what they are missing.

During the time we have met we have had films on Seashore State Park and on French Morocco. We also have had Studies on Dried Flower Arrangements, Women of the Bible and Sea Shells. Included also were picnics, keepsake day, book review and music played from an antique music box.

The Club is interdenominational and is open to all who are 60 Golden Years or more, both men and women. It is sponsored by the Ladies Bible Class of the First Presbyterian Church and meets the second and fourth Thursdays at 10:30 at that church located at 36th and Pacific Ave.

Mrs. Earl Vose is the newly elected president and Mrs. George Bratten is serving as the secretary-treasurer. Call 1727 or 913 for further information.

H. I. JAFFE ATTENDS CONVENTION FOR CRIPPLES IN CHICAGO

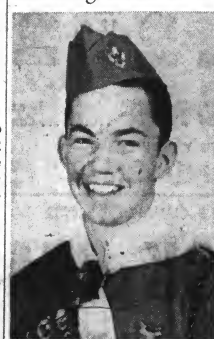

Mr. H. I. Jaffe has recently returned from the annual convention of the National Society of Crippled Children and Adults held at the Palmer House in Chicago. Among the featured speakers were Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, U.S. Treasurer of Washington, D.C., the Honorable Joseph Foss, Gov. of South Dakota, and Mr. Malcolm Hecht of Baltimore, Md., National Treasurer. The featured speaker for the President's banquet, held on Friday evening, Nov. 1, was The Honorable Walter H. Judd, M.D., Congressman from Minnesota, and special congressional representative to the United Nations. His subject was "Rehabilitation"—A step to world peace.

Chrysler Sales Jump in October

Chrysler Division officials revealed today that more Chrysler automobiles were delivered at retail in the final 10 days of October than in any like period since 1955, the model-year in which the Forward Look was introduced.

During the final 10 days of October, 5,119 cars were delivered, the biggest 10 day period since September, 1955. In the same period of 1956, 1,607 Chryslers were delivered at retail.

Chrysler deliveries in the full month of October totaled 11,197, an increase of 64.4 per cent over the 6,811 delivered in the same month last year.

October Chrysler retail deliveries topped any month since February, 1956, officials said. Imperial, which has more than tripled in sales during 1957, showed a total of 2,190 retail deliveries in October, up 402.3 per cent over the 436 delivered in October, 1956.

Combined Chrysler and Imperial retail deliveries for the first 10 months of 1957 totaled 126,821 cars, up 22.2 per cent over the 103,789 cars delivered in the same period a year ago.

Officials attributed the strong year-end sales showing to snowballing public acceptance of FlightSweep styling, TorsionAire ride and superior quality control in manufacturing.

SCOTT MEMORIAL MISSION

The Spiritual Life Mission of Scott Memorial Methodist Church, Oceana, has been in progress throughout this week with services each night at 8 o'clock. The mission opened on Sunday morning with a challenging message delivered by Chaplain William W. Owen, of Fort Story, Virginia. Theme of the sermon was "Christian Love". At the Sunday evening service the chaplain again stirred his congregation deeply speaking of the urgency of a living faith in Christ. The response to his interesting presentation of the message of the Gospel of Christ for our day has been most encouraging.

Adding interest to the mission has been the singing of the great gospel hymns and songs of the Christian faith under the efficient direction of Mrs. Ernest P. Hoff, with Mrs. F. H. Strieby at the organ. Special emphasis is being placed during this year on the great contribution of Charles Wesley to Christian hymnody.

The Spiritual Life Mission will continue through Friday night of this week and be continued into the 11 o'clock Worship Service on Sunday.

Anxious to have the benefits of the preaching of Chaplain Owen to reach many people of this community, the pastor, the Rev. F. W. Strieby is extending an invitation to all families of the vicinity of Oceana to attend the services.

GALLIEE YOUNG PEOPLE'S FELLOWSHIP VISITS USS FORRESTAL

Galliee Episcopal Young People's Fellowship visited the USS Forrestal on Sunday, Nov. 3, 1957.

Programs in addition to this trip have been a beach party, hayride, films and several speakers.

The group is now planning a box supper and dance for Saturday, Nov. 23. Bidding on the box supper will begin at 6:30 in the Parish Hall. Dancing will begin at 8 p.m. Admission for those attending only the dance will be 50c stag or drag.

Cancer Society

On Thursday, Nov. 7, the Princess Anne unit of the American Cancer Society entertained at a "coffee" for the officers and volunteer workers. This special gathering, which was held in the unit's offices in the Community House, was to inaugurate the service program for this year. Among the more than 50 ladies present were the wives of the scientists attending the Lung Cancer Conference at the Cavalier Hotel.

If you wish information regarding the service and activities of the unit, please come in to the information center in the Community House or call Mrs. Brown at Virginia Beach 4575.

JUST A REMINDER

Wednesday, Nov. 20 is the day of the annual Bazaar of the Woman's Auxiliary of Galliee Episcopal Church.

Lovely gifts—dolls, choice hand decorated articles and handmade articles. Delicacies and other food and last but not least, luncheon will be served. It is highly necessary to tell about the food served as it has become famous.

In our new Parish House, we have plenty of room and welcome new comers and old friends.

Complete Course

John Cobb and S. Wilson Sykes, of the sales staff of Campbell's Camera Centers at Norfolk and Virginia Beach, respectively, have completed a special technical course on Leica cameras and accessories conducted last week in New York. Sponsored by E. Leitz, Inc., distributor for Leica in this country, the week-long school was devoted to the application of the Leica for general usage as well as technical subjects, such as medical and industrial photography.

The course included classroom lectures, demonstrations, actual photographing, darkroom work, and print critique. Instructors for the course were Sergei von-Holbeck, representative from the Leica factory in Germany and John F. Brooks, Leitz technical advisor.

People Advised to Review Their Health Insurance

"Will my health insurance cover this medical expense?" This has become an all-too-familiar question asked by patients of doctors and hospital admission offices.

A recent study reveals the startling fact that while 120,000-000 Americans now have some form of health cost protection, relatively few people pay attention to exactly what their policies provide.

Much of this can be explained by the fact that an estimated 80 per cent of these insured Americans are protected under group programs, according to the Health Insurance Institute. Such health insurance policies are usually part of over-all employee benefits, and it is a natural thing not to pay much attention to these provisions before an emergency arises.

The Health Insurance Institute suggests that all policyholders review their policies periodically. Family health insurance needs vary from time to time according to changing requirements. For example, children come of age, local hospital rates change. In addition, new developments in the health insurance field make such periodic reviews doubly important.

Many people who may have considered themselves uninsurable can now in fact obtain some form of health cost protection. Even such major diseases as cancer, heart disease, and diabetes are now, in many cases, insurable. One of the least understood principles in health insurance involves the provision regarding the renewal conditions of the policy. A cancellable type policy, usually renewable on a year-to-year basis, carries the advantage of lower cost and frequently offers a broader coverage of insurance risks.

Similar to term life insurance, cancellable health insurance policies represent a sound buy for a given period of time. As a matter of practice most companies renew this type of policy except in cases of fraud.

Non-cancellable health insurance, available for over 50 years, is valid for long periods or for life. This type of policy states that premiums will not be raised throughout the duration of the policy.

Because of the extended risks undertaken by the insuring companies, non-cancellable policies generally are apt to be somewhat higher in cost. Non-cancellable forms of accident and sickness insurance are becoming generally available, as more people desire this form of permanent protection. No matter what form of health cost coverage is desired, according to the Health Insurance Institute, it is how becoming increasingly obtainable. The ultimate goal of the insurance companies is to provide maximum protection for the greatest number of people. Whatever type policy you pick, the Institute advises, "you can

Harold Chance To Speak at Meeting House

Harold Chance, Director of Friends Peace Service, Philadelphia, Pa. will be in Virginia Beach Nov. 15, 16, and 17. He is the author of two books: "Toward Fellowship with God and Man" and "Tradition and Challenge".

Friday he will visit in Friends School. At 8 o'clock he will speak at the Meeting House on "Quaker Work and Worship". This meeting has been arranged especially for teachers and parents of Friends School children. Any other interested persons are welcome.

Saturday night, Nov. 16 supper will be served at the Meeting House followed by a meeting at which Harold Chance will speak on the subject, "So Little Time".

On Sunday Mr. Chance will lead a round table discussion on prayer and worship from 9:45 to 10:45. The regular meeting for worship will be at 11 after which there will be an informal lunch and continued discussion. At 3:30 there will be tea and a time for visiting.

The Friends Meeting extends an invitation to anyone who would like to attend any or all of the meetings.

Birdneck Point Club Launches Therapy Project

The members of the Birdneck Point Garden Club have become interested in a cause that touches the hearts of all of us. As a consequence, this article is being written with the thought in mind that other persons and clubs might further this project, which is, to supply some of the personal needs of patients at Eastern State Hospital.

The main object of the club's program is to help those unfortunate ones who have been forgotten by their families and friends but who are able to go outside the hospital to church, small parties given by the Gray Ladies or others, and who can hold small jobs—but are handicapped due to lack of suitable wearing apparel.

On the last visit to the hospital, the club provided considerable clothing for men, women and teen-agers. Costume jewelry, gay hats and artificial flowers were received with joy, as a Halloween Square Dance was being held the next night in their recreation hall.

As for the old men—some have been released but, with not a place in the world to go, and no relatives—have come back and asked to stay in the only home they have. These work in the yard and some helped unload our car, so when you hear a small pathetic voice saying "please may I have that tie (or shirt, etc.) it's my favorite color"—one must have a heart of stone not to wish they could buy every one of them their heart's desire. One has a pipe, but no tobacco, and no money to buy any. The State provides food, shelter, and medical care, but the little luxuries and personal needs have to come from those who care a little, and so many of those have died or forgotten—that is where we come in and the club is trying to do its bit for these "grown children".

On the next trip to the hospital the plan is to take whatever wearing apparel that has been donated and to ascertain some of the specific Christmas needs. Unused greeting, birthday and Christmas cards are in great demand for the pathetic reason that those who have contact with the outside world, wish to let it be known that they are still in the land of the living and are of some consequence. Woodworth's jewelry, especially rings, is a great prize; records, especially polkas or square dances, sweaters, scarves, tobacco, games, playing cards. In other words, anything used in normal living that most of us take for granted.

If any merchant having some slightly damaged stock, making it unsalable and useless, will contact Mrs. Cecil Mears, Therapy Chairman of the club, phone 1311, the articles will be collected and delivered to those to whom it will be of the most benefit, with grateful appreciation.

Also if any person has anything

Mrs. Mabel Davis Gives

Driftwood Demonstration For P. A. Garden Club

A piece of driftwood tacked to a wooden base, with fruit, foliage or flowers used as fillers is an easy to make and most effective arrangement. Mrs. Mabel Davis, of Ocean View said and demonstrated to members of the Princess Anne Garden Club at a meeting, Monday afternoon, Nov. 11, at the home of Mrs. C. F. Greene in Birdneck Point.

Mrs. Gordon Stephenson, chairman of horticulture, told members that November and December are the best months for planting bulbs in Tidewater. Plant most bulbs three times their own depth in rich soil, she advised.

PRINCESS ANNE CHAPTER D.A.R. TO HOLD TEA

The Princess Anne Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution will hold a tea at the Princess Anne Country Club on Saturday, Nov. 16 from 2 to 4 p.m. State and district officers will be the guests of the chapter.

that they believe will make Christmas brighter for someone and will call Mrs. Mears, it will be collected and greatly appreciated by all concerned.

Cape Henry Club Entertained by Mrs. Battley

The November meeting of the Cape Henry-by-the-Sea Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Pauline Battley on 45th St., Virginia Beach.

A very interesting and informative program on "Thanksgiving Tables" was given by Mrs. Edward A. Hoffmeister.

Guests were Mrs. John Bell, Miss Ida May Esmond, Mrs. John Hutcherson, Mrs. Garrett Smith and Mrs. Charles W. Egan.

The club voted to have members take instructions for judging local garden clubs.

The members will wrap Christmas packages to be judged and given to the Joy Fund.

The committee for the pansy sale, reported the sale a success.

Honor Cadet

Cadet D. W. Cuthrell, Jr., above, a student at Virginia Military Institute, has been notified that he will be listed in the 1957-1958 edition of "Who's Who Among American Universities and Colleges." Cadet Cuthrell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Cuthrell, of Richmond, and is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. J. Leslie Richardson, of Virginia Beach. He usually spends the summer months here with the Richardsons.

Flower Show Azalea Week Event Next April

NORFOLK—Plans for a Tidewater Flower and Garden Show, to be a major event of Azalea Week in Norfolk next April, are being made by the Norfolk Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The show, the third under Jaycee sponsorship, will have a complete new format from the previous ones. The 1958 event will feature a "garden area," to occupy 75 per cent of the Municipal Auditorium floor space, with flower beds, evergreen trees and a grass panel in the center with a fountain.

Highlight of the show will be a visit by Queen Azalea V and her entire court, after her coronation and parade through the city on April 19.

The three-day exhibit will have an admission charge of 50 cents with children under 12 admitted free. A 36-page "Garden Guide" program will be available for 25 cents.

The completely reorganized show will have no lectures as in the past. Also, no selling will be allowed from the garden area, although some will be permitted from commercial booths which will line the side of the auditorium.

Also of interest during Azalea Week will be the free potted plants to be given to the first 5,000 persons attending the flower and garden show.

A major part in the production of the April 19 through 21 event will be played by the Federation of Garden Clubs of Norfolk and vicinity. Their exhibit is planned for the stage as in past years.

Staging adviser for the production will be Jack Haddaway, who has drawn the floor plans and under whose guidance the staging will be done.

Chairman for the Jaycees is James J. McBride. Chairman of the International Azalea Festival, April 14-20, 1958, is Moultrie Quarry.

Polio Shots To Be Given At Center Monday

The third shots for the Polio inoculations will be given on Monday, November 18 and Thursday, November 21 from 7-9 p.m. Clinics will be at the new Health Center, 19th St. and Arctic Ave., Virginia Beach, at the Seatack School, the Health Center at Princess Anne and the Princess Anne High School.

Don't be indifferent to this important matter. Just because you didn't have Polio this past Summer or didn't know anyone who did, is no reason to neglect taking the Salk vaccine. "DON'T PRESS YOUR LUCK."

Up to Sept. 1st, 64 per cent of the nation's population under 20 had not yet started or completed the full series of three Salk shots. Are you among them? Please take advantage of these clinics. They are put on for your protection and everyone up to 40 is urged to take the Salk shots. Anyone over 40 may take them, many have. We do not know when Polio will creep into an older age bracket. If you haven't taken your first Salk shot, do so. You can get the second and third at your Health Center when they are due. If you do not wish to take advantage of these clinics, for your sake go to your family doctor, but as has been said before, "DON'T PRESS YOUR LUCK." Don't Wait—Vaccinate.

Remember the dates—Time 7-9 p.m. Monday, November 18th, Thursday, November 21st.

Remember the places—Virginia Beach Health Center, 19th and Arctic, Seatack School, Seatack Road, Princess Anne Health Center, Princess Anne Court House, Frying Pan Farm School, Thalia, Virginia Beach Blvd.

The Princess Anne Chapter National Foundation for infantile Paralysis wishes to thank the members of the Princess Anne Woman's Club and Cape Henry Woman's Club for their assistance in helping the Health Department organize and carry out the Salk Vaccine Program.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand B. Roberge of Bay Colony announce the birth of their third child, first daughter, Marie Louise, Tuesday, Nov. 5, at the Norfolk General Hospital. Mrs. Roberge is the former Miss Elizabeth Rutherford Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy L. Clark of Virginia Beach.

Capt. Payton E. Weary (MC) USA and Mrs. Weary of Fort Sill, Okla., announce the birth of their second child, second daughter, Conway Christian, on Tuesday, Oct. 29, at the U.S. Army Hospital in Fort Sill. to serve. And may I suggest - that you buy one a little larger than you actually need for its always nice to have some left for another meal or two.

If you buy a fresh Turkey - refrigerate immediately when arriving home - If you are buying a frozen turkey - keep it frozen until it is to be cooked, allowing sufficient time before cooking for thawing.

Prepare turkey for roasting - There are several methods of roasting - some use an open pan, others a covered roaster. Brush skin of turkey thoroughly with melted butter or margarine. Place turkey, breast up - on rack. If - turkey dries - you may cover it with cheesecloth moistened with melted butter or margarine.

Usually - you will find cooking directions on the various brands of Turkeys - found in the markets. And Cooking will be no problem. As for the stuffing - I'd suggest making it and baking it in a casserole - the Turkey will keep much better without stuffing inside.

Here's a recipe for -

Almond Sausage Stuffing

For a 12 to 15-pound Turkey
Sauté - until slightly browned, over gentle heat, 1 pound sausage meat, moisten 8-10 cups of dry bread crumbs with warm water - let them stand, while you cook until tender in 2 cups of water 2 cups finely chopped celery, 1 cup finely chopped onion, 2 cups blanched and sliced almonds, add 1 tablespoon salt - 1/4 teaspoon pepper.

Toss bread crumbs - into above mixture using liquid that you used in cooking celery - onion and almonds, beat 4 eggs - well and add 1 cup evaporated milk - then toss - all together - and Bake - in large greased baking pan or casserole - in moderate oven. Next week - I'll have some dessert suggestions for Thanksgiving Dinner - Bye - now.

"Every Monday's Christmas with an ELECTRIC DRYER!"

The precious gift of leisure. That's what an Electric Clothes Dryer means every washday for years to come! Drying time drops from hours to minutes. And ironing time gets cut in half... for clothes come out so fluffy smooth, many can just be folded away without ironing.

Save precious energy, too! No more lugging heavy, damp wash out to line in chilly winter or broiling summer. And Electric Drying is far cleaner. Outdoor rain, wind, dust, soot or birds can never ruin your snowy wash.

Give Better—Live Better—Electrically! See the new Clothes Dryers and Washer-Dryer combinations at your Electric Appliance Dealer's. And check his many other Electric gifts to delight everyone on your Christmas list.

It hardly seems possible another year is almost gone and here we are thinking of Thanksgiving Time and all the happy memories it brings. Off to Grandma's house for Thanksgiving dinner and maybe the pleasant memories of Grandma coming to our house for dinner.

It used to be the day when the first Turkey of the season was cooked for the family - but no more - Turkey can be and is enjoyed all through the year. Turkey is no longer identified with Thanksgiving and Christmas as they once were.

Turkeys are plentiful and just about all seasons of the year and the big bird 14 - 22 pounds are really good buys.

Not only the Roast Turkey, but cold sliced Turkey - turkey sandwiches, Turkey salad, Turkey a la king and other delicious dishes can be scheduled for family enjoyment. Part of the meat can be frozen for later use. If you think the Turkey so often might become tiresome, I'll tell you just a little bit about the Turkey. I found in one of my cook books. It said the Turkey among its own flock is both fierce and quarrelsome, but among other birds of the farm yard is usually both weak and cowardly. The domestic cock will often keep a flock of Turkeys at a distance and they will rarely attack him except in a united body, when the cock is crushed rather by superior weight of his antagonists than by their prowess. The female is less ferocious in her disposition than the male, and when leading forth her young, to which she is very affectionate, to collect their food, gives them, if attacked, but slight protection, warning them of their danger rather than offering her personal protection.

There is a beautiful legend still believed among Indians, who still use a Turkey wing for fanning their fires. The reason for this is explained in the following tradition which is part of Indian lore. Many years ago, long before Christopher Columbus was born, the fires of the world were nearly extinguished. This happened just before the beginning of the winter season. The birds were troubled because they knew that men would need heat to keep them warm through the winter.

A bird Council was held and it was decided that the birds which could fly the highest should soar into the air and see if they could find a spark of fire anywhere. The efforts of the eagle, lark and raven were of no avail. The honor was left to the little brown sparrow which found a spark of fire in the hollow of an old stump in the heart of the deep forest.

The birds flocked about the stump and tried to decide who should pick the spark out. But all their efforts were in vain. To their dismay they saw the spark grow smaller and fainter. The wild Turkey then volunteered to keep the tiny spark alive by fanning it with its large wings.

The heat became greater and greater until the feathers were singed off the Turkey's head. If one looks carefully one can still see the lumps on the head of the Turkey - lumps which look like blisters. Legend has it that all Turkeys since that time have bald heads and wear blisters as a memento of their brave ancestor. The faithful Turkey loses its head feathers, but it gave fire back to the world. So, in its honor, and as a memorial to its faithfulness, the Indians use Turkey wings to make their fires burn.

Today - we go to the markets and buy our holiday Turkey. Not so with our ancestors. They took a firing piece from the wall, went into the forests and presently returned home with their birds in the bag - so to speak. But that was the day when wild Turkeys were plentiful. They still exist but in comparatively small numbers.

I hope you enjoyed that - I did for its the very first time I had heard the legend of the Turkey. Turkeys are available in just about any size you want - you can even buy a half of Turkey if you want.

The young hen turkey is a young (usually under 8 months of age) female, tender-meated - soft and pliable smooth textured skin with a less flexible breast bone than the fryer or roaster.

Young Tom Turkey is a male bird with the same characteristics of a young hen Turkey.

Elizabeth Alexander Wilson Weds A. C. Woodruff in London Bridge

The Eastern Shore Chapel, London Bridge, was the setting Saturday, Nov. 9, at 4:30 p.m. for the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Alexander Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas George Wilson Jr., of Virginia Beach, and Mrs. Albert Cook Woodruff III, USNR, of Fleet Air Defense Training Center, Dam Neck, Virginia Beach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cook Woodruff Jr., of Greens Farms, Conn.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Henry Causey Barton Jr., rector of the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of old ivory peau de soie, fashioned on princess lines, with a scoop neckline, elbow length sleeves and cathedral train. She wore a full length rose point veil and carried a semi-cascade bouquet of white feathered carnations, stephanotis and ivy leaves.

Mrs. David Pender III of Virginia Beach, was matron of honor for her sister, and Miss Dale Woodruff, of Greens Farms, Conn., sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Nicholas George Wilson III of Virginia Beach, sister-in-law of the bride; Miss Joan Marchand Doughty of Knoxville, Tenn., and Misses Martha Robinson Seawell and Lee Ann Curtis, both of Norfolk. All the attendants wore white length gowns of emerald green chiffon, fashioned with a boat neckline, and draped bodice with matching velvet back bow with streamers. They carried semi-cascade bouquets of solid feathered carnations. Little Miss Anne Darden Wilson of Virginia Beach, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a moss green velvet dress made with a white lace collar, puffed sleeves, fitted bodice with sash tied in the back. She carried a miniature cascade of yellow and white feathered carnations.

Albert Cook Woodruff Jr. was best man for his son and the groomsmen were David Pender III, brother-in-law of the bride, and Nicholas George Wilson III, brother of the bride, both of Virginia Beach; Robert McKay Rex of Larchmont, N.Y.; Lt. (jg) Jeffrey W. Weiland of Greenwich, Conn.; and Lt. (jg) James E. Poth of Norwalk, Ohio.

After the ceremony a reception was given at the Princess Anne Country Club. Later, Ensign and Mrs. Woodruff left for a wedding trip to Montego Bay, Jamaica, and upon their return they will reside at 111 61st Street, Virginia Beach.

Miss Beth Coyner, a freshman at William and Mary College in Williamsburg and her roommate Miss Judy High of Arlington, Va., spent the week-end in Baltimore, Md., and attended the Navy-Duke game.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence D. Barnard spent last week-end in wedding of Mr. Barnard's nephew Robert Dowling Barnard and Miss Mary Lewis Moore which took place Saturday afternoon in the University Chapel and the reception which followed at the Kew-Wick Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Reinhardt and their daughter, Misses Le and Laura Reinhardt, Mrs. Leslie T. Terrell and Mrs. P. L. Withers left yesterday to attend the wedding of Miss Jayne Rose Adams and Philip Thornton Withers which will take place Friday night in Christ Episcopal Church, Charlotte, N.C., and the reception that will follow the ceremony at the Charlotte Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Wade Korneys have returned to their home on 53rd St. and Atlantic Ave. after spending two weeks with their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Robert F. Kilber at their home in Boston, Mass.

Miss Margery Mercer Weds John D. Harris in Fentress Rites

The marriage of Miss Margery Bennett Mercer, daughter of Mrs. Harry Wallace Mercer of Princess Anne, and the late Mr. Mercer, to John Daniel Harris Jr., son of Mrs. Octavia Harris of Rocky Mount, N.C., and the late John Daniel Harris, took place Saturday, Nov. 9, at 2 p.m. in the Mount Pleasant Methodist Church, Fentress.

The Rev. John W. Hobbs performed the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by D. J. Vaughn, wore a gown of lace and tulle over satin styled with an escaloped oval neckline and long sleeves ending in wedding points over the hands. The petal bodice complimented the very bouffant skirt with ruffled cascade train. Her finger-tip veil was arranged from a pearlized crown. She carried a white orchid on a Bible showered with lace and feathered carnations.

Mrs. Charles Roof Jr. of Princess Anne, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of melon-red crystalline with matching velvet jacket and headband, and carried a cascade bouquet of blue carnations.

The bridesmaids were Miss Carolyn Mercer of Fentress, cousin of the bride, Miss Constance Miller of Norfolk, and Mrs. Kenneth Heins of Homestead, Pa. They wore gowns of blue, crystalline with matching velvet jackets and headbands, and carried cascade bouquets of pink carnations.

Bennett Malbon of Richmond was best man. The groomsmen were Alton Malbon of Richmond, Barnes Allen of Princess Anne and Kenneth Heins of Homestead.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the social hall of the church. Later, the couple left for a northern wedding trip. Upon their return, they will reside at 7533 Military Highway, Norfolk.

WHAT TO DO WITH LEAVES IS CURRENT HOME PROBLEM
The problem of what to do about the leaves on the lawn is a common one these days for home owners.

If they are left on the lawn the grass will be killed. Serious damage to grass may result within a few days after the leaves fall. The safest plan is to sweep the leaves off the grass two or three times a week.

The much-talked-about idea of mulching the lawn with pulverized leaves appeals to many home owners as an easy way out. This may save some of the labor needed to sweep and remove the leaves, but in most cases it will not save the grass.

If there are only a very few leaves, the leaf mulcher might be used. But in most cases the mulch left from the chopped leaves will smother the turf. Under certain conditions the pulverized leaves might do more damage than the whole leaves.

PONY CARE BULLETIN NOW AVAILABLE

"A pony for the children" has become fairly common in Virginia the past few years, and a new VPI circular now available tells inexperienced owners and prospective buyers how to take care of the popular little animals.

Circular 742, "Pony Care," points out that there are now readily available sources of good ponies in Virginia for both show and general use. Proper feeding and care will extend their life and usefulness and add to the pleasure of owning them.

The circular has a section on breaking and training ponies, on feeding, care and management, and on disease prevention. Phone or write for free copy.

REPLACEMENT EWES FOR VIRGINIA FLOCKS STUDIED AT STATION

Finding readily available replacement ewes which would do well for Virginia sheepmen has been a puzzle of some magnitude in years past.

Now, however, researchers at VPI Agricultural Experiment Station have established that several kinds of ewes produced in the western range states will do a good job in Virginia.

In an earlier study the Station found that crossed Hampshire and Rambouillet ewes from Montana and the northwest range states were satisfactory for lamb and wool production under Virginia conditions. In comparison with commercially available native ewes. These ewes, commonly known as "Northwest Blackface," became very popular as flock replacements among sheepmen in Virginia and adjoining states. Lambs of this breeding were also in strong demand among mid-western lamb feeders, as feeder lambs. Consequently, ewes of this particular cross became fairly high-priced.

The more recent study, which is reported in Bulletin 488, "Western Replacements for Virginia Flocks," aimed at comparing other kinds of western ewes available in quantity with the "Northwest Blackface" for suitability as replacements in Virginia.

The researchers found that from the standpoint of lamb production, Suffolk x Rambouillet ewes from Texas were somewhat superior to the other ewes in the study in earliness of lambing, birth weight, daily gain, slaughter and carcass grades, and dressing percentage of the lambs. They were lowest in fleece weight of the four types of ewes compared.

Hampshire x Rambouillet cross-breeds from Montana, although slightly below the average of the Suffolk cross ewes in lamb performance traits, are considered quite satisfactory, and many of them have been shipped into Virginia and adjoining states. They have somewhat heavier fleeces than the Suffolk crosses.

The whiteface crossbreeds were really two types—Lincoln crosses and Columbia or Corriedale crosses. The Lincoln crosses were the less desirable, and are not especially recommended for Virginia. Their heavier fleece weights were offset by low quality and a tendency for the wool to become "cotted" or felted. The Columbia or Corriedale crosses are more desirable and approach the Hampshire crosses in lamb performance. The average lambing date of the whiteface crossbreeds was several days later than the other three groups.

Grade Rambouillet ewes are considered somewhat less desirable than the Suffolk, Hampshire, or Columbia or Corriedale crossbreeds. They were less prolific at younger ages and their lambs had the lowest growth rate, carcass grade, and carcass yield. They showed excellent fleeces both in quality and weight, but the presence of wrinkles makes shearing hard for people not accustomed to such sheep. They should be bought only at a price discount below the crossbred types.

There is little to choose among the different types of ewes on proficiency, all four groups averaging slightly more than one lamb weaned per ewe bred. In the study any loss of ewes or lambs for any cause, accidental or otherwise, was charged against the group. Much more prolific ewes may be selected by keeping back the best ewe lambs in one's flock.

For a complete report on the study, write to me for a free copy of Bulletin 488.

CLOSE ATTENTION TO DETAIL ADVISED FOR SUCCESSFUL POULTRY PRODUCTION

Close attention to details is necessary in a successful poultry business.

For instance, the agent says artificial lights in the poultry house will cause the hens to lay more eggs during the winter months when the days are short. Turn the lights on early in the morning, or by use of an alarm clock switch, to give the birds a 13 to 14-hour day.

All-night lights can be used. A 40-watt bulb suspended midway between the front and back walls about six feet above the floor at two different locations will generally give enough light for a 20 by 20-foot house. For all night lights, use two 10 or 15-watt bulbs instead of the 40-watt bulbs. It will probably pay to use artificial lights in the poultry house unless commercial layers are already producing more than 65 eggs per day per 100 birds.

Give careful attention to feeding practices, especially during cold weather, and be sure feed is not wasted. Feed a good grade of mash. Save feed by filling feed-top feeders only half full two or three times a day instead of filling open-top feeders with as much as they will hold. Raise the feeders up off the floor a little to help keep dirt and litter out of the hoppers.

To maintain or increase the body weight of the birds, and avoid sudden changes. The feeding of pellets or moist mash at noon will help bring up egg production and maintain body weight. Feeding home-grown whole grains is desirable, but don't use them until they are cured. Feeding new green grain is harmful to birds. Store feed in bins or rooms away from rats or mice. If you have a large flock, bulk feed handling will save time and energy.

Negro Athletic Council Formed In P.A. County

OCEANA. A Negro Athletic Council for Princess Anne County was formed Thursday evening at a meeting held in the recreation office. The Council is represented of all Negro community recreation committees affiliated with the County Recreation Department. Mr. H. L. Robinson was appointed Chairman and Mr. Robert Sparrow, Vice-Chairman. Other members of the council are Mr. Eric Jenkins, Kempville, Mr. Rufus Goffigan, Bayside, Mr. James Wilson, Chinese Corner. In the near future two more members will be appointed to the council, one from Seaboard and the other from Seatack.

The purpose of this council is to formulate policies and rules for all Negro county-wide athletic leagues. The first action of the council was to lay plans for Junior and Senior Basketball Leagues. The Junior League will be composed of teams from each of the Community Recreation Committees affiliated with the Recreation Department. Boys who have not reached their 14th birthday prior to January 1, 1958, are eligible to participate on teams in the league while the Senior (Mid-County) League will be open to the public, private and commercial organizations of Princess Anne County and the city of Virginia Beach desiring to organize teams. Players participating in either league must reside in Princess Anne County or Virginia Beach.

Mr. Eric Jenkins of Kempville was appointed to Commissioner of both leagues. Recreation Committees desiring to enter teams in the Junior League or public, private and commercial organizations desiring to enter teams in the Mid-County League are urged to contact Mr. Jenkins as soon as possible. Mr. Jenkins' address is Route 2, Box 318-B, 1st haven, Va. He may be reached at LO 5-0011. Both leagues are tentatively planned to get underway on or about the first week in December.

In the house two or three times a day if necessary, depending on the weather. Remove all roosters from the flock not producing hatching eggs. The roosters will eat about 35 cents worth of feed per month and give little or no return on your investment.

FORT STORY TELLINGS

TC FAMILY DAY PLANNED

The first Transportation Corps Family Day is being planned at Fort Story. Lt. Harlan F. Peterson, project officer for the event, met with battalion and Headquarters Company project officers this week to formulate plans for the occasion which will be held November 19 and 20.

The purpose of the TC Family Day will be to acquaint the wives and dependents of Transportation Corps enlisted men with the positions that their men hold, their places of duty and Fort Story in general. The wives and families will also be apprised of the many benefits derived by serving in the Army through the viewing of the Department of the Army film "A Look Ahead," and the Department's re-enlistment presentation. Capt. Eldridge Thomas, Transportation Training Command Re-enlistment Officer will come from Fort Eustis to supervise the presentation.

The wives and families will first be given a tour of the post which will include the new Capehart housing units, a ride on the DUKW amphibious truck and the BARC, a 96-ton amphibious cargo vehicle. They will eat with the men in the company dining halls. The 10th Transportation Battalion has selected the 19th of November for its Family Day, with the 14th Battalion and Headquarters Company holding theirs the 20th.

Battalion and company project officers for the event are Lt. Bruce M. Bellamy and Lt. Savario F. Barone representing the 14th Battalion; Lt. John P. Norton and Lt. William S. Woehr of the 10th Battalion; and Lt. Otis R. Bowles of Headquarters Company.

CARFAGNO NAMED TO STAFF

Fort Story Headquarters announced Friday the appointment of Maj. Joseph J. Carfagno to the staff position of S-4 (supply and logistics). Major Carfagno succeeds Lt. Col. Walter Benn who has departed the post.

Major Carfagno, a member of the Quartermaster Corps, has held several positions during his three years at the Cape Henry post. He was chief of the Consolidated Supply Division, and post Commissary Officer before being named Assistant S-4 in September.

A native of Philadelphia, Major and Mrs. Carfagno presently are living at 401 Lynnhaven Drive in Virginia Beach.

LE GAULT NAMED HEAD-QUARTERS COMMANDANT

A new commander of Fort Story's Headquarters and Headquarters Company was named Thursday by Col. George E. Woods, Jr., the post's Commanding Officer. Maj. Milton L. Le Gault, formerly Commanding Officer of the 155th Transportation Company, succeeded Maj. I. Rosenfeld who remains at Fort Story as Provost Marshal.

Major Le Gault entered the Army in September of 1938. This summer, in command of the 155th, he took part in Operation 572-East, a re-supply mission to the DEW-Line outposts in the Arctic. He and his company returned to Fort Story in October.

As Headquarters Commandant, Major Le Gault commands the staff and technical services of the 5th Transportation Terminal Command "B" and Fort Story.

NEW COMPANY COMMANDERS

Two Fort Story Lieutenants assumed command of Transportation Companies this week. First Lt. Scott Berridge took over the 558th Transportation Company of the 14th Battalion, and Second Lt. Paul D. Sims became commander of the 155th Transportation Company of the 10th Battalion.

Lt. Berridge, in assuming command of the 558th, takes over the only BARC company in the Army. The BARC (Barry Amphibious Re-supply, Cargo) is a 96-ton amphibious vehicle capable of carrying its own weight in cargo. Berridge was formerly Commanding Officer of the 347th Amphibious Truck Company. A veteran of the Korean Conflict, the Kansas native has been awarded the American Defense Service Medal, the United Nations Service Medal, and the Korean Service Medal. He entered the Army in May of 1961, and received his commission through Officers' Candidate School at Fort Sill, Okla. Lieutenant and Mrs. Berridge are living in Norfolk at 1707 Ashland Avenue.

Lieutenant Sims, a 1956 graduate of the University of Wisconsin, recently returned to Fort Story from a summer Arctic operation.

He was a ship platoon leader with the 168th in the DEW-Line re-supply mission. Prior to entering the service a year ago, Lieutenant Sims was associated with the Sims Insurance Agency in Rice Lake, Wis.

WIVES CLUB MEETS

The Fort Story Officers' Wives Club held its regular meeting at the Officers' Open Mess Wednesday evening. A business meeting and desert proceeded an informal exhibition of floral arrangement.

Mr. Herbert Harrell, Virginia Beach florist was on hand to show the arrangements which were accented towards Thanksgiving.

SCOUT LEADERS MEET AT STORY

Explorer, Scout Leaders from Norfolk held a round-table meeting Thursday evening at Fort Story Headquarters. The function of the 5th Transportation Terminal Command "B" and a brief history of the post was presented by Fort Story Information Officer, Lt. Harlan F. Peterson. The leaders were also shown a film of the DUKW amphibious truck.

The Scout leaders are holding regular meetings at various armed forces bases in the area to determine material for tours and programs to be included in future planning.

Attending Thursday's meeting were Andrew Sabol, District Scout Executive, F. L. and David Thompson of Troop 370, George Beck of Post 55, Theodore A. Jore of Post 55, and George M. Zirkle of Troop 376.

BEST MESS AWARD

Fort Story's monthly Best Mess Award for October was presented to the 612th Amphibious Truck Company Thursday by Col. George E. Woods, Jr., Post Commanding Officer.

Accepting the trophy and penant from Colonel Woods were Lt. Robert E. McCleave, Jr., Company Commander, and SFC William C. Tiller, Mess Sergeant. Accompanying Colonel Woods to the presentation were Lt. Col. C. E. A. Morgan, Fort Story Deputy Commander, and Maj. Joseph J. Carfagno, Post S-4.

Child Safety Slogan -

'A Child May Dare,
So Drive With Care'

It is confusing to know that last year 2,650 children in the 5 to 14 year age group was killed in traffic accidents. Another 150,000 were injured. These figures are confusing because these things happen in a country that is noted for its care also pampering its young.

So often faulty traffic attitudes are visited on their children. Children are more largely influenced by parents and adults practices than by preaching. First of all our behavior in traffic influences children. Secondly, adults should know the safety driving rules taught in the schools and then coordinate and back them up by home instruction. Impress upon children the danger of playing in or near the street. Train them to be skilled in the operation of things having wheels such as trucks, etc. If your child rides the school bus, teach him to observe the rules and you will have to be in contact with the school to know the rules.

In addition to what parents and adults need to do according to the National Safety Committee as mentioned above we need also to remember to keep a constant look out for children, especially near places where they play. Don't try to compete with youngsters on bikes. We can't expect their judgment to equal that of a mature driver. Consider every school bus a danger sign. Let's remember to obey the law which obligates us to stop when the bus is stopped regardless of directions. Of course we should not follow any vehicle too closely, but it is especially important that we not follow a school bus too closely.

Let's remember too, therefore, be good and have good behavior in traffic. Let's remember to back up the school in teaching safety. Let's remember and insist on children obeying safety rules regarding play area, school buses, or traffic.

Remember the slogan: A CHILD MAY DARE, SO DRIVE WITH CARE.

HOW SMALL, YET HOW BIG

How small a man seems—walking down a road on a rainy day, with gaunt trees towering over him.
How small man is, and how frail in body. The trees in the picture and even the chimneys on the old house will probably long outlive the man.

Yet how big man is—in the things that are not of the body, but are of the mind and soul. God has not made man mammoth. But He has made him potentially great—if he will but accept the blessings given him, and use the tools of Christian teachings.

Man finds in the Church, the encouragement and the instruction to enable him to make from his God-given divine spark something great and enduring—and of benefit to all human-kind.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

WOMAN'S CLUB OF ST. PIUS X CHURCH HEARS FR. DUNN

The Woman's Club of St. Pius X Catholic Church held their regular meeting Wednesday night, Nov. 6, at 8 p.m. in the Assembly Hall of the school, located on Halpern Drive and Little Creek Road. Mrs. J. Tinsman, ways and means chairman, reported that $103.00 was cleared on the recently held Card Party.

Mrs. M. Utege, hospitality chairman, reported that she made 34 visits during the month, to prospective member's homes. Mrs. A. Eichinger, parish chairman of the N.C.C.W. reported on the recently held Deanery Meeting which convened at St. Pius X Sunday afternoon, Nov. 3, at 3 p.m.

Mrs. M. Supon announced that this year the Annual Bishop's Clothing Drive will be held Thanksgiving Week. Everyone is urged to bring their out-grown clothing to church for the drive. She will need volunteers each evening of Thanksgiving Week to help sort and pack the clothing.

Mrs. B. French, who presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. J. Propster, introduced Fr. Edward, the new assistant pastor, who spoke a few words to the club.

Fr. J. P. Dunn, assistant pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Norfolk, spoke to the club on "Rome". Fr. Dunn told the group that there are some 400 churches in Rome today. The oldest being the church of St. Stephen which was founded in the year 508. According to Fr. Dunn, each of these churches has their own interesting history and there are legends about many of them.

Besides the wonderful treasures of the church that are found in Rome, Fr. also mentioned the Old Roman ruins which are visible today, side by side with the modern world. The outdoor opera which is held each summer and to which all the Italian people flock, even the children. He told of the beautiful fountains in Rome, the sidewalk cafes and of the fashions and how well dressed the ladies of Rome were. It was Fr. Dunn's privilege to have been stationed in Rome 10 years.

DUPLICATE BRIDGE CLUB OF CHESAPEAKE BEACH MET WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The Duplicate Bridge Club of Chesapeake Beach met Wednesday night, Nov. 6, at the Chesapeake Beach Community Center. First place was won by Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Sherwood; second place, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Kervin; third place, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Webber; fourth place, L. G. D. Wallace and Mrs. H. L. Hubbs.

The Duplicate Bridge Club meets each week at the Chesapeake Beach Community Center, play begins sharply at 7:30 p.m. It is held under the direction of the Recreation Department, of the Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach, with Mrs. R. J. Webber, chairman.

BAYLAKE METHODIST NEWS

Cottage Prayer Meetings were held during this past week in preparation for the Revival Service which will be held by the Baylake Methodist Church beginning Sunday, Nov. 10 and continuing through Nov. 17. Services are being held at Shelton Park School each evening at 7:30 p.m.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service held their regular meeting Thursday night, Nov. 7, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Carson Simpson, on Blackbeard Road. Mrs. Leon Everett, president, presided. Other members present were: Mrs. Frank Bednarick, Mrs. J. L. Dye, Mrs. E. T. Hamlet, Mrs. Frank Harrington, Mrs. William Huffman, Mrs. J. K. Fletcher, Mrs. J. D. Glenn, and Mrs. Joseph Prentiss. Two new members were welcomed, Mrs. Curtis Hall and Mrs. Delman Walker.

Mrs. Hamlet led the program which pertained to the students work in the church. Mrs. Frank Harrington led the devotional. The circle will have as their project for December "Christmas stockings for prisoners."

OFFICIAL BOARD OF BAYSIDE CHRISTIAN CHURCH MEETS

The first Official Board meeting of the church for the Fiscal Year was held Thursday night, Nov. 7, at 8 p.m. Mr. Joseph Hyder is the new chairman of the board.

The Layman's Fellowship of the Bayside Christian Church held a "Clean Chowder Supper" Tuesday night, Nov. 12, preceding the regular business meeting. Mr. John Baker is the president of the Fellowship.

At the Sunday morning Worship service, Troop 5 of Boy Scouts from Suffolk visited the Bayside Christian Church. There were 18 boys of Junior High School age accompanied by two adults.

BAYSIDE JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING HELD

The Bayside Junior Woman's Club held their regular meeting Wednesday night, Nov. 6, at 8 p.m. at the Bayside Christian Church with the president, Mrs. M. K. Crockett, Jr. presiding.

The club voted to continue the speech therapy for a young teen age girl they helped last year. The club made plans under the direction of Mrs. Lloyd Childress, chairman, for their annual Christmas dinner dance. It will be held December 20 at the Officers Club, Fort Story.

Following the business meeting "A White Elephant Auction" was held. $23.00 was realized from it for the club treasury.

Mr. Porteus from the Trust Department of the National Bank of Commerce spoke to the club and showed them a film on "Wills and Estates". He was introduced by Mrs. E. A. Hudson, contact chairman for the club.

Hostesses for the meeting were: Mrs. M. K. Crockett, Jr., Mrs. Edward Cummings, Mrs. Lloyd Childress and Mrs. A. Vinciguerra. Two new members were welcomed.

BAYSIDE LIONS CLUB MEETING HELD AT SHORE DRIVE INN

The Bayside Lions Club met Wednesday night, Nov. 6, at Shore Drive Inn for their regular dinner meeting. The president, R. L. Beale, presided.

Robert F. Boyd, Heart Fund Chairman of the Tidewater Heart Association and Mrs. Beatrice McKay, executive secretary of the Association were presented to the club by Mr. George Lyon, program chairman.

Mr. Boyd told of the tremendous advances which have been made by the Heart Association in the last 10 years through research, made possible by the generous contributions of Americans during the drive which is conducted each year. He told the club that more people die each year from heart disease than from all other diseases plus all traffic fatalities. There are over 16,000,000 people in our country who suffer from some form of heart disease.

Although there are great numbers of people who have heart diseases, many thousands of them can be helped to live normal lives because of the wonderful discoveries which have been made through research. Mr. Boyd told of cases in which many have been restored to health, including many "blue babies". Whereas, a few years ago about 98% of these babies were lost, now only about two per cent cannot be saved.

The Tidewater Heart Association has available for anyone who needs them a number of wheelchairs and special beds which they lend out without charge.

Following this talk Mr. Boyd and Mrs. McKay showed a film on the greatest of all killers — Atherosclerosis (Hardening of the arteries).

Walter Smith, chairman of the Education Committee, reported that his committee has recently contributed $150.00 to the three schools in the Bayside area (Shelton Park, Bayside and John B. Dey) for the purchase of library books.

Jim Jernigan, reported that advance sale of tickets for the "Turkey Shoot" which is to be held at the Walston Gun Club, Dec. 7 and 8 is progressing satisfactorily and urged every member to assist with this project.

Millard Bryant, welfare chairman, told of some families in the area which his committee has been helping and made an appeal for shoes which are needed. He also announced that the collection of toys for the Bayside Joy Fund which was postponed last Saturday due to bad weather, would be made Saturday, Nov. 9. Kelly Davis, chief of the Fire Department at the U.S. Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek, will be assisted by the Boy Scouts in gathering these toys throughout the Bayside area.

Continental Mark III Sellout In Major Cities

Complete sell-out of all available Continental Mark III models in Chicago, Detroit and several other major cities marked the most successful introduction of Continental and Lincoln cars in history last week-end, Joseph E. Bayne, general sales manager of the Lincoln and Mercury Division, announced today.

"This was the finest and most enthusiastic introduction we ever have had and more than 2,700 cars were delivered or firm orders taken during last Friday and Saturday alone," Mr. Bayne said.

So great was the demand that the Division is increasing its production schedule for Continentals. A check of the 1,200 Lincoln and Continental dealers revealed that 612,000 persons saw the new cars in dealer showrooms with hundreds of customers buying cars direct from the showroom floor.

"Dealers say their customers praise the beauty and design of the new cars and are delighted with the appreciable reduction in prices of the full line of Continentals," Mr. Bayne said.

"A new Continental Mark III two-door hardtop, for instance, has a suggested list price of $3,842 below that of its predecessor, the Continental Mark II."

In addition to Chicago, where every Continental in dealer hands was sold out by Saturday afternoon, at least four other Lincoln and Continental sales districts reported all Continentals on hand delivered, with backlogs of orders for several hundred more on hand.

ANNUAL CHURCH AFFAIR TO BE HELD SATURDAY
The annual oyster roast sponsored by the Woman's Auxiliary of Old Donation Church will be held on Saturday, November 23, it has been announced.

The annual event will again be held in the parish house of the church in Bayside. Food will be served from 12 noon until 3 p.m.

In addition to Lynnhaven oysters, Smithfield ham and apple pie there will also be a cake sale and a sale of needlework, homemade pickles, preserves and plants.

Zoning Matters Keep Board Of Supervisors Busy

Action on proposals for raising the minimum lot sizes in the North Atlantic and Little Creek areas was postponed Monday by the Princess Anne Board of Supervisors.

The board, in its monthly planning session, also decided to send back to the planning commission a proposal to increase the minimum square footage of dwellings in a part of the Great Neck area.

In the North Atlantic application, the proposal is to change the zoning so as to raise the minimum size of lots from 10,000 square feet to 30,000 square feet in an area bounded on the west by Stephen Road, on the south by Atlantic Drive and on the east and north by North Atlantic.

Local Annual Joy Fund in Progress

The annual Joy Fund for Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach got under way this week with determination to wind up with more Joy Fund contributions, toys and clothing to give to the needy than ever before.

Stressing the joy of sharing with those in need, Joy Fund officials urged that contributions be sent as early as possible in order that definite plans may be made to add to the Christmas gaiety of those unfortunate who would otherwise be neglected during the Christmas season.

Donations may be sent to the Joy Fund Committee, P. O. Box 27, Virginia Beach, Va. The co-chairman of the Joy Fund Committee stated that donations of money, clothing that can be repaired, toys of all kinds, dolls and bicycles are all wanted. Used toys of all types can be turned over to Virginia Beach firemen, who yearly have played such a large part in the success of the Joy Fund, where they are renovated and made ready for distribution to the needy.

Malcolm E. Day Attends School

Fort Stewart, Ga.—Army Pvt. Malcolm E. Day, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mebane O. Day, 203 Eighth St., Virginia Beach, Va., is receiving six weeks of gunnery training with the 25th Tank Battalion at Fort Stewart, Ga. After completion of the training, Day will return to Fort Benning, where he is a clerk in the battalion's Headquarters and Service Company. He entered the Army last June and completed basic training at Fort Jackson.

Outdoor Drama Plans Move Ahead Toward July Opening

OUTDOOR DRAMA—P ONE—Paul Green, nationally prominent playwright, has been signed to author a symphonic drama to be presented next July at a site expected to be in the vicinity of the Virginia Beach. It was announced this week by a spokesman for the project.

The play has been tentatively titled, "The Confederacy" and will naturally deal with a period of the Civil War era.

The project was originally proposed by a committee of the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce and has been developed by a group known as the Tidewater Historic Drama Association, Sidney S.

by the southern boundary of the Trant farm and its easterly projection across the south end of Little Neck.

In the Great Neck area, the proposal is to increase the minimum of 1,200 square feet for a dwelling unit to 1,500 square feet for the first story in property bounded on the north by Long Creek Canal, on the west and south by the Lynnhaven River and the northern boundary of the Woodhouse property and on the east by State Rt. 615.

A delegation from the Tidewater Home Builders Assn. appeared at the board meeting to protest the rezoning. The planning commission has named a special committee to consult with the builders before final action is taken on the proposals.

Approved were: Rezoning from residence suburban 3 to general commercial 1 at the northeast corner of the Laskin Road and the eastern shore road.

Rezoning from residence suburban 4 to limited commercial 2 on the south side of the Shore Drive near Pleasant House Road. Use permit for a non-profit club in Princess Anne Hills Park adjacent to Ralney's Gut on Crystal Lake.

Use permit for a marina on property east of U.S. 60 adjacent to the Naval Amphibious Base at Little Creek.

In an executive session, the board considered three matters, which will be voted upon at the board's monthly business meeting next Monday at 10 a.m.

They concern a new sewerage system for county-owned buildings on "Court House Hill" here, fire escapes for the County Court building and representation at the next meeting of the juvenile Detention Home study group.

Seahawks Top Windsor, 41-0

The Virginia Beach Seahawks went on a scoring spree last Friday night and completely outclassed a game but outmanned Windsor eleven, 41 to 0. It was the second victory of the season for the local club.

Skip Jones and Norman Morse tallied two touchdowns each to lead the Hawks to their second conference win.

Jones plunged one yard for the first score in the first period after a 60-yard pass-run play from Jones to Morse set up the touchdown.

Virginia Beach opened up in the third quarter, scoring three times. Morse raced around his right end for 23 yards and tally, then banged three yards for another later in the period.

Quarterback Charlie Krummel, who kicked four out of five extra points, went 29 yards for the other touchdown.

Group Seeks Ultimate Yacht Basin at Rudee

Allocation of the Lesner Bridge drawspan for future use over Rudee Inlet is being sought by a Beach residents interested in promoting Rudee Inlet as a marina site and small boat harbor.

Three businessmen, Joe Crosswhite, W. K. McDonald and Walter Carson, have received the assurance of the Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors that the board will ask the State Highway Commission to hold the draw for use at Rudee after the Lesner Bridge is dismantled. The bridge is to be torn down upon completion of the new highway bridge over Lynnhaven Inlet.

Crosswhite and his copartners in the endeavor presented a petition signed by about 135 residents of the Virginia Beach-Rudee Heights area to the board Monday through another interested boatman, Mason Gamage, director of the county Planning Commission. He introduced the petition as an individual, however.

Gamage and the backers of the petition look forward to development of Rudee Inlet as a haven for commercial fishing boats, charter boats and privately owned pleasure craft. They even look far into the future, and foresee the day when the inlet will be connected to the creek behind the American Legion Club on Laskin Road (which leads into Linkhorn Bay) and to the south end of Owl Creek, which would provide connections with Back Bay.

Such channels as would be needed have to be dug between Rudee and the creeks but, according to the promoters of the idea, would attract hundreds of north-south bound pleasure craft to Virginia Beach, opening a new industry and adding to attractions at the resort in the spring, fall and winter, now off-season months for motel and hotel operators in particular.

Bank of Virginia Beach May Begin Employee Profit Plan

The Bank of Virginia Beach, through its board of directors, has declared a regular semiannual dividend of five per cent and an extra dividend of two and one-half per cent, according to an announcement by E. H. Church, president.

The newest dividends brings to a total of 12 and one-half per cent dividends for the current year. The dividends approved last week are payable on December 6, 1957, to stockholders on record on November 25, 1957.

Church reported also that he had presented a profit-sharing retirement plan to the directors and that the plan was approved in principle. Further action on the matter is expected to be taken at the December meeting.

Church stated that the bank had enjoyed a very good business year and that earnings before taxes were up approximately 10 per cent. He reported excellent growth in deposits.

The Bank of Virginia Beach was founded in 1945 with an original capitalization of $150,000. Deposits presently total approximately $10,000,000. The Bank of Virginia Beach is the only home owned bank in the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne County area.

An award of $40,000 in personal injury damages was handed down in the Princess Anne Circuit Court Monday. It is believed to be one of the largest such awards ever to be handed down in the county court here.

The case in point was one involving Catherine Conners against W. T. Trimmer, Sr. Both parties reside in Virginia Beach.

Miss Conners, a 21-year-old employee of Mrs. Moore's Bakery, contended that she had suffered 30 per cent loss of her right arm as a result of injuries received when she was a passenger in a truck owned by Trimmer on November 20, 1956.

Richard G. Bridges, attorney, represented Miss Conners and W. C. Pender was the attorney for the defendant. Motion was made to set the verdict aside. The motion is to be heard later by Judge Henry W. MacKenzie, Jr.

Visitor

Mrs. Emily Hamlin Winters, of the Cooper Apartments in Annapolis, Md., has returned after a month's stay at the Waverley Hotel. Mrs. Winters is the mother of Captain Theodore Hugh Winters, U. S. Navy, and the sister of Admiral (RET) Melvin H. Bassett, U. S. Navy. Her brother, Lt. Eugene Bassett was a flier in World War I, graduating with Mr. Rickenbacker.

Lt. Bassett was killed while visiting Mrs. Winters in the Bremer Navy Yard in 1928. Mrs. Winters is the widow of Commander Theodore Hugh Winters, U. S. Navy who was drowned in the St. Johns River in Florida in 1943.

County School Board Gives Approval for New Building

Projected construction of a new elementary school in the Kempsville Magisterial District of Princess Anne County moved ahead another step Tuesday.

By a unanimous vote, the County School Board approved a $504,000 budget for the school, most of it in Federal funds already allocated by the U.S. Office of Education.

Available in Federal funds is $453,600, consisting of a new $393,000 grant and a $90,000 carry-over from the new Araxona Elementary School in Araxona Village.

The new school, as yet unnamed, will be identical to the Araxona facility, which had a general contract price of $430,590.

The budget for the new facility sets construction costs at $445,000, which may be reduced to somewhere near the cost at Araxona.

Other savings also may be effected in the tentative cost budget of $504,000, Division School Supt. Frank W. Cox told the board.

Requirements of Federal school aid law, however, are for adoption of the budget at that figure, with local funds pledged to make up the difference between the budget and the Federal money available.

The difference is $50,400, a maximum figure. With expected reductions in costs, the amount of local funds eventually to be required may be considerably less than that.

Cox said he hoped to start construction of the building early next year. It is expected to be available next September, he said.

He declined to disclose publicly the site of the new school.

Gay Lighting Underway Here

Virginia Beach will again have Santa Claus and Christmas lighting decorations thanks to a combined effort by the Chamber of Commerce, the Retail Merchants Association and the City of Virginia Beach.

City Council Monday approved $500 for the special Christmas program and the Chamber of Commerce and RMA each appropriated $750 to finance the project.

During the special event season stores will remain open at night to permit leisurely shopping and special store decorations are being planned.

Workers began the installation of special Christmas lights in the business district Wednesday.

"Pancake Day" Today

Mayor Frank A. Dusch is shown getting ready to sample a pancake made by Mrs. A. N. Ballance. It is all a part of "Pancake Day" being observed today in Virginia Beach in an annual event sponsored by the Exchange Club. until after he consults today with State school officials in Richmond.

In other action, the board suggested to a Negro delegation from Seale Elementary School that a first-grade class be placed on a double shift to relieve overcrowding of which the delegation complained.

Also suggested was moving part of the grade into a room now being used for retarded children, the only such special training being offered in any school in the county.

Total enrollment at Seale is 809, for an average of 38-plus per teacher.

"Taken as a whole," Cox told the delegation, "this school averages less per teacher than any other in the system."

He said he had discussed split shifts previously with the Negro school patrons but they had said they did not want them under any condition because so many mothers are employed and away from the home all day.

The delegation said it would report the suggested plans for relieving crowded conditions to the next meeting of the Parent-Teacher Assn.

Fuller Moore Voice Contest Winner Here

Fuller Moore, Jr., 16-year-old 12th grade student at Virginia Beach High School won first place honors in the annual Virginia Beach Voice of Democracy contest sponsored by the resort city's Junior Chamber of Commerce. Young Moore, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fuller Moore, Sr., of 20th and Oceanfront, will represent the city in the State Finals next month.

Moore won out over Sue Williams and Anthony LaGigia who placed second and third, respectively.

While officials were awaiting the decision of the judges, Mrs. Barbara Owens, Mrs. Anne Posey, Mrs. Lloyd Kitchen and Miss Marion Hoback, all teachers at the school, Principal James A. Johnson introduced Mr. William Kellam who presented the school with a 500 dollar check from the Ruritan Club to be used for the various school activities.

A tape recording of Moore's script will be entered in the State Voice of Democracy competition. The winner in the State contest will be eligible to receive an all-expense trip to the National Voice of Democracy Contest Awards program held annually in Washington, D. C., in February.

Each of the finalists were awarded radios by Johnson right after the contest and will receive Joyce keys and certificates from Joyce contest chairman Bob Gheez at the Voice of Democracy banquet Tuesday, November 26th at the Paramount Restaurant.

Strickler New Kiwanis Club Head for 1958

Millard P. Strickler has been elected president of the Kiwanis Club of Virginia Beach for the 1957-1958 year. It has been announced by a club spokesman.

Strickler, assistant superintendent of schools for Princess Anne County, is a charter member of the local Kiwanis Club. He will succeed F. Reid Ervin.

Other new officers elected include F. B. Wilbert, vice president; and William Rosenberg as secretary-treasurer.

NEW FIGURES PAYABLE NEXT DECEMBER, '58

The Virginia Beach City Council Monday appointed a five-man Tax Reassessment and Equalization Board and names James A. Beasley, Norfolk businessman and a resident of Cavalier Shores, as its chairman.

Other members of the new Board include Charles H. Foran, Virginia Beach candy manufacturer, John E. Fitzgerald, laundry operator, Garland Taylor, hotel operator, and William K. MacDonald, manager of a building supplies firm.

Council created the Board in adoption of an ordinance making legal a general reassessment that has been under way since March. The general reassessment is expected to be completed early next year. The new assessments usually will go into effect Jan. 1, 1958, and taxes based on the new formula will be payable in December of that year.

In other action, council extended the city's fire district to include the business and hotel and motel areas as defined under the city's new master zoning plan. The extension was a resolution asking Gov. Stanley to reopen a highway through Camp Pendleton.

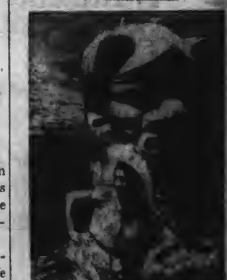

The extension of the fire district, according to City Engineer Charles Kiley, who is also secretary of the planning commission, prohibits the construction of frame buildings within those areas.

Census Bureau Collects Facts On Employment

Facts on employment and unemployment will be collected from a number of local families during the week of November 18 in the Current Population Survey, according to Supervisor Joseph R. Norwood of the Census Bureau's regional office at Charlotte, N. C., which will participate in the survey. Information collected locally is combined with facts obtained in other parts of the country to provide national statistics.

The Current Population Survey, conducted on a sample basis for more than a decade by the Census Bureau, provides up-to-date national estimates on employment and unemployment and also related population characteristics information such as the number of persons who are not working because they are in school, retired or unable to work; the availability of manpower for both defense and civilian production; and similar facts. Industry, labor and government are constantly using this information in planning various kinds of programs and in measuring the general level of business activity.

Current Population Survey information will be collected locally by Mrs. Geneva J. Thomas, 832 Alma Drive, Norfolk 3, Virginia and Mrs. Daisy S. Wilroy, 111 Chester Street, Norfolk 1, Virginia.

New Chryslers, Imperials Have Excellent Acceptance

Indications of strong continuing public acceptance of advanced FlightSweep styling was revealed today as first retail delivery figures on 1958-model Chrysler and Imperial automobiles were reported by Clare E. Briggs, vice president in charge of sales, Chrysler Division.

Dealers delivered 1,001 new Imperials to customers in the first 10 days of November, up 318.4 per cent over the 241 deliveries during the same period a year ago. Many dealers reported a sell-out of all their new models.

Chrysler retail deliveries for the first 10 days of November totaled 2,292, up 22.4 per cent over the 1,872 delivered in the first 10 days of November 1956. Mr. Briggs said dealers have had one of the smoothest clean-ups since World War II, with comparatively few 1957 units still available around the country. Dealer orders for the 1958 Chrysler Windsor, introduced in a lower-price field, are more than double a year ago at this time. Mr. Briggs said all indications are that the Windsor will prove a substantially higher-volume car than in 1956 and 1957.

Chesapeake Beach Club Hears Richard B. Kellam

There is a greater demand today than ever before for the making of wills according to Richard B. Kellam, Norfolk attorney. Addressing the monthly meeting of the Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club on Tuesday, Nov. 12, at the Community Center, Mr. Kellam said that higher and more complicated taxes are responsible for this, as tax benefits can often be derived through proper will making.

At the same time, Mr. Kellam pointed out, the simplest will gives survivors complete protection, provided it is written in the maker's own handwriting, signed by him, and dated. A widow now has adequate protection in the inheritance of real property in the absence of a will, due to a 1956 Virginia law which provides that she inherit after her children. Prior to this statute, she received all income from such property, inheriting outright only after children, brothers and sisters, and finally parents, Mr. Kellam said.

Mrs. O. T. Edmondson, president, presided at the meeting. Mrs. H. W. Fulford, garden chairman, announced that the club again would sponsor a Christmas doorway decoration contest. Mrs. W. W. Stanfield, welfare chairman, announced that $172 had been collected by club members for the Community Chest. The third and final polo immunization clinic will be held Dec. 3, according to Mrs. R. J. Webbon, health and recreation chairman. This is highly important as the third shot establishes immunity, and may also be used as a first or second injection by those who have not attended the whole series. The charge is $1. Mrs. Webbon also announced that the Chesapeake Beach Recreation Committee would sponsor ball room dancing instruction for pre-teens and bridge instruction for teen-agers. The woman's club is working in cooperation with this committee, a participating unit in the county recreation program. Growth and progress for the Duplicate Bridge Club likewise was reported.

Mrs. T. B. Petty, American Home chairman, announced that the club would participate in the Vogue Pattern contest and called for qualified sewers to enter.

A report on the district meeting in Portsmouth was submitted by Mrs. W. H. Gaylord.

Mrs. W. B. Meekins discussed the work of Girl Scout Troop 202, which is sponsored by the Woman's Club. The importance of teacher recruitment was emphasized by Mrs. E. A. Hudson, education chairman who also served as program chairman for the meeting.

The business meeting was preceded by a candle-lighting ceremony; during which the club's choral group recited the club collect, under the leadership of Mrs. Gaylord, and Thanksgiving songs were sung, accompanied by Mrs. Luther Digs. Other members of the group were Mrs. Hudson, Mrs. R. J. Vellines, Mrs. F. Harrington, Mrs. J. A. Bibla and Mrs. W. D. Brooks.

Hostesses for the meeting, who served refreshments, were Mrs. L. E. Ledington, Mrs. R. L. Beale, Mrs. R. M. Clifton, Mrs. P. T. Price, Mrs. Frederick Rieder and Mrs. Stanfield. Decorations featured the Thanksgiving theme.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

Interesting Figures

The phrase adopted several years ago by the SUN-NEWS and which appears each week on page one that this newspaper serves "Virginia's Fastest Growing County" continues to receive support with figures. The latest such figures were prepared by and released recently by Sales Management, nationally known marketing magazine.

Sales Management cites the growth of the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne area for the 1950-1960 decade. It cites that Princess Anne County shows the greatest rate of growth of the various subdivisions making up the metropolitan area.

The figures reveal for Princess Anne County a population increase of 135 per cent, retail sales of 178 per cent and net income of 230 per cent. For the State the magazine forecasts a 20 per cent population increase, a 70 per cent increase in retail sales and a 76 per cent increase in retail sales.

In analyzing these figures it would indicate that the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne County area for the period is three times more than the average for the State as a whole. It is well ahead of its neighbors in all categories.

It is extremely interesting to note that while the State net income figure shows a 76 per cent increase during the period the net increase for our area is 230 per cent.

The SUN-NEWS truly serves "Virginia's Fastest Growing County."

The Annual Joy Fund

The annual Christmas Joy Fund for Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County is now underway and from all indications it has had a very slow start. This is not good and if allowed to continue would spoil Christmas and the holiday season for many needy families and individuals.

The Joy Fund has always, in the past, brought much happiness to many people and we are certain that the good folks of Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach will not forget this very worthy fund this year.

It is not only money that is need to meet the requirements of our community but officials state that there have been few toys turned into the fire department for repair and renovation. The members of the Virginia Beach fire department are anxious for toys of all types now so that they will have time to repair them to make it a merry Christmas for some under-privileged youngster.

The call is now to aid the Joy Funds. Open up your hearts and your pocketbooks so that the Joy Fund will not fail. We know that it will not, but giving should begin at once.

Be A Member

Be a member of the community in which you live is a statement filled with much meaning, but there are many persons who do not realize, or who do not practice its meaning.

Just living in a community is not necessarily being a member of that community. A pamphlet published by Tidings, of Nashville, Tennessee, is the inspiration for this article. The Tidings pamphlet applied to church membership but its message can be equally applied to your community.

By just being present in a community does not mean too much. A person must take part in community affairs and actually become a part of his community. There seems to be too many persons, today, who have moved about in this country, but who do not feel a part of the community in which they live.

There are many who reside in one community but who patronize merchants and shops in another city. Their children go to school here, they use the local post office, they live here and pay taxes here, but do not actually support their community as they should.

This season of the year would be a perfect time for those who have not become real members of their community to become one now by shopping in local stores for the gift buying season that is upon us. Support your neighbor and join with him in pride of your community. Be a member of the community where you live.

Help for Mother When Baby Is Ill

Ignorance and fear go hand in hand, and fear can become terror in the heart of a young mother who looks into the crib of a sick child without knowing what to do.

Fortunately, mothers no longer need to undergo this kind of panic. A book just recently published, "A Parent's Guide to Children's Illnesses," by Dr. John Henderson, describes in simple, layman's language the symptoms of all the most commonly en-

D. Austin Smith, distinguished editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, in a preface says: "Dr. Henderson has written a book to help bring peace of mind to those who truly desire understanding of medical problems. In fact, the first aid measures in this book alone may be life saving."

The changing patterns of the health hazards in childhood are reflected in the emphasis which Dr. Henderson, an international authority and Johnson & Johnson's Medical Director, places on what to do in case of accidents which today kill more children than all other causes combined. However, he doesn't neglect a careful description of the age-old contagions, congenital defects, home nursing procedures — in fact, every possible childhood ailment from diaper rash to polio and what the enlightened parent should do about it.

The new guide is unique among such books in that it includes 27 illustrations in color of skin conditions which any mother should be able to immediately recognize, as well as more than one hundred line drawings graphically illustrating what to do when accidents strike or other health emergencies arise.

Conveniently pocket-sized and easy to use, "A Parent's Guide to Children's Illnesses" was published by Bantam Books. A hard-cover edition will soon be available.

Hampton-Sydney College in Virginia, established in 1776, six months before the Declaration of Independence, is one of the nation's colonial colleges with a tradition of developing Christian scholarship and character.

Farmers Sustain America's Greatness

By WILLIAM D. POE

Editor, Progressive Farmer

"Farmers are inefficient. They've made food prices outrageously high at the same time they've piled up big surpluses. My family, my business, and I myself would be a lot better off if there weren't so many farmers living on Government handouts!"

We were shocked to hear a city businessman make the above statement recently. But on second thought, it doesn't seem strange that he did. Farmers and farm organizations—indeed, farm magazines themselves—have failed to keep people in town informed about the problems farmers are facing and the job they are doing. And the Secretary of Agriculture, who might be expected to serve as an effective spokesman for farmers, seems to be determined to use the vast publicity powers of his office to discredit them.

In order to provide for a clearer understanding of the problems of people and farmers, Nov. 22-28 has been proclaimed as Farm-City Week" by President Eisenhower. Annual observance of this event was inaugurated by Congress in 1956, following a long agitation by The Progressive Farmer supported by other agricultural groups.

To city folks who know who may be as misinformed about farmers as the businessman we quoted, here are eight facts you can pass on to stimulate the spirit of understanding to which Farm-City

Week is dedicated:

1. America's farmers have increased their efficiency faster than any other group—in 1900, one farmer could feed only himself and seven other people. . . . In 1950, a farmer could feed only himself and 10 others. . . . Today a farmer can feed himself and 21 others. No other industry in America can show such a fantastic increase in efficiency as this. And it is only because of agriculture's phenomenal increase in efficiency that millions of workers could be released from the fields to go into factories and produce the automobiles, bathtubs, television sets, and all the countless other goods that have made America's living standard the envy of the world.

2. Farmers have been penalized for their increased efficiency—Unlike manufacturers and laboring groups, which have profited from their increased efficiency, farmers have been penalized for theirs. In 1947, when America's gross national product (total value of everything produced) was $232 billion, farmers received gross income of $34 billion—15% of the total. Last year, America's gross national product was $415 billion, but farmers got only $34 billion of it—8% of the total. . . . In 1947, farmers' net income of $17 billion was 9% of the nation's total national income. Last year, farmers' $13 billion net income was only 4% of the national income. . . . Persons in nonfarm work and services last year averaged earnings

$2,018 each, as compared with only $902 for farmers.

3. Farmers are customers for both consumption goods and production goods—The farmer is America's No. 1 customer for goods made by American industry and labor. That's because he's a "double-barreled customer." Whereas the average city man buys only consumer goods—food, clothing, refrigerators, and other such items—the farmer buys both consumer goods and production goods. Last year, the nation's 5,311,000 farm families spent more money for family living alone than the total retail sales of New York and Chicago. Farmers also spent $24 billion for supplies, equipment, and other costs of operation. . . . Only $600, or about 1% went to farmers. Nearly two-thirds of the $1,500, or $900, went to middlemen between the farmer and consumer. Since 1947, the annual amount spent on food has increased $300 per family, but the farmer's share in 1956 was actually $9 less than it was in 1947. The increase went to processors and middlemen. Farmers are being attacked unjustly for high food prices, for which city food processors and middlemen are clearly responsible.

4. Farmers are producing cheap food for which city folks are paying high prices—Last year the average American family spent $1,500 for food. Of that amount, only $600, or about 40%, went to farmers. Nearly two-thirds of the $1,500, or $900, went to middlemen between the farmer and consumer. Since 1947, the annual amount spent on food has increased $300 per family, but the farmer's share in 1956 was actually $9 less than it was in 1947. The increase went to processors and middlemen. Farmers are being attacked unjustly for high food prices, for which city food processors and middlemen are clearly responsible.

5. Farmers have subsidized cities rather than being subsidized themselves—So-called "subsidies" paid farmers have amounted to far less than "tax writeoffs" granted industry, "depletion allowances" given oil producers, and minimum wage benefits provided laborers. . . . In fact, farmers have actually subsidized our cities. Our rural communities have educated boys and girls at high cost and then shipped them off to the cities to become taxpayers. Farmers have nurtured and sustained our nation's population growth from 77 million in 1900, to 88% lived on the farm, to 171 million today, of whom only 13% live on the farm. The productive power of our nation's farms has been magnificent, not only in turning out cotton and cattle and wheat. The priceless product of our farms has been the very soil which we live and work in our cities today.

6. Farmers are a barrier to possible excess of "Big Business" or "Big Labor"—A farmer is a "three-armed man." He combines in himself the functions of 1) capital, 2) management, and 3) labor. He understands the problems of the city investor, businessman, and laborer. The farmer is ready to deal with each of these groups and pay it a fair price for services rendered. He is a loyal customer when properly treated. But farmers will not long tolerate injustice. In the past, they have used the weapon of cooperation to combat unscrupulous credit terms and high prices for inferior equipment, supplies, and services. And "part-time farmers," particularly the countless thousands of farm in the South today, pose the strongest obstacle to spread of corrupt unionism. When farmers work in a factory, they believe in giving a full day's work for a day's pay. "Part-time farmers" are setting production records in industry which are making the nation's rural areas—particularly those in Dixie—the best paying outlet for growth of the nation's manufacturing plants.

7. Farmers are the most effective force of communism—Russia has made important contributions to America in terms of service by its graduates. In government it has trained one president, William Henry Harrison, two cabinet members, four foreign ministers, ten United States Senators, eleven governors, and many members of the House of Representatives.

In an America that is becoming brittle with the twin diseases of urbanization and industrialization, it is vital that our rural heritage be sustained to give our nation the stamina, strength, and tranquility that it can gain from no other source. Our farmers not only feed the stomach of America, they also nurture its heart, its conscience, and its faith.

News for Veterans

Mary F. Carper, Jr., Director of the Virginia Division of War Veterans Claims, a State agency which assists veterans and survivors to obtain their lawful benefits, announces the following information of interest from his office in Roanoke.

A recent report by the Defense Department covering the operation of the Dependents' Medical Care Program from its beginning on December 7, 1956 to June 30, 1957 shows that it has been well accepted by civilian doctors and hospitals, and that it has reached dependents of service-

In the Virginia this program has been especially helpful to the families of service people living in the western part of the state, because most service facilities are in the east. The program was designed to induce reenlistments by adding to family security, but the Defense Department in its report did not comment on this phase, probably because it is too early yet to assess its worth toward decisions for careers in service.

Thomas A. Moore, Norfolk service officer for the Division, at 203 City Hall Avenue, will be pleased to assist and advise any person concerning veterans' affairs. Moore visits the Community House, 19th & Arctic, from 11 AM to 3 PM, on the second and fourth Thursdays each month.

A new 120-man Air Force Academy choral group will make its first public appearance away from its Denver headquarters on Monday morning, November 11, when it will take part in a Veterans Day ceremony at Arlington National Cemetery.

Harvey V. Hickey, Administrator of Veterans Affairs and chairman of the Veterans Day National Committee, said the choral group, directed by James R. Boyd, the Academy's organist and choirmaster, will sing several selections at a memorial observance honoring the Unknown Soldier.

The group, now going into its second year, adds a touch of "new" to yearly ceremony that dates back more than a generation. Ever since the end of World War I, nearly 40 years ago, homage has been paid to the Unknown Soldier on November 11—first when the day was known as Armistice Day, and in more recent years when it was changed by Congress to Veterans Day.

At 11:00 AM, a Presidential wreath will be placed at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, as "taps" sounds across the rolling countryside.

Following will be a brief program, with Ernest Glynn, long active in the Disabled American Veterans, as master of ceremonies. In addition to the choral group and a number of eminent speakers, the Air Force Band, led by Colonel George S. Howard, will play. At the conclusion of the program, another Veterans wreath will be placed at the tomb.

Since Veterans Day was first established by Congress in 1954, the nation's major veterans' organizations have been taking turns as hosts of the Arlington Cemetery ceremonies. This year's host organization is the Disabled American Veterans.

From The South Pasadena Review, South Pasadena, Calif.: The eagle is America's proud symbol, and with good reason. He is an educated bird in the sense that he knows what he has to do, when it ought to be done, whether he likes it or not.

Consider, for a moment, the vast difference between the eagle and the clam. The clam appears to lead a fairly cozy existence. He has only to open his house to take in his food and close it to keep out his enemies. He seems to have perfect social security, but no. The eagle sets his wings so that the very fury of the storm lifts him higher, and still higher, above the storm, into the sunlight.

Is there any wonder the eagle is never been a nation that lived within its shell. We have been a nation that strove to rise, even in the face of adversity, politically, economically, spiritually — and that is the way of the eagle.

From The Tri-County News, South Bend, Indiana: Many men and women, facing difficulty in finding employment because of their age, insist that business and industry are making a serious mistake in stressing age in connection with employment. These "unwanted" workers denounce the "prejudice against age" and assert that most older employees, through the benefit of past experience, can be both productive and profitable to their employers. They intimate that age, experience and dependability are assets which often more than offset the pep, enthusiasm, exuberance and inexperience of younger workers.

Some years ago, when a society began to worry about the fate of workmen, the theory was advanced, and somewhat widely accepted that old-age pensions would be the solution to this problem.

Now, with old-age security and a steadily extending program of industrial pensions, the sociologists are not quite sure that the desires of all people can be taken care of by an old-age pension.

Adequate Fertilizer Is the Key

BLACKSBURG — Good management and adequate fertilizer is the key to successful farming, according to R. A. Lyon of Spring Grove, Va. Edgar Rawls, County Agent in Surry County, reports that Mr. Lyon has increased the yield of peanuts from 1,700 pounds to 2,850 pounds per acre and corn yields from 40 to 80 bushels per acre since purchasing his farm in 1950.

"Mr. Lyon uses a three year rotation for all of row crops. Peanuts are his main cash crop, so corn, small grain and soybeans are rotated with this crop," says Mr. Rawls. "Cover crops, important in building up soil fertility, are used each year."

"Soil tests are taken each year on fields going in peanuts. An 0-10-20 fertilizer as needed according to soil tests is applied to the cover crop each year and turned under for peanuts. Land plaster at the rate of 50 pounds is used as a source of calcium. Corn is fertilized with 800 pounds of 5-10-10 plus 100 to 125 pounds of nitrogen."

Skipping on fertilizer is one thing that isn't allowed on Mr. Lyon's farm. He has found out that plenty of fertilizer has no substitute. You can't grow crops without fertilizer no matter how hard you try, says Mr. Lyon, and if you have to work a crop you had just as well work one that will make you some money.

Cardinal Garden Club Hears Mrs. Mabel Davis

The November meeting of the Cardinal Garden Club of Bird-neck Point was held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Field on Oriole Drive on Tuesday morning, November 12th.

Mrs. Mabel Davis of Ocean View demonstrated how various affective table arrangements could be made using driftwood, fruit, foliage and flowers.

The club voted to send gifts to some aged and needy folks at Christmas time.

The members will decorate their tables, doorways, and mantles for Christmas judging.

Mrs. J. W. Field was hostess with W. A. Green as co-hostess.

C. F. Saunders Retires Nov. 30

Clements F. Saunders' retirement on November 30 will bring to a close a 16-year Civil Service career. Mr. Saunders is retiring from the Norfolk Naval Supply Center.

He first worked for the government at the Norfolk Naval Shipyard in 1917. His Federal work also includes employment with the Army Engineers at Fort Story and the Quartermaster Corps at Camp Pendleton.

Mr. Saunders transferred from Camp Pendleton to NSC in 1942. He was promoted to leadingman laborer a few months later and to quartermaster laborer in 1943. He was re-rated a leadingman after World War II.

Mr. Saunders was recently re-rated a warehouseman in the Center's Provisions Supply Depot. He lives at 303 23rd St., Virginia Beach.

Site for Nuclear Power Station On Broad River in South Carolina

The site for the nuclear power plant which the Carolinas Virginia Nuclear Power Associates, Inc. proposes to build, will be on the Broad River at Parr, South Carolina, approximately twenty-five miles north of Columbia.

Norman A. Cooke, president of CVNPA and chief executive of Duke Power Company, said in making the announcement today that the Parr site has been selected and recommended to the board of directors of the CVNPA after months of studying locations in both the Carolinas and Virginia by Stone and Webster Engineering Corp., architect-engineers; the General Nuclear Engineering Corp., consultants on nuclear science problems and Westinghouse Electric Corporation, equipment manufacturer.

In their recommendation to the board, they pointed out the numerous geographic and economic advantages afforded by the Parr site. The site selected is adjacent to the steam and hydro plant of South Carolina Gas and Electric Company, a member of CVNPA, and is a location that has previously been considered by the Atomic Energy Commission, from the standpoint of safety and other features as being a favorable location for the construction of an atomic power plant.

The proposal of the four-company group is now before the AEC and must have the approval of the AEC and a special congressional committee before construction of the plant can be begun. It calls for a prototype heavy-water cooled and heavy-water moderated reactor fueled with a slightly enriched uranium. Due to the uncertainty with regard to the amount of research which will be required, no definite cost has been estimated but it is thought it will approximate 17-million or more.

In making its proposal to the AEC on August 29, CVNPA said that the successful development and operation of this plant could lead to the construction of large scale plants by the individual associates in their respective service areas.

The target date for placing the plant in operation is 1962 in compliance with a phase of the AEC's Atomic Reactor Research and Development Program, Mr. Cooke said.

In addition to South Carolina Gas and Electric Company, the CVNPA group is comprised of Virginia Electric and Power Company; Carolina Power and Light Company and Duke Power Company.

Family Atom Bomb Shelter To Cost $3,300

WASHINGTON — The Civil Defense Administration took the wraps off its $3,300 "family" A-bomb shelter and a top official called for a program to encourage widespread construction.

The shelter, tested at the Nevada proving grounds nuclear tests, features thick concrete walls, sturdy doors and an escape hatch, air ventilation and supplies for a family of six for two weeks.

It is designed for safety against nuclear blasts, thermo radiation, fallout and chemical and biological warfare. It must be placed in the ground.

La. Gen. Clarence J. Huebner, president of the National Association of Civil Defense Directors, predicted that without shelters 95 per cent of the U.S. population will die in a nuclear war.

"If I'm still in civil defense, I'll help bury them or help bring them to the hospital," Huebner said, "but they'll get no sympathy from me."

The general director of the New York State Civil Defense program, replied, "of course," when asked whether officials actually want families to spend $3,300 for shelters.

The Association of State and Territorial Civil Defense directors met in Washington to discuss planning for future activities. The new family shelter was presented by federal authorities for the first time.

Huebner said that the "average" family garage costs about $2,000 "just to protect your car." He said families spend money for guest rooms or recreation rooms which could go into shelter programs.

Sea Foods Provide Vitamins and Variety In Meals

One of the foods which is plentiful in our area of Virginia is seafood. This group of protein foods furnishes us with good proteins, minerals, and vitamins which we need and at the same time provides varieties to our meals.

An average portion of fish or shellfish provides nearly all the animal proteins that you need every day to build and repair tissues. In addition, fish are sources of calcium, iron and copper. In addition to these minerals, several vitamins are also supplied by fish foods. For families that include children and elderly people, fish is an excellent choice because it is easily digested.

Fish also is easy to cook. If you are broiling, baking or poaching lean fish it is best to broil it with fat to avoid dryness. Fish require little cooking because they are tender by nature. The only exercise fish engage in is swimming and this does not develop tough muscles.

Another advantage of using fish is that fish prices are easy on your budget. Of course, some fish foods are less expensive than others and you can choose one which fits what you have to spend. Following are three recipes from the U. S. Department of Interior. The entire booklet may be had by writing the Princess Anne Extension Office or the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

OVEN FRIED FISH

2 lbs. fillets, steaks or portion of fish
1 tablespoon salt
1 cup milk
1/4 cup butter or other fat melted
1 cup dry bread crumbs
Cut fillets into serving-size portions. Add salt to milk; dip fillets in milk and roll in crumbs; place in a well-greased baking pan. Bake in an extremely hot oven 500 degrees F. for 10 to 12 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Serves 6.

PLANKED FISH
3 or 4 lbs. dressed fish
1 1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1/4 cup butter or other fat melted

Seasoned mashed potatoes
Seasoned cooked vegetables (peas, carrots, cauliflower, tomatoes or onions).

If hardwood planks are used, oil well and place in a cold oven to heat while oven preheats. Clean, wash, and dry fish. Sprinkle inside and out with salt and pepper. Brush with butter. Place fish on plank or well-greased oven glass platter. Bake in a hot oven 400 degrees F. for 35 to 45 minutes until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Remove from oven, quickly arrange boarder of mashed potatoes around fish. Place in a broiler until potatoes are slightly browned about 5 minutes. Remove; arrange two or more hot vegetables around fish. Serves 6.

SCALLOP KABOBS

1 lb. scallops
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 1/2 cups pineapple chunks drained
1/4 cup butter or other fat melted
10 slices bacon
1/2 teaspoon paprika
Remove any shell particles from scallops. Cut large scallops in half. Combine butter and seasonings. Dip scallops in butter mixture. Fry bacon slowly until cooked but not crisp. Drain on absorbent paper. Cut in thirds, crosswise. Using 6 long skewers 7 1/2 inches each. Alternate scallops, bacon, and pineapple until skewers are filled. Place skewers across a baking pan 10x14 1/2 inches. Bake in a very hot oven 450 degrees F. for 20 to 25 minutes turning once during baking to brown the other side. Serves 6.

Service Officer Here Thursday

T. A. Moore of the Division of War Veterans' Claims, a Virginia State Agency, under Attorney General Almond, will interview veterans, servicemen, or their widows, orphans, and dependent parents, on the usual bi-monthly trip to the Beach on Wednesday, Nov. 27, 1957. He will be at the Community House, 18th and Arctic, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. only. Service is free.

Moore's regular trip is on the second and fourth Thursdays each month; however, since Nov. 28 is Thanksgiving Day, he is making his trip one day ahead of schedule, on Nov. 27. He counsels, assists with claims and forms, gets evidence for benefits due under law, and advises on all related matters.

Moore's office in Norfolk at 308 McKevitt Bldg. is at 208 City Hall Ave., phone MADison 2-9871. He has conducted the Norfolk office for 11 years, under the direction of Harry F. Carper, Jr., of Roanoke.

Announce Birth

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Cremins of Virginia Beach announce the birth of their second child, first son, Wednesday, Nov. 13. Mrs. Cremins is the former Miss Mary Gallagher, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Harold Gallagher, of Bronxville, N.Y.

New Fellowships Offered Science, Math Teachers

Shell Companies Foundation, Inc., has announced that fellowships will be provided for special study next summer to 100 high school teachers of physics, chemistry, and mathematics.

This is a 67 per cent increase in the size of the Foundation's Merit Fellowship program since the first 60 fellowships were awarded in 1956. There were 90 fellowships last year.

E. A. Cunningham, Shell's division manager of North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, West Virginia, Delaware and the District of Columbia, said "The program is designed to help check the nation's shortage of scientists by strengthening the teaching of high school chemistry, physics, and mathematics and thus encouraging more young people to plan scientific careers."

Half the fellowship teachers attend full summer sessions at Stanford University, and half go to Cornell.

Applications for both Stanford and Cornell fellowships close February 1, the Foundation said.

Fellowship teachers receive allowances for travel, tuition, living expenses, and $500 in cash to offset the loss of other summer earnings. Teachers attend lectures and laboratory sessions, hold group discussions with scientists, and visit nearby research installations.

Requests for fellowship applications should be sent directly to the two universities. Teachers living west of the Mississippi should write the School of Education, Stanford University, Stanford, Calif. Teachers east of the Mississippi should write the School of Education, Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y. Mathematics, physics, and chemistry teachers in the U.S. and Canada with five years' experience and known leadership ability are eligible.

Roger G. Sherman to Manage Jamestown Corp.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va.—Samuel M. Bemis, President of the Jamestown Corporation, announced today that Roger D. Sherman of Williamsburg, has been appointed General Manager of the Jamestown Corporation to succeed the late Allen R. Matthews. John F. James, Jr., also of Williamsburg, has been named Administrative Assistant to the General Manager. The Jamestown Corporation is the producer of "The Common Glory" and "The Founders."

Sherman, who has been Designer and Production Manager for "The Common Glory" and "The Founders" since their inception, served as an administrative assistant during the past five years. A native of Providence, Rhode Island, he came to Williamsburg in 1946, from Appleton, Wisconsin, where he was a member of the Department of Fine Arts at Lawrence College. Currently he is Assistant Professor of Fine Arts at the College of William and Mary and is Business Manager and Designer for the William and Mary Theatre. Mr. Sherman is a graduate of the Vesper George School of Art, Boston, Massachusetts, and the college of William and Mary. He completed three years of graduate work in scene design and stage lighting at the Yale University School of Drama; and, during his last two years there, held the Rockefeller Foundation Fellowship in Photography.

During World War II, Mr. Sherman served for three years in the United States Navy, spending eleven months in the Pacific. A member of the Naval Reserve Program since 1949, he is a Naval Intelligence Officer with the present rank of Lieutenant Commander.

James, a native of Salem, Virginia, is a graduate of Roanoke College and first joined the technical staff of "The Common Glory" in 1950. For the past four seasons, except during his absence in 1954, he has been Lighting Technicians for the production.

During his senior year at Roanoke College, James edited the school newspaper; was Director of Publicity for the college; and was the assistant to the chairman of the Department of English. He is a member of Alpha Psi Omega and Sigma Chi.

Mr. James formerly taught at Monson Academy, Monson, Massachusetts, and in the public school system of Boletourt County, Virginia. More recently he was an instructor at Hollins College, Virginia, in the Department of Dramatic Art and Speech and was Technical Director of the Hollins Theatre. Last year he served as Director of Public Relations for Southern Seminary and Junior College, Buena Vista, Virginia.

James assumed the duties of Administrative Assistant on November 1, 1957. Mr. Sherman will take office as soon as a replacement is found for his present position at the College of William and Mary.

Rev. Robert H. Harper
CHANGES OF SEASONS

ANY years ago, I heard a commencement orator begin his speech something like this: "A traveler on a railway train speeding west at sixty miles an hour, over the surface of a world turning on its axis from west to east every twenty-four hours, and traveling in a vast orbit around the sun every year might reflect upon where he is going in this age of science and invention."

The young orator has gone beyond such earthly questionings but I am left to ponder the amazing changes that have come since the young orator spoke. Fifty years from now, our colonists on the moon, each with an oxygen tank on his back and algae available, may be touched with nostalgia as he thinks of how good a place the earth was before it was blown away in ashes and dust by man's infernal invention.

For the common man old earth now seems a good place, and we would be glad if the world could be left as while longer. And let us abide, assured that the Almighty who made the worlds will uphold them by the word of His power until He decrees a change in HIS own way.

Friends School Has Veterans' Day Program

The fourth grade of the Friends School on Larkin Road had charge of a program in the assembly meeting room on Veteran's Day. Eighty boys and girls and their teachers quietly came in and sat down on the comfortable pink cushioned pews. Nine year old Joe Duffy stood up, facing his school mates and teachers; and with the utmost poise, announced that his class was presenting a special Veterans' Day program. He looked directly and confidently at his audience as he introduced Catherine Ball. She read, with understanding, a selection, entitled, "The Will of God," from a book by Ellen Wales Walpole. Christine Brown then, graciously and with amazing ease, introduced Mrs. Lucie Stone telling that she was a former librarian from England who is now librarian of the Ocean View Branch of the Norfolk Library.

Mrs. Stone told that she well remembered November 11th, 1918 when she was a little girl in London. She heard the "hooters" loudly proclaiming that the war was over. She ran indoors from her school yard, saying over and over to her principal, "It is finished. It is finished. The war is over."

Then Mrs. Stone told Pearl Buck's story of "The Dragonfish," a tale of a Japanese little Chinese girl who found a companion and happiness when she found an American girl who needed friendship too. While Mrs. Stone spoke the only sound in the room was a light swish of a pig tail against the back of the wooden seat and once the squeak of a little boy's shoes rubbing against each other. The story had been interesting and well told; but the audience had been a remarkably attentive one, especially to be composed of first, second and third graders. Bobby Crockett sang a song closed the program by leading the school in saying the Lords Prayer.

MISS HARRIETT ALLSTOCK

Miss Harriett Allstock, superintendent of the Virginia Beach Hospital, represented the hospital at the Virginia Hospital Association's annual meeting held at Hotel Chamberlain, Old Point Comfort, November 14, 15 and 16. There were approximately 100 hospitals represented at the meeting.

The program consisted of various reunion speakers speaking on the many phases of hospital activities.

Miss Allstock was a member of the arrangements committee for the convention. There were approximately 250 hospital people in attendance for the meeting.

The enrollment of Hampton-Sydney College in Virginia is 408 for the 1957-58 academic session.

Fran Pachter

THE inevitable dreaded day was upon her. No longer could she shield herself by putting it out of her mind. It wasn't unexpected, just dreaded and feared; her son's call to service. She was unprepared to cope with losing him. She knew Tim, Sr. shared none of her apprehension or qualms for hadn't he reared any and every body that would listen with his tales of the greatness of the service. Timmy had heard about it since he was old enough to comprehend, hence he looked forward to entering.

Within the solitary confines of her innermost private thoughts she wished he'd not be accepted. Guilt went hand and glove with her wish for it would be a mighty blow for the lad. Loneliness was her companion these days for Timmy and his welfare were something she and Tim had always shared, but in this she was an outsider. The hurt had begun the day she had returned from shopping and found Timmy's things piled in the hallway.

"I'm going to give all this junk away," Timmy had said. She was left alone with her own heartbreak. Entering his room she stared in bewilderment at its neatness. It was almost as though he were already gone.

Through her tears she thought of the time when Timmy's walls needed washing where his penmanship had hung. She was liked by the thought that the commonplace everyday things such as cleaning should even enter her mind. Today it had happened. He was gone. He'd risen at dawn to be ready. Tim, Sr. and he had discussed the merits of the various branches of service while eating, then Timmy had kissed her good-bye. Alby he had promised to call when he'd know where he was being sent. Big Tim had shook the lad's hand and the pride he felt in his son lay open for all to see.

—Edie, don't take on so, Tim.

my is no longer a baby. He's a man." Anger mingled with the hurt pain she was feeling and she lashed out at Tim. "He's my baby, and I hope they don't take him."

"Edie!" Her husband's tone landed like a whip. "I'm ashamed of you. Other mothers have sons in service and I'm sure none ever wished they'd be rejected."

She escaped to the privacy of her room to avoid the scorn she had seen in Tim's eyes. She heard him leave for work and he went without a kiss or goodbye.

The bang of the downstairs door and running feet caused her to sit bolt upright. The door next to hers opened and closed with a bang. Timmy was back. She heard the sound of a heavy weight hitting the bed and then a sound she'd never forget. Harsh dry sobs emanated from Timmy's room, sobs that choked and ended in a whimper of pain. She knew then that her wish had been granted. There was no gratification in this. She wanted to go in and offer comfort but her guilt held her back. She couldn't face him knowing this was what she wanted. He'd tried to tell her by looking at her. The phone rang and she picked it up. Tim, Sr. was talking. "Well, are you happy?"

"You know?" She whispered. "Yes, he stopped in to tell me."

When she hung up she could only think—I wanted this to happen. The phone rang again and she picked it up. She said to a query, "Yes, Tim Brown lives here." "Yes, Tim Brown lives here." She looked at her in puzzlement. "They made a mistake and your X-rays got mixed." "You mean I'm in?" Tim grabbed her and whirled her around in a mad dance.

Bay Shore Garden Club Holds Monthly Meet

"Pot Luck" and "Moonstruck" were the subjects of arrangements by members of the Bay Shore Garden Club of Virginia Beach. Mrs. Gilmore Tibbels judged, and awarded two blue ribbons to Mrs. J. G. Trafton, Jr., one blue ribbon each to Mrs. John S. Matthews and Mrs. J. S. Bibb; a red ribbon to Mrs. M. F. Bartlett; and yellow ribbons to Mrs. W. V. Pratt and Mrs. W. H. Webster.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Wallace Brian on Wythe Lane with Mrs. E. M. Fretz assisting. Plans for decorating the home of the club president, Mrs. J. G. Trafton, Jr., as a Christmas project were discussed.

Local Artist's Paintings Shown In Richmond

Six paintings by Henrietta Hoopes of Virginia Beach are featured in the 18th Virginia Artists Rotating Exhibition now on view through January 5 at the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts in Richmond.

Miss Hoopes, in private life Mrs. James E. Heath, has exhibited her paintings in major museums in both America and Europe, and has had fourteen "one-man" shows in this country. Utilizing an oil-and-tempera technique, Miss Hoopes is particularly well-known for her surrealist still lifes, her bullfight scenes and her portraits.

Also included in the exhibition in Richmond are six works each by Mary Randolph Coleman and Alvin Harkoff of Richmond. The exhibition, part of a continuous series devoted exclusively to the works of Old Dominion artists, is displayed in the museum's Virginia Artists Gallery in its American collection.

Marine Corps to Accept 100 College Grads for OC Course

The Marine Corps will accept 100 college graduates for its first two 1958 Officer Candidate Courses. It was announced today by M-Sgt. John W. Speke, of the Marine Corps Recruiting Sub-Station at Room No. 407 Post Office Bldg., Norfolk, Va.

The Officer Candidate Course provides an important segment of all new officers entering the Marine Corps each year. It is held periodically at the Marine Corps Schools at Quantico, Va., and lasts 10 weeks. A second lieutenant's commission in the Marine Corps Reserve follows the successful completion of this training.

Sgt. Speke said the 21st Officer Candidate Course will begin Jan. 13, 1958, and have a planned enrollment of 510. The 22nd OCC, with 190 enrollments, is scheduled to start the following March 31.

Upon commissioning at the completion of OCC training, the new officers are assigned to Basic School at Quantico.

Those assigned to Basic School receive eight months of instruction to prepare them for duty as ground officers and troop leaders. Officers selected for flight training as Marine aviators are given 15-18 months schooling at Pensacola, Fla.

General requirements for enrollment in the Marine Corps OCC program are: Applicants must be regularly enrolled seniors or graduates of an accredited college or university. They must be between 20-27 years of age, citizens of the United States and meet the physical and mental requirements for commissioned officers in the Marine Corps.

The term of required service for ground officers in the Marine Corps is a minimum period of three years. Aviation officers will be required to serve two years following completion of flight training.

Sgt. Speke stated he is available to explain this program more fully to interested applicants at his office located at Room No. 407, Post Office Bldg., Norfolk, Va.

Union Services To Be Held at Scott Memorial

The Union Thanksgiving Service in which Eastern Shore Chapel Episcopal, Lynnhaven Presbyterian, London Bridge Baptist and Scott Memorial Methodist Churches participate annually, will be held this year at the Scott Memorial Church, 701-17 Court-house Boulevard, Ocean, Virginia. The hour of the service has been advanced to 10:00 a.m. to facilitate attendance, with the hope that attendance will be greatly increased this year.

The Union Thanksgiving Service presents, not only an excellent opportunity to offer Thanksgiving for bountiful harvest, for the measure of peace which we have enjoyed, and the many other bountiful blessings bestowed upon us by God, our Creator, but also, the opportunity to give a united witness to the faith in God which we share.

The Rev. Edward G. Hughes, pastor of the London Bridge Baptist Church will deliver the Annual Thanksgiving Sermon. Other ministers who will participate will be the Rev. Henry C. Borton of Eastern Shore Chapel Episcopal, the Rev. Raymond C. Filston of Lynnhaven Presbyterian and the Rev. F. H. Strieby, of Scott Memorial Methodist.

The music for the service will be provided by the choir of Scott Memorial under the direction of Mrs. Ernest F. Hoff.

The host pastor, the Rev. F. H. Strieby, extends a cordial invitation to all the people of the area served by the participating churches to unite in a great union service of Thanksgiving and Praise. Adequate provision will be made for seating the large congregation which is expected.

Virginia Beach Music Club Holds Monthly Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Virginia Beach Music Club was held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Goldsborough Robinson in Linkhorn Park. Mrs. Maeklin Simmons acted as co-hostess.

Mrs. E. R. Borden, president, presided at the business meeting after which Mrs. G. R. Glimbert, program chairman, presented five young piano students from the Bristow Hardin School of Music.

Their program was as follows: Organ Prelude—In D minor by Bach arranged by Kabalevsky—Doris Ellen Harvey.
Sonata No. 1—In E minor by David C. Glover, Jr.—Helena Rodriguez.
First Movement of Beethoven's Sonata op. 13—Ronald Nellgar.
Chopin Nocturne in E Minor—Jane Lynch.

Excerpt from the Tchaikovsky B Flat Minor Concerto—Penny Bell. After the delightful musical program a social hour followed. Mrs. J. Raymond Pritchard presided at the tea table.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and foibles... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

After the football game the fans, students and "old grads" alike, are sure to return home ravenous. You'll be well prepared for them with a Saturday Nite or any nite dinner featuring the roast veal roll. The juicy tenderness of a roast veal roll seems to have universal appeal. When you serve it with cranberry dressing you'll score a culinary touchdown with every member of the home team.

Homemakers are finding the new veal roll a handy form to prepare and serve. Because veal has so little fat marbling, the veal roll has been coated with a white protective covering to hold the natural juices. This coating melts away during the cooking period basting the roast as it goes. One excellent, branded veal roll is stitched through and tied to help the roll maintain its attractive appearance.

When buying — you may figure about one-third per pound per serving and count on an ample supper to assuage those husky appetites — when reading the various releases I receive, I note Martha Logan of Swift & Co. has suggested a wonderful Cranberry Dressing to accompany this roast veal roll. And you'll surely want to try it, I know. You'll probably have and certainly want to allow some extra pounds when buying so you can serve some of those delightful, enticement dishes using the leftover veal. The delicate flavor of veal is one that doesn't dominate other flavors, but instead blends well with them. For this reason, veal is often served in combination with fruit accompaniments.

filling for tops and sides of two 8-inch layer cakes.

Vanilla Sugar Tea Cakes

3 cups sifted all-purpose flour

1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder

1/2 teaspoon salt

1 cup softened butter or margarine

1 1/2 cups sugar

2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract

2 eggs

2 tablespoons milk

Sift the first 3 ingredients together and set aside. Mix butter or margarine until fluffy. Blend in 1/2 cup of the sugar. Beat in pure vanilla extract and 1 of the eggs. Gradually add remaining sugar. Beat in the remaining egg and milk. Gradually stir in the flour mixture. Drop a heaping teaspoon of dough at a time onto lightly greased cookie sheets. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (375°F.) 15 minutes or until browned around the edges. Cool on wire rack. Store in tightly closed tin box or cookie jar.

YIELD: 3 dozen 2-1/2 inch cookies.

10 Million Stockholders Have Proprietary

WILMINGTON, Del. — No institution is more representative of Twentieth Century America than the large corporation, for it is but an impressive cross-section of the public itself. This is fully documented in a new booklet, "The Story of Life in a Large Corporation," published by the Du Pont Company today.

The 32-page illustrated booklet points out that the 500 largest U.S. corporations alone employ nearly nine million people. When wives and families are included, a total of perhaps 35 million are directly dependent upon the corporate pay check. In addition, an estimated 10 million stockholders have a proprietary interest, with other millions participating indirectly through savings and insurance.

The very magnitude of this participation in corporate life, the booklet says, "should set at rest any myth-inspired uneasiness as to whether the corporation's interests parallel those of the public. The interests of each are not only parallel but indistinguishable, for quite obviously, the corporation is nothing but an impressive cross-section of the public itself."

And if the whole is equal to the sum of its parts, then the stereotype of the "corporation man" is as patently false as that of the absent-minded professor or the long-haired scientist. Corporation people are not "types," but a cross-section of America. Their culture is the nation's culture, and their ethical and moral standards are the same as those in other institutions of like proportion.

Far from suppressing individuality, the successful corporation must encourage the individual to accomplish the maximum. As the booklet points out, "No matter how large it grows, a corporation like Du Pont is subject to the same immutable laws that have guided all human advances. Its progress originates in creative thought, and this is always a personal, individual attribute."

"... The most jealously guarded right in Du Pont is the right of the individual to hold his own opinions, and disagree with the majority. Only if this climate prevails can the individual find full satisfaction in his work, and the corporation be kept free and alive to its opportunities."

Management, too, the booklet says, is a composite of many profiles. "The truth is that in the large corporation... decisions are not made by one man, or even one group of men. In Du Pont, what is generalized as management includes people at every level from foreman to president. They are as diverse and variegated as the activities and people who come under their stewardship."

And the same holds true for the corporation's stockholders. They come from every geographical region, and only a small number of them are wealthy. One-third of all shareholders are from homes with incomes under $5000; more than two-thirds come from households with incomes of less than $7500 a year. More than half of them are women, and the occupation shared by the largest single group of shareholders in the U. S. today is not banker or businessman, but housewife.

Even the term "white collar" worker becomes an outmoded stereotype when used in a large corporation context. The booklet points out that a century ago the "white collar" force consisted of little more than a handful of people, characterized by the clerk who perched on a high stool and kept a lifelong vigil over the general ledger.

"Today," it says, "the activities of 'white collar' workers have become so diverse, and their ranks so large, that the term itself is a misnomer. They comprise almost one-fifth of the work force, and perform an astonishing variety of functions essential to the successful operation of a large corporation."

With a bow to the ladies, the booklet predicts that "historians of the future may well conclude that the most dramatic gains were recorded by the woman worker. In a half century, the number of women jobholders has more than quadrupled, and the opportunities open to them have increased in equal measure. There are today 20 million women at work in the U.S.—more than at any other time in history." Nor are they restricted to clerical work alone. In Du Pont, women hold jobs in almost every employee category, including those fields like medicine, law, accounting, and engineering which years ago were the exclusive province of men.

"The ultimate assessment of the large corporation," the booklet submits, "rests on the answer to a single question: Is it a good thing? Viewing the high U.S. living standard, fashioned in large measure by this form of business organization, the American citizen can only conclude that it is. Whether he is an employee, stockholder, customer, or neighbor—or

Khedive Temple Ceremonial To Be Saturday

Khedive Temple Shrine will introduce more than 100 novices into the mysteries of the order during the fall ceremonial to be held Saturday, November 23. The Uniform Units will parade all of these—the corporation has opened new doors to opportunity and personal achievement for him.

"... The nation has grown so large, and its aspirations so great, that there must be some organizational structure to consolidate human and physical resources on a vast scale." The new Du Pont booklet maintains that the large corporation is such a structure, and if it did not already exist, it would have to be invented since no other form of organization has equalled the corporation's ability to bring people everywhere the technology of modern life.

Walls May Crumble . . .

Like all man-built structures, churches, temples and majestic cathedrals are subject to the ravages of time and the elements. Even though they are holy places, their walls may crumble and return to the dust from which they came.

But the steadfast religious faith those walls stood for lives on in the hearts of men and women, growing stronger and brighter with each passing generation.

Today, in America, there's a constantly growing, deeper interest in religion. More and more people are embracing the faith of their choice, and new churches and congregations are swelling their ranks. Americans everywhere are turning to the Creator with new-found strength and hope.

It is our hope — and our belief — that during this Thanksgiving Season more Americans than ever before will offer reverent prayers of thanks to God for America . . . that gave us freedom to live, work and worship as we please in our God-given American Way of Life.

POULTRYMEN ASKING ABOUT CAGE LAYERS

Discussions about cage vs floor layers are still stirring the poultry world.

There have been no known controlled tests on the relative profits from cage and floor layers in Virginia. It is the opinion of VPI that a little more income per hour of labor can be derived from the floor system of management in this state. VPI says a careful operator can be successful with a cage system, but can do just as well with the floor-system if he applies the same effort and know-how.

Denver Dragg, poultry specialist, cites work done in Montana with the two systems. The feed conversion on leghorn pullets through the first 6 months of lay was 4.01 pounds of feed per dozen of eggs for the floor system, and 4.25 pounds per dozen for the cage system. Average production was 79.1% for the floor bird, and 77.2% for the caged.

A four-year test recently reported compared pullets in individual cages to sisters on the floor. The floor birds averaged a few more eggs per hen and that their eggs contained a few less blood spots. Mortality, however, was a little less and eggs weighed just a little better for the cage-managed birds.

Dragg says other advantages for cages are:
Definite information on the production of each bird. Slightly less feed, in most cases, per dozen eggs. Uniform yearly production if the cages are kept filled. Lower mortality with little or no trouble from pick-outs or cannibalism. Less parasite trouble. Fewer dirty eggs. And generally a little heavier bird at time of sale.

On the other hand, labor needs are increased in the cage system. It has been estimated that one man will handle one-half to one-third fewer birds in cages. Other disadvantages are: Increased difficulty in controlling flies, lice, and mites. Need for brooding three to four times a year to keep cages filled. Greater investment per bird. Inability of birds in cages to stand very cold or very hot weather as well as birds on the floor. The need for a more exacting diet. It is also harder to switch from layers to broilers or breeders if the cage system is used, Dragg says.

IT'S HOG KILLING TIME

Hog killing for home use is big business in Virginia.

R. M. Godsey, associate animal husbandman at VPI, says that during the next few weeks Virginia farmers will be killing hogs for their 1958 pork supply. A good reason for killing early in the season is that the meat can be cured and stored before the skipper fly comes around. This meat insect generally appears during the first warm days in late February and March.

The weather should be cold enough to chill the carcasses thoroughly overnight.

Here are other tips from Godsey: The lighter weight hogs, 200 to 250 pounds, make the best meat. Hogs should be getting weight at time of slaughter. Avoid getting hogs excited immediately before killing. A poor bleed and meat spoilage may result from over-excitement. Keep the temperature of the water for scalding between 145 to 150. Too high a temperature will make scalding harder and will set the hair.

If you want to do the best job of curing, wait until the meat is chilled before salting. Formulas for curing meat vary, but all of them contain all or part of the following ingredients: salt, saltpeter, sugar and molasses, and pepper. Salt is the base of all meat curing. Saltpeter has some curing effect and also brings out the red color. Sugar is used for flavor, and also to help repel insects.

A formula in wide use is that contained in Bulletin 1186, available from county agents and the VPI Agricultural Extension Service, Blacksburg. It lists 8 pounds of salt, 2 pounds of sugar, and 2 ounces of saltpeter for 100 pounds of meat.

Divide the mixture, applying one half immediately after the meat is cut out and the rest 6 to 8 days later. The time in cure is two days per pound for hams and shoulder cuts, but not less than 25 days in any period. A ham weighing 18 pounds therefore should be cured about 36 days, but a 10-pound cut should cure for 25 days. Bacon should not remain in cure for quite as long as hams, because it has a trimmer cut.

After curing and smoking, store meat in a cool, dry place. Cuts wrapped in paper and put in muslin bags will be protected from the skipper fly. If cuts are hung in a meat house without wrapping, be sure the building is fairly clean. It also needs to be tight enough to prevent the entrance of the skipper fly. Cover ventilators with 30-inch mesh screen because the skipper fly is much smaller than the house fly.

Do not give hogs any feed at all for 24 hours before killing, but give them plenty of water. Prevent bruises by not kicking or hitting hogs with a stick while getting them to the killing place. The best bleed is obtained if the hogs are not stunned, but if they are stunned they should be stuck as quickly as possible after they are.

Godsey says an effective job of curing meat will save Virginia farmers at least $1,000,000, because each year this amount is lost in home killed meat because of spoilage and insect infestations. Proper planning and up-to-date methods can cut this loss.

The one that's really new is the lowest-priced, too!

Compare! Car for car, Edsel gives you most—and is priced the lowest—of all 1958's medium-priced cars!

The elegantly styled Edsel is the newest looking car you'll see on the road this year. But more important to you as a car buyer, the Edsel is new all over.

New all over means the already-famous power of the big, new V-8 Edsel Engines. It means the option of new Teletouch Drive, the most talked-about feature in years. It means the safety of Edsel's self-adjusting brakes. Even the first genuine contour seats. Yet, with all these important advances, Edsel prices are the lowest in the whole medium-price field! Compare—car for car. You'll find that Edsel is the value of the year. See your Edsel Dealer and prove it.

Month" for November was announced this week by Commanding Officer Colonel George E.
Woods, Jr. Sergeant First Class
Wilburn C. Hinton, a 14 year veteran of Army service, the Portsmouth native holds a reserve commission of 1st Lt. Hinton is currently assigned to the office of the Fort Story S-3, (training and operations).Sergeant Hinton, a veteran of 14 years active Army service, is currently Training NCO in the office of the Fort Story S-3 (training and operations). His last assignment prior to coming to Story was as Motor Sergeant of the 68th Transportation Company near Frankfurt, Germany.Sergeant Hinton has the distinction of holding an Army Reserve commission of First Lieutenant. He received his commission in June of 1953, and was promoted to his current reserve rank in June of 1956. His awards and decorations include the Good Conduct Medal with Clasp and two knots, the American Asiatic Pacific Medal and the German Occupation Medal.Hinton's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Isaiah Hinton currently live at 103 Gale Avenue in Portsmouth.
Prior to entering the service in 1943 he was employed at the Norfolk Navy Yard.MAJOR WILLIAMS REVIEWS TROOPS IN PARADEFort Story's soldiers passed in review Friday afternoon in honor of a retiring Army officer, and the post's "Soldier of the Month."
Retiring after more than 20 years active federal service is Major Bristol W. Williams, Story's
Post Ordnance Officer. His retirement becomes effective Nov.
30.Major Williams enlisted in the Coast Artillery Corps, Panama
Canal Zone, in August of 1932.
He remained in the active service until 1935 when he was discharged at Brooklyn, N. Y. He re-enlisted in October of 1940 in the Ordnance Corps. At the beginning of World War II Major Williams served at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md. In September, of 1942 he accepted a commission as 2nd Lt. Ordnance Corps, and was assigned to the Ordnance School as an instructor. He remained at Aberdeen until April of 1946 when he joined the Far East Command.He served successively at San Juan, Puerto Rico, Redstone Arsenal in Ala., the Seventh Army in Germany, and Headquarters, Third Army in Georgia before being assigned to Fort Story. His awards and decorations include the American Campaign Medal,
the Army of Occupation Medal(Germany), the Good Conduct Medal, and the Armed Forces Reserve Medal.The "Soldier of the Month," SPC Wilburn C. Hinton, is a 14 year veteran of Army service. The Portsmouth native holds a reserve
commission of 1st Lt. Hinton is currently assigned to the office of the Fort Story S-3, (training and operations).The parade's marching honors went to the 154th Transportation Company commanded by Lt. Paul
D. Sims. The 154th recently returned from "Operation 572 East" where it was commended by senior officers of all services in the accomplishment of its DEW-line re-supply mission. The units were judged on the basis of step, dress, Richard W. Bricker chairmanned
the six-man judging committee.

RENOVATED PX OPENS

Fort Story's completely renovated PX Cafeteria was formally opened Tuesday (Nov. 12) morning as Post Commanding Officer
Col. George E. Woods, Jr., cut the symbolic ribbon.Everything in the cafeteria is new according to Chief Warrant Officer Darwin Givens, Fort Story exchange Officer. The walls are freshly papered, the ceiling paneled, and the floors tiled. A feature on the equipment side is the installation of a new charcoal grill and rotisserie. Givens emphasized the installation of all stainless steel work tables, sinks, and serving pans.Instead of the old wooden guide rails for the serving line, the new double lines are formed with planter boxes that contain live plants brought in from Georgia.The cafeteria is managed by Mrs. Josephine Belyew. It employs eight civilians.The remodeling was performed by the M. E. Stern Company of Norfolk, with the flooring done by Ferrell Linoleum and Tile Co., also of Norfolk.

COONEY TAKES OVER 347TH

Fort Story's 347th Transportation Company has a new Company Commander this week. 2nd Lt. James W. Cooney, a native of Warren, Pa., took over the company from 1st Lt. Scout Berridge who now commands the 558th Transportation Company.Lt. Cooney was formally a stevedore officer with the 56th Transportation Company. With the 56th he took part in "Operation 572-East," a re-supply mission to the DW-line outposts in the Arctic.Lt. Cooney's new company, designated "Amphibious Truck," op-erates the DUKW, a 3 1/2 ton truck adapted for amphibious operations. Fort Story has been the home of the DUKW since the vehicle became organic to the Transportation Corps.The new Company Commander is a graduate of John Carroll University in Cleveland, Ohio. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E.
Cooney, live in Warren.

NCO CLUB

Fort Story's Non-Commissioned Officers' Club held its annual election at Story Thursday afternoon. Master Sergeant Norman E.
Zutavern was elected president of the club, and M-Sgt. Eltee M.
Babcock vice president.Sgt. Zutavern holds the reserve warrant of W-3. On officers status he was a member of the board of governors of the Officers' Club at Camp Hiasola, Southern Japan.
He is currently the NCO in charge of Story's Clothing Sales Store.Sgt. Babcock is a past president of the club, holding the position two years ago. He is Sergeant Major of Fort Story's supply division.The president and vice president of the club, chairman the 12 man Board of Governors that formulate the activities and policies of the club. The Board is made up of nine Army members and three representatives of the Navy.

PARADE

Story's 14th Transportation Battalion marched in the Veterans'
Day Parade in Norfolk, Nov. 11.
The contingent, commanded by 2nd Lt. James W. Cooney, was made up of men from the 347th and 558th Transportation Companies. The colors were carried by the Honor Guard of Headquarters Detachment, 14th Battalion.Other officers participating in the march were 2nd Lt. Kenneth
P. Winter and David H. J. Collinson.

Pfc. William Van Loe.The 608th is commanded by Capt. Alvin Thomas and is attached to the 14th Transportation Battalion under the command of Lt. Col. John C. Alford.

CUB SCOUTS VISIT

FORT STORY

Over 40 Cub Scouts of Pack 61
from Virginia Beach were, guests of Fort Story Saturday for a post tour and rides in Army vehicles.
The group is led by Mrs. J. R.
McNicholas, wife of a Fort Story Sergeant.The scouts were told about the landing of the first permanent English settlers on Fort Story beaches, and taken on a tour of the lighthouses by Pfc. Jerome
Schwartz of the post Information Office. They later were shown the post on DUKW's, the amphibious truck so well known at Fort Story.

POST FORMAL PLANNED

Saturday, Nov. 23, has been selected by Fort Story officials for the first post formal dance of the social season. Capt. Frederick
A. Hills, Secretary of the Officers'
Open Mess, announced Saturday that the event will be held at the Story Officers' Club beginning at 8:00 p.m.Capt. Hills stated today that the dance is open to all retired and reserve officers in the area, as well as active duty officers of all services.*"Thanks for a wonderful wedding!"*This is a new family's first Long Distance call — the bride's "thank you" to mother and dad.There'll be many more happy Long Distance messages. The words will be familiar — but they're always new when they're spoken by voices you know so well.
"Happy birthday!" "We're coming for a visit!" "You're a grandfather, dad!" "Just wanted to know how you are." Whatever the occasion, your telephone dissolves

NOW IN 1,100 tongues

God must speak to men. Despite the barriers of language and dialect which separate nation from nation, tribe from tribe—God must speak to men!

This conviction has long inspired the American Bible Society in its stupendous task... to translate God's word into every tongue... to place the Bible in every hand.

Now in 1,100 tongues God has spoken to men through inspired Scripture. In marble cathedrals and mud huts the same timeless truths are read, heard, taught and discussed in the words men know. And millions of Bibles, Testaments, and portions of Scripture are being placed in eager hands.

This is our triumph... and our continuing challenge... the countless Christians who, individually and through our churches, make possible the work of the American Bible Society. Thank God! Carry on!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Santa Scheduled to Arrive In Virginia Beach on Friday

A large turnout of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County residents is expected to be on hand this Friday evening at 7 o'clock when old St. Nick officially ushers in the 1957 Yuletide Season in Virginia Beach. This year he has elected to arrive on the scene atop the city's biggest, reddest fire engine, proceeding from 17th Street and Mediterranean Avenue to 25th and Atlantic, where the beautiful giant community tree has been erected.

On the stroke of 7, he will turn the magic switch that illuminates the tree and the entire downtown area of the "Christmas-City-by-the-Sea" with a galaxy of brilliant holiday lights.

Mayor Frank A. Dusch will welcome the merry-makers and the

Civilians Here Attending Meet In New Jersey

A delegation of Civilians of the Virginia Beach club will participate with Civilians from other clubs of the Chesapeake district of Civitan International in studies of several phases of club activities when they attend the quarterly council meeting of the district in Trenton, N. J., during the coming week end. The sessions, which will be held at the Hotel Hildebrandt, will begin with a meeting of the board of directors of the district's Foundation for Mentally Retarded and Handicapped Children, Friday evening, include two business sessions and a banquet Saturday and close with Sunday morning devotions and a business meeting.

The study forums will include discussions of what clubs can do to help the district, club officers' duties, membership expansion, how to conduct meetings and the value of inter-club sessions. International Vice President Everett A. Sicheloff will speak at the Saturday session, reporting on actions of the International board of directors at a meeting in Dallas, Texas, last week.

The Friday evening Foundation board meeting will discuss matters concerned with the taking over next year of financing and operation of the Georgetown University clinic for mentally retarded children. Other activities of the Foundation for children of Columbia Chesapeake district will also be reported.

Saturday morning's meeting will open at nine, recessing for luncheon at noon. The afternoon session, opening at 1:30, will be adjourned at 5 to allow preparation for a fellowship hour at 6:30, preceding the banquet.

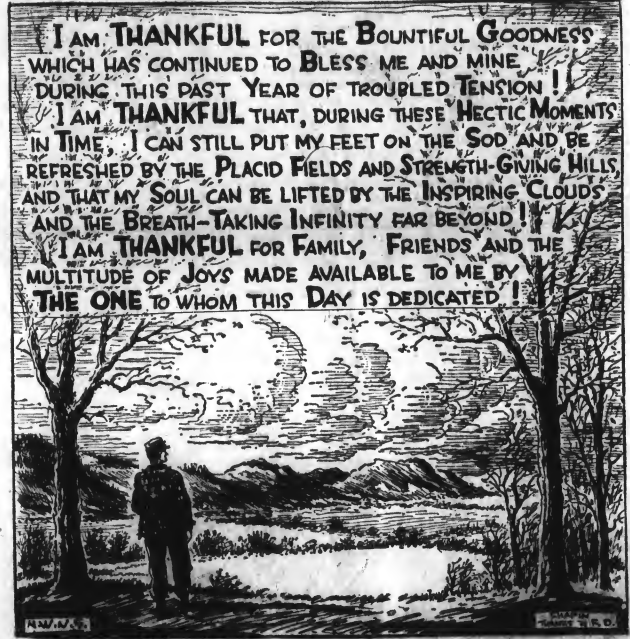

Sunday morning devotions are scheduled at 9:30 and the final business session will follow, recessed for a coffee break at 11 and finally adjourning at 1. Governor C. Ramsey Cruttt of Norfolk will preside at all sessions.

No Garbage Pickup Thursday In P. A. County

Thanksgiving Day will be observed as a holiday by members of the Princess Anne County Sanitation Department and there will be no garbage collection throughout the county on Thursday. It has been announced.

The regular Monday and Thursday schedule of collection will be resumed next Monday, according to Cecil Land, director of the department.

THANKSGIVING

I AM THANKFUL FOR THE BOUNTIFUL GOODNESS WHICH HAS CONTINUED TO BLESS ME AND MINE DURING THIS PAST YEAR OF TROUBLED TENSION!
I AM THANKFUL THAT, DURING THESE HECTIC MOMENTS IN TIME, I CAN STILL PUT MY FEET ON THE SOIL AND BE REFRESHED BY THE PLACID FIELDS AND STRENGTH-GIVING HILLS AND THAT MY SOUL CAN BE LIFTED BY THE INSPIRING CLOUDS AND THE BREATH-TAKING INFINITY FAR BEYOND!
I AM THANKFUL FOR FAMILY, FRIENDS AND THE MULTITUDE OF JOYS MADE AVAILABLE TO ME BY THE ONE TO WHOM THIS DAY IS DEDICATED!

Donations to Joy Fund Slow; Money, Toys Badly Needed

Those persons looking to the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Joy Fund to help make their Christmas a merry one are apt to be disappointed, unless their more fortunate neighbors respond to this year's appeal.

Joy Fund officials are concerned with the slow start that the fund has experienced so far this year. The fund needs money and toys to fill the needs here.

The first contributions were reported this week getting the Joy Fund off the ground, so to speak. The total funds raised to date amounts to $75.72.

County Jury Returns Forty Indictments

A young Norfolk man was indicted Friday by the Princess Anne County grand jury on one charge of rape and eight counts of robbery.

The true bill returned against Ronald Linwood Reid, 23, of the 500 block of Fishermans Road, were amounting about 40 handed up by the grand jury in a three-hour session.

Also indicted in three companion cases of robbery was Ernest Randolph Reynolds, 21, of the 4000 block of Little Bend Road.

Reid and Reynolds are accused of robbing a London Bridge woman, her sister from Richmond, and a Richmond man after driving the three to lonely parts of the county October 2.

He also faces charges of five other robberies on isolated county roads prior to October 2.

Other true bills returned: Richard A. Greenhouse, James Padon, Frank VanMarren, III and William R. Challis, two counts each of robbery (companion cases); Mrs. J. N. Roberts, grand larceny and housebreaking; and Randolph Jones armed robbery.

VIRGINIA FARMERS USING LONG-TERM ASSISTANCE—Virginia farmers are using $7,370,000 in long-term assistance from The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States. A. H. Bennett, Equitable loan supervisor in Raleigh, announced today that, on September 30, 1957, the Society's funds were being employed on 737 of the state's farms.

Microfilming of Deeds Set in Princess Anne

A five-year project of microfilming county records will get under way at Princess Anne this week.

John V. Fentress, clerk of the Circuit Court, said that the Hall-McCheaney Co. of Rochester, N.Y., has been retained to microfilm county records. The firm is already setting up equipment in the record room of the clerk's office.

The work, primarily limited to deed books, is being undertaken, Fentress said, to insure the county a permanent, indestructible record of its deeds. The microfilm spools will be stored in privately-owned vaults in either Greensboro, N.C. or Rochester.

Present plans call for microfilming 100 deed books this year at a cost of $1,850. Fentress said the other 400 deed books which the county has would be filmed during the next four years as funds become available.

In the event some of the records here were destroyed, the Hall-McCheaney Co. could replace them at a cost of .35 cents per page, the clerk said. It now costs the county approximately .28 cents per page, the clerk said.

Several years ago a photostatic process, in which the actual pages of the deeds are photographed and then bound into permanent records, was installed here.

Friends School Holding Second Annual Book Fair December 3rd

By KAY DOUGHTIE SEWELL
Getting books for children—books which the parents can read aloud without being bored stiff, and which the children will love and want to read all by themselves—just the easiest thing in the world to do.

But it will be made easy (and fun, too) on Tuesday, December 3 between the hours of 10 a.m. and 10 p.m. That's when Virginia Beach Friends School is holding its Second Annual Children's Book Fair.

Last year's book fair was a success. Some 750 books, children's, parents', grandparents', and various interested parties poured in and out of the red brick school building on Laskin Road (just west of Linnhorn Park School) all day long.

There was another reason: All the books, of which there was a large and colorful collection, had been chosen with understanding and taste by Friends School teachers, by Mrs. Ursula Lyle of the Ragged Robin Bookshop with the invaluable assistance of Mrs. Fran Martin of Norfolk. They'll be for children from four to teenage.

Mrs. Martin, as everyone knows, is a well-known author of children's books herself. She writes the Children's Book Page for the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot, every year when National Children's Book Week is celebrated.

All the books she has recommended will be on display at the fair this coming Tuesday, as well as Cyclopedia Medal picture books and the stories which have won Newberry Awards (on a different scale, tantamount to Pulitzer Prize awards, according to Mrs. Lyle).

Books will be lined up in various classifications (all within reach of the children, and with places to sit down comfortably while browsing).

These will include, not only the classics but such classifications as adventure, humor, science, poetry, biography, religion, history, fairy tales, pure fantasy, animal books, picture books and books for reading.

It won't be necessary to buy on the spot, but all books ordered will be obtained in time for Christmas.

Among those present will be Myra Reed Richardson, herself

C. of C. Meeting Set for Dec. 9

The 20th annual membership meeting of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce will be held on Monday evening, December 9, it has been announced.

The annual meeting will be a dinner meeting affair and will be held at the Cavalier starting at 7 o'clock. Tickets are available to members through the Chamber of Commerce office telephone 392.

Election of eight new directors is scheduled to be held this week and their terms of office will commence on January 1, 1958.

East Ocean View Man Given 20 Day Sentence

An East Ocean View man arrested on two occasions for reckless driving and driving after revocation of his permit received a 20-day jail sentence Friday in Princess Anne County.

The defendant, Robert S. Wilson, of the 9600 block of 21st St., East Ocean View, also was ordered to pay fines totaling $35.

His attorney, Richard G. Byrd, of Virginia Beach, noted an appeal.

Wilson first was arrested last September 28 by State Trooper R. C. Martin, who testified he chased Wilson at high speeds, then pursued him on foot after Wilson stopped and fled through a cornfield.

On November 14, Wilson was stopped by State Trooper G. L. Whitaker and again was charged with reckless driving and driving after revocation.

Bayville Sends Guernsey Herd To Nicaragua

Thirty-six head of young purebred Guernsey breeding stock assembled from three states started on their way early Saturday from Bayville Farms to Managua, Nicaragua.

The bred heifers and bulls of 18 months to two years of age are destined for the Instituto de Fomento Nacional, a Nicaraguan experiment station, according to W. Clark Fleming, Bayville Farms manager.

The stock will be transported in two trucks to St. Petersburg, Fla. for air shipment to Nicaragua November 29, Fleming said.

A. M. McKay of Frederick, Md., field representative of the American Guernsey Cattle Club said all heifers had to come from cows with productions of at least 10,000 pounds of milk and 500 pounds of butterfat per year or the equivalent.

GROUP PLANS TO SEEK AID FROM STATE

Hopes have risen in the effort started by a small group of businessmen to obtain the old Leeder Bridge draw span for use at Rudee Inlet and a citizens committee has been formed to further the effort.

The committee has been named the "Citizens Committee for Waterfront Development," and Joseph T. Crosswhite Jr. has been elected chairman. William K. MacDonald is vice-chairman and P. Mason Gamage, Princess Anne County Planning Director, is the secretary-treasurer.

The Board of Directors of the committee includes Walter Mason, Charles L. Gilliam Jr. and Claude Rogers Jr.

The purpose of the committee, Crosswhite said, will be threefold. He outlined its purposes as follows:

1. To promote and encourage the acquisition of a bridge at the mouth of Lake Rudee suitable to permit water and vehicular traffic.
 2. To continue efforts to develop the Lake Rudee area as a harbor for pleasure craft, sport fishing, trade and new industry.
 3. To obtain resolutions and petitions from various civic organizations and financial institutions to present to city, county and state authorities for action.
- At a meeting of the county board of supervisors Monday, a petition calling for the acquisition of the bridge was presented to the board asking that it be authorized to acquire the Lynnhaven Inlet draw span. As a result, the board adopted a resolution making the formal request to the State Highway Department. The Leeder Bridge on Lynnhaven will be dismantled to make way for a second, high-level bridge. The first, new high-level bridge is now under construction there. A second to be built on the site of the old Leeder Bridge will provide one-way traffic both north and south.
- Those interested in Lake Rudee hope that it will be developed as a sport and commercial fishing center. They also foresee industrial development in the area and the possibility of connections with other bodies of water in this area.

Cavaliers Get Revenge from Beach Eleven

Princess Anne's Cavaliers closed out a successful football season Friday night by completely outclassing the Virginia Beach Seahawks in a 59 to 0 rout of the Beach team.

The top-side victory gave the Cavaliers a 7-3 record for the season, the first under Coach Pete Sachon. It was also the Cavaliers' first win over the Seahawks in four meetings.

Before the contest, Sachon said he would settle for a one point victory, but the 4,500 homecoming fans who watched the contest in a light drizzle, knew he had no worries after the opening kickoff. The Cavaliers marched 64 yards, with fullback Ralph Gregory gaining 40 and scoring from the four. Gregory scored again in the third quarter on a 25-yard gallop.

Halfback Johnny Strickland scored twice too. He went over from the three in the second period and scored on a 50 yard punt return in the third quarter.

Virginia Beach never got into Princess Anne territory. The group II school had a minus 24 yards pushing average and picked up only three first downs.

With Princess Anne leading 40-0 going into the final quarter, Sachon sent his junior varsity team into the game. The future Cavaliers scored three times with Gary Boverl, Billy Scripture and Henry Gregory (starter Ralph Gregory's younger brother) going over the final stripe.

Coast Guard Seeking Pilots

The Coast Guard has sent out a call for recently released or soon to be released Navy and Marine Corps Reserve aviators wishing to go on immediate active duty.

Applicants must have graduated from Navy heavier-than-air flight training and be less than age 30 as of next June 30th, the closing date of this new Coast Guard program.

Those selected will be commissioned in the Coast Guard Reserve in the grade of ensign or lieutenant (junior grade) and will be offered two-year contracts after six months' satisfactory service. During this contract period, they may apply for integration in the regular service and a Coast Guard career.

Aviators having multi-engine experience, especially in seaplanes, are particularly desired, but those with single engine background, including jet and rotary wing aircraft, will also be considered. Men picked by the service will be given refresher or additional training if indicated.

Applications for and further information on the program may be obtained by writing or visiting the U. S. Coast Guard Reserve Director, Fifth Coast Guard District, U. S. Post Office and Courthouse, Room 337, Norfolk, Va.

Scholarship in Dress Design Offered Seniors

Opportunity to win a full tuition scholarship in dress design is offered to high school seniors throughout the country for the sixth consecutive year by Forest City Manufacturing Company, St. Louis.

The firm, one of the largest in the American fashion industry, sponsors its annual Forest City Fashion Scholarship as a practical way of encouraging more talented young people to study for careers in fashion design.

Invitations to participate in the competition are available through the offices of principals of accredited high schools in every state.

The national winner will receive a full tuition grant for two years' study at the Washington University School of Fine Arts, Department of Dress Design, St. Louis, Missouri.

Competing students will submit sketches of original designs in four fashion categories: Informal lounge wear, class dress, date dress, and formal evening dress. A letter of recommendation from the high school principal must accompany each entry. Both young men and women are eligible to compete.

All entries must be postmarked no later than March 1, 1958. Winner will be announced about May 1, 1958. Judges will include working designers as well as faculty members of the Department of Dress Design at Washington University.

Interested students may obtain information and competition requirements from high school principals. Entry blanks also are available at local retail stores featuring Forest City fashions. These include Carole King and Doris Dodson junior fashions, Martha Manning and Peg Palmer misses' and half-size dresses, and Shirley Lee sportswear and junior dresses.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

Give To Your Joy Fund

Have you given to the Virginia Beach Joy Fund yet?
Yes, we know. The organization to which you belong has donated from its ample funds. Or you dropped a dollar in the hat when it was passed at the last meeting. Or you made your donation to the Norfolk fund. Or you felt that your Community Chest contribution took care of such matters. Or you personally have made arrangements to give to a poor, poor family that Mrs. Jones knows all about.

But have you taken a dollar from your purse or pocket, knowing that it was the dollar you had planned for that extra movie, those extra desserts, that lovely pair of ear rings, and donated it to the Joy Fund instead, thus turning those nice, but unnecessary luxuries into food, clothing and toys for people who really need them?
That's the way to GIVE to the Joy Fund. That's the way to make yourself believe in the Biblical "It's better to give than to receive."

Christmas Sorrow

Each year highway accidents and deaths reach their peak at Christmas time. Ice, sleet and snow, early darkness, drinking, the holiday rush and festivity, and carelessness combine to make December the bugaboo month for traffic. In thousands of homes last Christmas, joy was shattered by the tragedy of a traffic accident.

But the National Safety Council, with the cooperation of 160 other national organizations, again is seeking to prevent such tragedies. And the Council reports that the outlook is bright for a safer, happier Christmas this year.

The traffic trend is encouraging. During the first nine months of the year, the death toll dropped 3 per cent from the same period for the previous year — a saving of 800 lives.

If this rate of improvement can be maintained the rest of the year, the Council said, more than 1,000 lives can be saved on the highway in 1957.

Instrumental in the improvement has been an intensive traffic safety campaign, "Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents," which was launched last December to encourage public officials to step up the attack on traffic accidents and to stimulate acceptance of personal responsibility for safety.

If citizens will continue to support the campaign during the coming weeks — not with money or time, but with just more care in driving and walking—all of us may have a really merry Christmas in 1957.

News for Veterans

Applications for schooling under the year-old War Orphans Education Program have passed the 10,000-mark. Veterans Administration announced.

The education program for sons and daughters of deceased war veterans became effective last October. All together, 150,000 young people will be eligible for War Orphans schooling, according to current estimates.

War Orphans students generally must be between 18 and 23 years of age. Also, they either must have completed or have been a pupil in a regular high school. They must receive up to 36 months of education, with VA paying an allowance of up to $110 a month for each month they are at school.

Before they start school, they will be given vocational counseling to help them select a goal and the proper course leading to the goal.

To be eligible, their veteran-parent must have died from a wartime-incurred disability.

Q. If I take a part-time course under the Korean GI Bill, will I be using up my entitlement on the same basis as if I were going to school full-time?

A. No. If you take part-time GI trainings, you will use up your entitlement only on a part-time basis.

Q. I am a young man of 22, eligible for War Orphans Schooling. Does my mother have to file an application in my behalf, or may I file one myself?

A. Since you are over 21, you may file your own application. For young people under 21, however, their living parent or guardian must file the application.

Q. Is War Orphans education limited to only one child in the family of a deceased war veteran? Or may all children receive the educational benefits?

A. All children in the family may receive the educational benefits, once they reach the eligible age for War Orphans schooling, which generally is 18.

Q. In connection with my disability compensation, I requested the added amount allowed for dependents, and VA asked me to submit evidence of the birth of my child. What kind of evidence would VA want?

A. VA would prefer a certified copy or abstract of the public record of birth, or a certified copy of the church record of baptism.

NEWS FOR VETERANS

More than 2,833,000 veterans holding GI life insurance policies are saving time and money by paying their premiums in advance, Veterans Administration announced.

The agency said they comprise nearly 90 per cent of the 4,837,000 GI policyholders who make direct remittance to VA for their insurance premiums.

Of those making advance payments, VA said, 1,203,000 pay annually, 649,000 pay semiannually, and 981,000 make quarterly remittances to VA.

Paying premiums in advance eliminates the chance of a veteran forgetting monthly premium payments, which might cause the policy to lapse. In addition to saving postage, the agency said, GI policyholders paying in advance get the benefit of a discount in the premium rate. Advance payments at a discount can be made for any period up to the full life of the policy if the veteran desires.

Information about advance payment of GI insurance premiums is available from the VA office servicing the policy, or from any VA local office.

Q. Are peacetime veterans entitled to compensation for service-connected disabilities? I know they are not entitled to pensions for non-service-connected disability.

A. Yes. Peacetime veterans may be entitled to compensation for service-connected disabilities. However, the rate of compensation for non-extra-hazardous service disabilities is 80 per cent of the rate paid to wartime veterans.

Q. I have been totally and permanently disabled for more than six months, and I've just applied for a waiver of premiums on my GI insurance policy. Will the waiver become effective retroactively, to the date I first became disabled?

A. No. The waiver is made effective from the premium due date following the date the six months of continuous total disability commenced.

Q. I've held a permanent GI insurance policy for several years, but about a year ago I let it lapse. Until I reinstate it, am I without any GI insurance protection whatsoever?

A. No. When a permanent policy lapses, VA extends your coverage automatically as term insurance. Premiums come out of the cash reserve you've built up. The term protection ends when it has used up all the reserve.

Avoid Holiday Hazards; Watch Out When You Shop

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

WISE CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS should complete their gift buying well in advance of the last-minute crush for several important reasons.

Not only will they have a much better selection of Christmas merchandise and avoid the crowds, but they'll also avoid many of the hazards which threaten pedestrians and motorists alike during the final Christmas shopping rush.

For during the days preceding the holidays, both pedestrians and drivers are apt to be so preoccupied with Christmas preparations and festivities that they let their guard down in traffic. And when you add to this the state of confusion brought about by the holiday spirit, crowded streets and the hazards of winter weather—at least, in the northern states—the stage is set for danger.

For those who must venture out at the last minute (and, despite all good intentions, there's always at least one forgotten gift), remember and observe these basic, common-sense pedestrian rules:

1. Cross the street only at corners, use pedestrian crosswalks, never dark into traffic from between parked cars, stay alert, and watch for cars from all directions. Remember, too, that snow or rainy weather and December's early darkness often make it difficult to see traffic and for cars to see you. So avoid carrying packages or umbrellas in such a manner that your vision is blocked or, particularly cautious at night, especially if streets are wet or slippery.

If you plan to complete your Christmas shopping by car, don't let the holiday spirit or your impatience with traffic cause you to forget your safe driving habits. Here are a few more rules to remember:

1. Never window shop while you drive. Park, get out on the right side of your car, and then look.
2. Be certain that you can see in the rear. Don't pile packages on the back seat so that the rear window is obstructed, or drive with snow and ice on the windshield.
3. Stay alert. Preoccupation with holiday plans weakens your defenses and diverts your safety control.
4. Reduce speed. This is your most important protection against holiday driving hazards.

Neville L. Adams Succumbs Here

NEVILLE LAMONT ADAMS

Neville Lamont Adams, 55 veteran of 40 years' association with the Ford Motor Co., died unexpectedly Saturday at 1:30 a.m. at his home, 518 24th St.

A native of Gretna, he was the son of Mrs. Frances Carter Adams and the late J. S. Adams. He was the husband of Mrs. Selma W. Adams.

For the past year he had lived in Virginia Beach and was associated with his son, Rhea W. Adams, in the operation of Emrhue Ford Motor Co. Before moving to the beach, he had resided in Portsmouth for 15 years.

Surviving, besides his wife, mother and son are another son, Dr. M. C. Adams of Boston, Mass.; one sister, Mrs. Quintus Hulse of Lynchburg, and four grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Maestas Funeral Home, Virginia Beach. Funeral services were conducted Monday at 11 a.m. at Calvary Episcopal Church by the Rev. Edmund Berkley, rector. Burial was in Rosewood Memorial Park, Princess Anne County.

Cavaliers

Quarterback Stan Fisher, playing his final game along with Gregory and 15 others, scored the Cavaliers' second touchdown and completed five of seven passes for 100 yards. His replacement, Junior Tony Ditto, scored from the two to round out Princess Anne's nine touchdown scores.

Final Polio Clinic at Chesapeake Beach

The final polio clinic in a series of three will be held at the Chesapeake Beach Community Center on Tuesday, December 3, from 7 to 9 p.m. Those who have received their first two shots are urged to attend as the third injection establishes immunity. However, anyone may receive the injection, which can serve as either a first or second shot, with series to be completed elsewhere.

Dr. G. O. Shipp will direct the clinic, with the assistance of Mrs. H. J. Barnes and Mrs. J. B. Glenn, registered nurses. The health department of the Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club is sponsor, in cooperation with the Bayside Junior Woman's Club, Bayside Jaycees and Bayside Lions Club. Mrs. R. F. Webber, health chairman of the Chesapeake Beach Club, is in overall charge.

The clinic is open to the public and a charge of $1 will be made.

Hampton-Sydney College in Virginia is in the top five per cent in the nation in the number of graduates, proportional to its enrollment, who are listed in American Men in Science, is first among Presbyterian U. S. Colleges and leads the private men's colleges in Virginia.

BAYSIDE NEWS

ST. PIUS X P-TA

St. Pius X P-TA held their regular meeting Wednesday night, November 20 at 8:00 p.m. at the school auditorium, located at Halprin Drive and Little Creek Road.

The P-TA held a cake sale which was highly successful earlier in the month. The proceeds were used to purchase three phonographs which are being used in the class rooms.

Mrs. Paul R. Martin, of Portsmouth, Deansy chairman of the National Council of Catholic Women was the speaker for the evening. She spoke on "Child and Family Welfare." She told the group that one of the projects of the N. C. C. W. is the collection of usable clothing for the Overseas Clothing Drive. The drive is being held this Thanksgiving week. Any usable clothing will be appreciated. Please leave it in boxes in back of the church. These clothes will be sorted and boxed and shipped overseas to the less fortunate.

BAYSIDE LIONS CLUB

The Bayside Lions Club met Wednesday night, November 20, at 7:30 p.m. at Shore Drive Inn.

R. L. Beale, Jr., president, presided at the regular meeting in January. Millard Bryant, welfare chairman, reported that more toys are needed by the Bayside Joy Fund, which is sponsored by the club.

He asked that each member help in collecting used toys for the Bayside Joy Fund in January.

Bates Reese announced that the third shot for Polio will be given at the Chesapeake Beach Community Center, on December 3rd from 7 to 9:00 p.m.

Jim Bender, Safety Committee chairman, reported that the First Aid Class which was recently completed was attended by sixteen with seven of these receiving certificates. The club is grateful for the cooperation of the Chesapeake Beach Volunteer Fire Department and especially of W. H. Gaylord who was the instructor.

Jimmy Jernigan reported progress on the sale of tickets for the club's annual Turkey Shoot which will be held December 7 and 8 at the W. H. Gaylord Club.

Bill Shadoe, guest chairman for the evening, presented Jim Coates the guest speaker. Mr. Coates, who is president of the Goates Society in Norfolk spoke to the club on a subject which has been a hobby of his for many years—"The American Indian."

He told the club of many of his discoveries which he has made while digging in the immediate area of Princess Anne County in which our members now reside. He said that most people have the tendency to consider all Indians as the same kind but that there were several different kinds of Indians. He described the Indians who lived in the Tidewater area as members of the Algonquin race. They were not a nomadic race but lived in permanent settlements in the Tidewater area. They were often forced to defend their villages against invaders from the North. As a result of this they were forced to lead very simple lives and were not able to cultivate the cultures which were found in the western parts of our country. Mr. Coates showed some relics which he found and also showed pictures of some of his finds which he has donated to various museums.

Those announced that the Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the Emrhue Motor Co. lot on Old Ocean Park Road, Wednesday, November 27 from 9:00 a.m. until 6:00 p.m.

DUPPLICATE BRIDGE WINNERS
The winners in the Duplicate Bridge Club which met Wednesday night, November 20, at the Chesapeake Beach Community Center were: First place—Mrs. Jack Hawkins and Mrs. H. L. Hubbs. Second place—Mrs. W. F. Paulson and Mrs. E. C. Torbett. Third place—Mrs. J. B. Glenn and Mrs. T. R. Clemen. Fourth place—Mrs. C. B. Ditto and Mrs. C. L. Geel.

The Duplicate Bridge Club meets each Wednesday night, at 7:30 p.m. and is sponsored by the Recreation Department of the Chesapeake Beach Club of Chesapeake Beach. Under the chairmanship of Mrs. R. F. Webber.

Those from the Bayside area who were playing in the Norfolk Bridge Club championship tournament at the Monticello Hotel, Saturday and Sunday, were Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Webber and Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Kervin.

1958 CADILLAC MAKES DEBUT

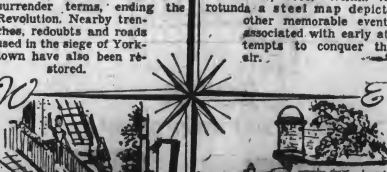

The long, low design of the 1958 Cadillac is easily apparent in this Sedan de Ville. High-lighting this styling are the dramatic tail fins which give a feeling of grace and motion to the car's appearance. Another new feature for the 1958 Cadillac is the rear ventipane (ICV) windows. These ventipanes improve rear passenger visibility and add length to the car's appearance. The "long, broad shouldered" look is apparent on all 1958 Cadillac models now making their debut throughout the country.

Great Moments in Motoring

Yorktown, Va.
The simple family parlor of this trim frame house was the setting, 176 years ago, of a momentous event in America's War for Independence. Here, near the battle lines, officers from both sides met on October 16, 1781, to draft Cornwallis' surrender terms, ending the Revolution. Nearby trenches, redoubts and roads used in the siege of Yorktown have also been restored.

Pirate's Alley
New Orleans, La.
In the midst of Louisiana's industrial progress, an old-world flavor lingers in many of New Orleans' storied streets. Famed as any is Pirate's Alley, with exquisite galleries of iron lace, colorful shuttered windows and shadowy patios. Here, artists often find inspiration. But the pirate legend is legend only. The narrow street was not cut through till 1891, long after piracy had waned.

Castillo De San Marcos
St. Augustine, Fla.
A series of history surrounds this ancient Spanish castle on Florida's Atlantic coast, recalling the distant times when New World conquistadors anchored their galleons in Matanzas Bay. Dungeon, drawbridge, galleries and parapets are fascinating to explore. And just beyond the castle's massive walls lies our nation's oldest city, whose twisting streets and flower-decked balconies attract thousands of visitors weekly.

Liability Insurance Rates May Increase Next Year

New York—"Motorists in most states face higher charges for automobile liability insurance in 1958."

This view of the outlook for automobile insurance rates was given to the public today by William Leslie, general manager of the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters, a rating organization with a membership of 122 stock companies writing casualty insurance.

"The outlook is based not on opinion but on stern economic facts," Mr. Leslie stated. "Reluctant as the insurance carriers are to seek higher rates, there is no alternative. As inflationary pressures continue to push up the costs of settling accident claims incurred by insured motorists, rate revisions during 1958 will undoubtedly involve increases. In many states rate increases have already been approved by supervisory authorities that will affect a large part of the volume of business written in 1958."

Underwriters Lose Severe
"During 1956 member companies of the Bureau suffered a countrywide underwriting loss of 7.9 per cent on automobile liability insurance. This means that automobile liability claim costs and expenses amounted to $107.90 for every $100 of premiums earned, or an aggregate underwriting loss of more than $64,000,000. Their automobile physical damage insurance business—collision, comprehensive, fire, theft, etc.—was also unprofitable. Other stock companies and mutual companies also sustained serious underwriting losses during 1956."

"Reports for the first six months of this year indicate the prospect of an even worse underwriting loss situation for the year 1957. The underwriting loss, for example, for all lines for one company jumped from $528,000 in the first half of 1956 to $6,635,000 in the comparable period of 1957; for another from $2,839,000 to $11,800,000; for another from $154,000 to $5,379,000; and for still another from $3,500,000 to $6,881,000."

"Inflation has forced up average claim costs for both bodily injury and property damage liability. In addition, the adverse effect of inflation on property damage claims has been aggravated by continually climbing repair costs resulting from car design, the new wraparound windshields, for example."

"During the postwar period from 1946 through 1956, claim costs for both bodily injury and property damage increased on the average more than 6 per cent a year, with the result that bodily injury claims settled in 1956 on a countrywide basis were 82 per cent higher. And there is no evidence of any apparent leveling off of costs in the foreseeable future."

"In addition to the upward trend in average claim costs the companies have been confronted since the latter part of 1955 with the adverse effect of increasing claim frequency, that is, the number of claims per 100 insured cars."

"The rise in automobile insurance rates will not be halted until the present trend of average claim costs and claim frequency is reversed. Motorists cannot exercise any control over the inflationary forces that have gripped our economy. But motorists collectively have it within their power to control the number of severity of automobile accidents; unfortunately it is a power that has largely gone unused."

"We have had a inflationary economy ever since the beginning of World War II. First it was a creeping inflation. Then after the Korean outbreak it became a galloping inflation. More recently its pace changed; again it is the creeping type."

Contrary to general belief, automobile liability insurance has been underwritten at a loss by member companies of the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters in the aggregate since the end of World War II, the Bureau executive said.

"During the postwar period of 11 years from 1946 to 1956, inclusive, the Bureau companies suffered an aggregate underwriting loss of 3.9 per cent on automobile liability combined," Mr. Leslie stated. "This means that automobile liability claim costs and expenses amounted to $103.90 for every $100 of premiums earned, or an aggregate underwriting loss of almost $250,000,000 over the 11-year period."

Losses Outweigh Gains
"Because automobile liability represents a large part of the casualty insurance premium volume, the aggregate underwriting loss for that line of insurance outweighed over the 11-year postwar period the aggregate underwriting gains from the four other major Bureau lines—general liability, burglary, glass, and boiler and machinery insurance. As a result there was an average underwriting loss of 2.1 per cent or $2.10 for every $100 of premiums earned for all five Bureau lines combined."

"While moderate underwriting profits were realized on automobile liability insurance for three of the postwar years there were eight years of underwriting losses, the worst of which was the year 1956 when the aggregate loss was 26.0 per cent or 26.20 for every $100 of premiums earned."

No Need of New Taxes, Higher Rates, Report Shows

Virginia's economy can so grow through 1962 there will be no need of new taxes, higher tax rates, or borrowing by the state, a fiscal study committee reported today.

But the report warned there must be strenuous efforts to attract new high-wage industries to Virginia to offset a possible leveling in some phases of prosperity and increasing costs of state government.

Without the prop of new industries, conditions could develop which would scramble a rosy picture of state surpluses and might even leave the state with a deficit of $13,000,000 in 1960-62, according to the report.

Dr. George M. Modlin, University of Richmond president, headed a committee of 50 leaders in Virginia's economic life during the two-year study of the state's fiscal system and the impact of its taxes on industrial development.

The committee worked as a task force from the Advisory Council on Virginia's Economy on which Walter I. Doherty recently succeeded Chesterfield's State Sen. Lloyd C. Bird as chairman.

The 47 page study finds that if personal income increases at 4 per cent annually, as it did from 1951-56, then the general fund revenues, which run state government, will exceed expenditures and will yield a surplus of:

1. $36 million in the current 1956-58 biennium.
2. $17 million in the 1958-1960

biennium.

3. 18 in the 1960-62 biennium. Taken with a $22 million balance on hand at the beginning of the 1956-58 biennium, the surpluses through 1962 would total $93 million, adequate to cover state expenses without a tax increase.

But for every soothing statistic, the report takes a needle-like jab at complacency.

It notes that federal activity in Virginia, which has been accounting for 23 per cent of Virginia's income payments compared with only 6 per cent for the nation, is expected to "stabilize or increase moderately."

Meanwhile, the rate of growth in the servicing type industries (wholesale and retail trade, service, and finance) will slacken as it "catches up with the rest of the country."

"Thus, says the report, 'more of the weight of the development will fall on other sectors of the Virginia economy', and again the report urges 'accelerated growth in manufacturing industries.'"

It warns that if Virginia's personal income grows at the lower rate of 2.5 per cent, instead of 4 per cent, the picture would change as follows:

1. The surplus would be $33 million in the current biennium.
2. Expenditures and revenues would balance in the 1958-60 biennium.
3. A $13 million deficit would develop in the 1960-62 biennium.

"This prospect must be considered," says the report.

A downturn in the nation's economic activity will produce a similar downturn in Virginia's all the more because Virginia's revenue structure "would be considerably more vulnerable than that of some states."

The state's tax structure is vulnerable because corporate and individual income taxes account for more than half Virginia's general fund revenues.

In prosperous times not only do people and firms pay increased taxes on more income, but many of them move into higher tax brackets. The state's take soars.

But when the business barometer falls, then the state's revenues dip alarmingly along with the income of its citizens.

"Only five states are more dependent on this fluctuating source which is already heavily pre-empted by the federal government," the report observes.

With the chance of decreasing revenues, the report mentions factors that could swell the state's expenses:

1. New aid programs may become necessary for localities or capital outlays may be larger than the present state building program of $10 million per year for 1956-62.
2. To meet competition for personnel from private industry, the state government may have to raise its expenditures per unit handled by more than the 3 per cent annual increase forecast by the fiscal study.

3. Finally, says the report, price inflation of the past 18 months has already affected certain revenue and expenditure projections.

"Where can additional funds come from? If needed," asks the report, it poses two alternatives.

One is a sales tax. "An estimated $60 million could be obtained by the State in the tax year 1959 alone from a 2-cent sales tax on each one dollar of estimated sales," says the report.

The other is state borrowing. Looked at in one way, the state's debt of $6 million is incredibly small: $1.50 when put on a per capita basis, compared with $30 for the 48 states and $1,060 in federal debt.

But that does not include $170 million for highway toll facilities and some buildings at colleges being paid out of student fees.

Finally, since 1936, Virginia's cities and counties have been increasing their indebtedness at substantially above the national rate for all localities, says the report.

Virginia's 10 largest cities a $300 debt per capita, 50 per cent higher than the average for all cities in the nation.

"Debt has been rising rapidly, too, for six of the more urban counties that now account for almost two-thirds of Virginia's county debt," the report notes.

The report finds it encouraging that during the past two years, even without any expansion of federal activities, Virginia's rate of increase in non-agricultural employment has exceeded that for the nation by a wide margin.

But discouraging is the fact that in manufacturing Virginia's average annual earnings per worker have remained approximately 22 per cent below the national average, even though Virginia actually increased its employment in high-wage manufacturing categories and gained only slightly or actually suffered losses in employment in low-wage industries.

"The reason that the gap was not closed is that similar trends took place in the nation."

"To achieve the best kind of economic growth — Virginians should increase their efforts to attract the high-wage industries."

To accomplish this, the report lists three giant steps for the state:

1. It should not increase any element in the basic tax burden on industry in Virginia.
2. Step should be taken immediately to adjust the method of allocating corporate income, for tax purposes, to one more comparable to that used by other states.
3. Increased emphasis should be given to industrial development not only by the State itself in its own departments but other agencies, private and public, throughout the Commonwealth.

The alternative, if this program is not accomplished, "is a certain loss of many of our best men and women, who will be forced to seek jobs outside the State, and almost equally certain need to look for additional revenue from new taxes, or to borrow to meet expanding governmental needs."

"The Committee reaffirms its belief that the 4 per cent rate of economic growth can be attained and will be attained if, and only if, the talent and vision available to us are directed toward this end. The reward, in terms of economic benefits to every citizen of Virginia, present and future, will be substantial."

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and foibles... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

"Over the river and through the woods to Grandma's house we go, the horse knows the way to carry the sleigh, for the white and drifting snow". How many times have you heard or repeated these words? I can't tell you how many times I have said them, much less heard them. But these days - its often the other way 'round, we grandmas, go visiting and spend Thanksgiving with the children and grandchildren. That's what we're doing this year and it's so much fun. What ever you're doing, where ever you are, I do hope you're having a wonderful Thanksgiving Day.

The after Thanksgiving day meals must be planned - and surely you'll enjoy left over turkey in one or two of the tempting recipes that I'm going to share with you today.

Turkey in Casserole

1 6-oz. pkz noodles
1 chopped green pepper
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
dash pepper
1 1/2 cups milk
2 cups diced Turkey
1/2 lb. cheese - cut in small pieces
1 small can mushrooms (sliced)
4 hard-cooked eggs
Cook noodles in boiling salted water until tender - Drain. Sauté green pepper in fat until tender but not brown. Blend in flour and seasonings - add milk (part turkey stock maybe used) and cook until thickened - stirring constantly. Arrange noodles, sauce and remaining ingredients in alternate layers in greased casserole and bake in moderate oven at 350°F about 25 min. It will serve 4.
If you'd like to, omit eggs and cheese add - 3/4 cup chopped pimientos in there place.

Turkey a la King

1 small can sliced mushrooms
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 1/2 tablespoons flour

1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash Worcestershire sauce
1 cup milk
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 cup stuffed olives
1/2 cup chopped celery
2 cups diced turkey
3 slices crisp toast
Sauté mushrooms in fat - add celery and green peppers - cook very little, add flour - blend in, then add milk and seasonings. Stir constantly until it thickens. Now add turkey - serve hot on crisp toast. Serves 3.

Now for a few other suggestions that I hope will help you in your Menu Planning.

It's easy to fall into the habit of preparing vegetables in a few standard ways. Though, they taste good, they're apt to become monotonous if repeated too frequently. If your vegetables seem to need a lift, now is the time to analyze the situation. First, make a complete check of the various types that are available. You'll probably find there are several you haven't included in your shopping list. Add these to your shopping list. More variety will add interest. Next - check all the possible ways of serving. Here are two suggestions combining vegetables with golden pineapple.

Sweet Potato Puffs

5 medium sweet potatoes
3/4 cup orange juice
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 tablespoon butter
1/2 teaspoon salt
6 slices pineapple - well drained

Farmers' Tax Guide Available During December

Representative Edward J. Roberson, Jr. advises that the 1957 edition of the "Farmers' Tax Guide" (Publication No. 225 of the Internal Revenue Service) will be available to the public during the month of December.

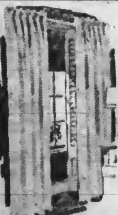

The Guide, written especially for farmers, explains in plain, nontechnical language most of the income tax rules which concern them. The many examples used show how the rules apply in actual situations. Sample records and filled-in tax return forms are included in the booklet.
This free publication may be obtained from local Internal Revenue offices and from County Agents.

FORT STORY TELLINGS -

TERMINAL SERVICE COMPANY RETURNS FROM ARCTIC

Fort Story's 870th Transportation Service Company returned to this Cape Henry post Monday from a 4 1/2 month joint Army-Navy re-supply mission to the USAF DEW-line outposts of the Arctic. The company was aboard the USNS "Lindenwald," Military Sea Transport Service, which docked at the Hampton Roads Army Terminal.

The 200 officers and men of the 870th were greeted at the pier by Rear Adm. Roy Gano, the Deputy Commander of the Military Sea Transport Service, Lt. Col. C. E. A. Morgan, USA, acting Commanding Officer of Fort Story, and other Fort Story and Army Terminal officials. The 384th Army Band of Fort Eustis was on hand to welcome the men with appropriate music.

The company, commanded by Maj. William Widling, Jr., embarked on "Operation Gap-Pine" from Hampton Roads on the 12th of July. A similar re-supply mission, "Operation 572 East" involving Fort Story's 155th and 565th Transportation Terminal Service Companies returned from the far north in October.

"Operation Gap-Pine" was under the overall command of Lt. Col. G. L. Ford, the sub-terminal commander. Colonel Ford returned aboard the "Lindenwald" with the 870th. A small contingent of one officer and several enlisted men returned later aboard the "Hermite" from Goose Bay, Labrador with a portion of the company's organic equipment.

The operation did not end at Hampton Roads Terminal for three officers and 15 men of the company. Under the command of Capt. George E. Craft, this group remained aboard the "Lindenwald" and proceeded to Charleston, S.C., to off-load the Army Landing Craft (LCM-8's) there. Assisting Captain Craft in supervising this part of the mission were 2nd Lt. James T. Carlisle and CWO James W. James.

The Transportation Corps men aboard the "Lindenwald" acted as stevedores for the cargo aboard the seven other ships on the mission... the "President Arthur," "Kingsport Victory," "Norwalk Victory," "East Point Victory," USNS "Sagitta," USNS "Craig," and the USNS "Bondia." The unit ranged from northern Newfoundland to the wastes of Baffin Island, unloading 26,116 tons of the needed equipment.

Of the 13 points hit by the men of the 870th, Fort Story, Bay, Island, probably stands out more than any other; for the sake of repetition if not pleasant surroundings. The "Lindenwald" made three stops at the ice-bound inlet, off-loading 7,444 tons of needed supplies and equipment. One incident stands out in the minds of some of the men. A complete pre-fabricated house was unloaded at Hopedale, Labrador, and taken some 25 miles on inland waters in LCM-8's, the unit's organic landing craft, for assembly.

Of the total of 126 days on the mission, 39 were spent in transit, 86 in cargo activity, 7 were lost because of heavy weather, 4 in towing and fueling, and 8 in handling organic equipment. Approximately 50 per cent of the cargo handled were POL products, and the other half general cargo.

The men were welcomed back to Fort Story Thursday by Col. James C. Conine, Fort Story Deputy Commander who has recently returned from an eight-week course at the University of Pittsburgh. Introduced by Lt. Col. E. A. P. McCarthy, Jr., Colonel Conine praised the unit for their success, and asked them to continue their fine work at Fort Story.

Other officers returning with Major Widling to Fort Story were Chaplain (First Lieutenant) James A. Stanford, Lt. John J. Vargo, Lt. Edward J. McKenna, and Lt. Robert R. Jones.

FAMILY DAY

The first semi-annual Transportation Corps "Family Day" was held by Fort Story's two Transportation Battalions and Headquarters Company Tuesday and Wednesday.

The day, set aside for the enlisted men of the 5th Transportation Terminal Command, "B" to bring their wives and families to post, began with greetings by the commanding officers at the post theater, then the re-enlistment section of the Transportation Training Command at Fort Eustis gave a re-enlistment presentation, and ran the film "A Look Ahead." The purpose of the day was to give the wives and families a chance to see where the soldier husband and father worked, what he did, and the facilities of the post where he serves.

The families of the men of the 10th Transportation Battalion were welcomed Tuesday by Maj. Willis A. Canon, Commanding Officer. Major Canon told of the mission of the battalion, and outlined the points of interest that would be viewed by the families during the day. On Wednesday, Lt. Col. James C. Alford, Commanding Officer of the 14th Transportation Battalion, and Maj. Milton L. Legault, Commanding Officer of Headquarters Company gave a brief welcome, and explained their organizations.

After the presentation the families ate in the company dining halls. They were given a demonstration of the BARC amphibious vehicle, the Landing Craft Retriever, and the DUKW amphibious truck.

Officials termed the "TC Family Day" a success. Nearly 200 dependents attended the event on the two days.

STORY PERSONNEL ATTEND FINANCE SCHOOL

Lt. Howard P. Keefe, Fort Story's Statistical Officer in the office of the Post Comptroller left last week for Ft. Benjamin Harrison in Indianapolis, Ind., to attend a six week course in budgeting. Lieutenant Keefe has been stationed at Fort Story since completing the Transportation Officers Basic Course at Fort Eustis in December of 1956.

Attending a three week Financial Inventory Accounting course at the Indianapolis Army Post are Mrs. June B. Dorson, also of Fort Story's Comptroller Office, and Mr. Julius Carlo of the Post Ordinance Office.

NEW COMPANY ARRIVES AT FORT STORY

A skeleton force of the 417th Transportation Company (Terminal Service) arrived at Fort Story recently and are currently in the process of off-loading some of their organic equipment from vessels on the Cape Henry beach. The 417th has been permanently transferred from Fort Eustis, Va., to Fort Story.

Under the command of 1st Lt. Smith E. Lafayette, the 40 men will prepare to organize the company and bring it up to full operating strength. Until the 417th is brought up to strength they will receive rations and supplies and be supported by the 604th Transportation Company under the command of Lt. Karl Tomaka.

STORY OFFICER COMPLETES MANAGEMENT COURSE

Fort Story's Deputy Commanding Officer, Col. James E. Conine, returned Wednesday, Nov. 20, from the University of Pittsburgh where he has completed an eight week course in "Management Problems for Executives."

The Fort Story officer was one of 79 professional and military students in the class, 12 of which represented foreign states. Six of the class members were Army, Navy and Air Force officers.

The course, taught by professional industrial consultants, includes studies in business policy, general and cost accounting, industrial management, administrative practices, labor relations, marketing, finance, and business and government. It is conducted under the direction of the University of Pittsburgh Graduate School. Business executives rate it as one of the top courses in advanced management in the country. Nineteen such courses have now been held by the university.

Mrs. Conine joined her husband at Pittsburgh for the final exercises of the course along with approximately 50 others. One of the student's wives flew from Jakarta, Indonesia, and another from Belgium to attend the ceremony.

Colonel Conine reported to Fort Story in July. He was formerly Chief of the Transportation Branch of Headquarters, Allied Forces Southern Europe. He has attended the University of Oklahoma, and graduated from Knox College in Illinois. His parents are living in Manitowoc, Wis.

NDTA CONVENTION

Fort Story Commanding Officer, Col. George E. Woods, Jr., left Sunday, November 17th, for Washington, D. C., where he is representing the Norfolk Chapter of the National Defense Transportation Association in its week-long annual national convention.

Colonel Woods was elected president of the NDTA's Norfolk Chapter in July at the organization's annual election. He is a veteran of over 15 years active Army service, and was a Reserve Officer for 13 years before going on active duty in 1942. He is the Commanding Officer of the 5th Transportation Terminal Command "B" in addition to Fort Story.

OPERATION

Fort Story's Amphibious Truck Company, 14th Transportation Battalion, sent five DUKW's (amphibious trucks) to support the Navy in an LST (Landing Ship Tank) training operation at Little Creek Wednesday, November 20.

In charge of the DUKW's for the day's operation was 2nd Lt. John L. Knowland.

The 461st Transportation Company, commanded by Capt. John Thomas, is responsible for training DUKW drivers for the entire Army as well as supporting various training operations.

THE BEAUTIFUL WAY TO BE THRIFTY... '58 CHEVROLET!

The Delray 2-Door Sedan—bold beauty and Body by Fisher in Chevy's lowest priced Series!

FORWARD FROM FIVE

Look at the bold new styling and brilliant new ideas about driving pleasure Chevrolet offers even in its lowest priced Delray Series!

Look what the beautiful new Delray models do for your dollars! They're the lowest priced of all the low-priced Chevrolets. But they're long, low and loaded just the same. A full nine inches longer, dramatically lower, and loaded with new things that make driving happier and riding smoother.

Just try one! Power ranges from the budget-minded 145-h.p. Blue-Flame 6 to Chevy's radical 280-h.p. Super Turbo-Thrust V8.* Delrays, like other models, have a new Full Coil suspension—a softer, road-leveling ride. You can have a real air ride* to make the going even smoother—and Overdrive* to make it even thrifter. See all that's new at your Chevrolet dealer's.

*Optional at extra cost.

Only franchised Chevrolet dealers display this famous trademark CHEVROLET See Your Local Authorized Chevrolet Dealer that you shop

VIRGINIA BEACH STORES

for Christmas Gifts

This year, with FIVE SHOPPING DAYS LESS between Thanksgiving and Christmas (the traditional gift shopping period) there just won't be enough time to go far and wide in quest of gifts. It's practically a "must" to concentrate your shopping where you can accomplish the MOST in the LEAST time... That's right here at home!

It always did make sense to Christmas-shop at home. You never could find better selections or values elsewhere. But this year MORE THAN EVER (with time so short) it will pay you to do all your Christmas shopping in your Virginia Beach stores... ready NOW with a sparkling array of gifts for everybody.

THE FIRST THANKSGIVING

Do you think this turkey will please the Pilgrim Fathers?

Those cranberries have been strung with careful fingers, the bird itself has been roasted to just the proper degree of succulent brownness, and that bit of wheat, lying on the table, symbolizes the rich bounty of this year's harvest.

If our Puritan maid, Priscilla, looks a bit skeptical, it is only because she is wondering if tom turkey will be big enough to satisfy all the hungry guests.

They will be coming with vigorous appetites, whetted by the walk through snow covered fields from Church, where they have given thanks for their good fortune.

And on all Thanksgivings since that first one, thankful people have knelt in prayer. Thanksgiving is our own American holiday, unlike any other. It is deeply religious in nature. We can only observe it if, like the Pilgrims, we go to church to give our thanks. And never have a people had cause to be so thankful for so much.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

This is a House ...

This is half a House

Half a loaf may be better than none... but when it comes to your home, half a house is not much use to you and your family.

If you have only half the insurance you need, and your home were destroyed by fire, windstorm, or other peril... you could rebuild only half a house.

We are qualified to help you determine just what insurance, and how much, you need on your home and furnishings. Phone us right now—we'll be glad to discuss your insurance problems with you.

And remember, if you're not fully insured—it's not enough!

FARM-CITY WEEK
NOVEMBER 22-28

This has been Farm-City Week. Virginia and Virginians have been participating in this week, and I would like to tell you why we in agriculture feel that it is important to call attention to this observance.

Farm people and city people need to know and understand each other better. No economic group of our economy can exist by and for itself alone. The farmer is interested in selling what he produces at a fair price, and the consumer wants to buy high-quality foods and goods at reasonable prices. It is to the benefit of both, therefore, that they know what goes on in the marketing process and that they do whatever they can to maintain quality and increase efficiency.

Agriculture is a 12 billion dollar customer of labor and industry each year, not to mention the billions farm people spend for consumer goods. Ten million people work full time in marketing farm products. Six million more work in plants producing materials and supplies for farmers. America has only slightly over nine million farmers.

The facts simply show the interdependence of city and farm people, greater today than at any time in our history.

When one considers that rural America faces less and less control over its total destiny, including such things as its water policies, conservation policies, how the products of the land and barnyards shall be graded, packed and sold, and whether or not farm children will be brought under certain labor laws, then it is apparent to all of us that the American farmer has an enormous stake in a high degree of urban understanding of his business, his way of life, and his place in a great democracy.

What lies behind Farm-City Week observance?

Different reasons are given by various supporters of the program; but all agree on certain basic facts. For instance, President Eisenhower said in his proclamation: "... it is desirable that those who work on farms and those who work in the cities develop greater understanding of their mutual problems ..."

Secretary of Agriculture Benson says: "... no economic group can exist by and for itself alone. Farmers need city people and city people need farmers. That is the way to serve our nation."

National Farm-City Week is sponsored by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the coordinating agency, Kiwanis International. A Virginia state committee is headed by Howard Gordon, assistant general manager, Southern States Cooperative, Richmond. The observance was designated because of the conviction, he said, that producers and consumers of farm products need to be better acquainted with individual as well as common problems. The week has been used to carry out programs, such as tours of rural areas and industries, of meetings, and other activities. And, as sponsors say, "rural and urban people need to be partners in progress." Incidentally, "partners in progress" is the theme of the observance.

WHAT THE FARMERS DO FOR THE CONSUMER

In 1830 the average farm worker produced enough for himself and three others. A century later, he produced enough for himself and nine others. Today, one farm worker produces enough food and fiber for himself and 20 others.

Research, education, conservation, and electrification are some of the means by which farmers have increased their efficiency in production and marketing. About 70 per cent of all crop acreage in 1954 was planted to varieties not even in existence on a commercial scale 20 years earlier. Production of U.S. farm products in 1956 was about 50 per cent above that of 25 years earlier. Per acre production of crops and production per animal unit of breeding stock were more than a third above the 1930-32 period.

How does the consumer benefit from greater production? He is able to eat more and better foods. In 1956, for instance, the average consumer ate about 85 pounds of beef—highest in the century—compared to 56 pounds in 1951.

In 1952 the average person ate 20 pounds of oranges, 14 pounds of chicken, 32 pounds of tomatoes, 10 pounds of ice cream, and 324 eggs per year. In 1956, the average person ate 61 pounds of oranges, 24 pounds of chicken, 52 pounds of tomatoes, 18 pounds of ice cream, and 369 eggs.

The increases have not been in quantity alone. Thirty years ago the variety of food products was largely governed by the season. Today, faster transportation and more efficient refrigeration make it possible for perishables to be moved quickly and with little chance of spoilage. Many more foods are now canned, frozen, ready-mixed, precooked, and packaged in modern containers. These advances mean today's family is eating a greater variety of more nutritious food. The high quality results from better inspection, grading, sanitary control in production, processing, and marketing—all service desired by consumers.

The present superior diet takes no larger share of the consumer's earnings (25 per cent) than the less varied diet of 30 years ago. If today's consumer ate the same kinds and quantities of food that were eaten a generation ago, less than 20 per cent of his disposable income (income per person after taxes) would be spent for food.

In 1925, an hour's "take home" pay, on the average, would pay 5 1/2 loaves of bread, or 1 1/2 pounds of steak, or 1 1/2 pounds of chicken, or 3 1/2 quarts of milk, or 1 dozen oranges, or 3 1/2 cans of tomatoes. In 1956, an hour's "take home" pay, on the average, bought 11 loaves of bread, or 2 pounds of steak, or 4 pounds of chicken, or 8 quarts of milk, or 3 1/2 dozen oranges, or 13 cans of tomatoes.

INCOME TAX CONFERENCES SET IN DECEMBER

Two special income tax conferences will be held in Virginia in December.

One will be held in Roanoke December 2-4, the other in Richmond December 9-11. Questions which farmers and operators of small business concerns need to have answered about income and self-employment social security tax will be discussed at the sessions. Procedure for filing returns will be demonstrated.

The conferences are being held especially for tax consultants, accountants, attorneys, bankers, and others who help farmers and operators of small businesses in preparing tax returns.

The conferences are sponsored by the agricultural economics department at VPI, co-sponsor in Roanoke is the First National Exchange Bank, in Richmond the co-sponsor is the First and Merchants National Bank.
